Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—The Washington scene shifts once again today as President Roosevelt emerges from the welter of laws adopted by the 73d congress—laws which have gone farther toward giving him rule over the lives and pursuits of the people than any other American President.

The President was happy and smiling when he greeted newspaper men at a conference today, and well he might be, for a subservient congress has given him practically all he had asked to advance the New Deal.

Several hundred bills, ground out in wildest haste by the retreating congress in its last days, remain for the President's signature, but he will take his time about signing them. There is no hurry, for he has ten days from yesterday, the adjournment date, to approve or reject any bills.

Send Some to Yacht.

Some of the measures, with recommendations of departmental officials, will be laid before the President on Thursday at his desk in the floating White House, the yacht Sequoia, while it is moored near New London, Conn., awaiting the Harvard-Yale crew race, in which the President's son and namesake will participate.

Other bills will be sent to Hyde Park, N. Y., to the Hudson valley summer home of the President's mother, and he will study them while he rests over the next week-end.

The remaining bits of legislation will be disposed of by the President upon his return to the White House next Monday. He was to leave at midnight tonight for his brief holiday, which is a bit of a curtain raiser to his six weeks' vacation at sea this summer.

Before leaving today the President signed the labor disputes bill, under which he is possessed of immediate machinery for settling the threatened steel strike and other labor quarrels.

Mr. Roosevelt also signed the federal procedure bill, by which the United States Supreme court is authorized to prescribe uniform rules for all federal courts, a measure which the President declared "represents one of the most important steps ever taken in the improvement of our judicial system."

Congress Scatters to Homes.

The members of the congress which had given Mr. Roosevelt powers which many kings never enjoyed scattered to their homes, for the most part. Some of them will be sorely tried in their efforts to defend themselves before their constituents and to gain reelection in the November contests. A few congressmen who own homes in Washington, and rarely go to their home districts except to make a few campaign speeches and to vote for themselves, donned their golfing togs and hied to the heather.

The adjournment of congress did not have the beneficial effect on the stock market which had been anticipated by the leaders who were blaming the continuing slump in many lines on the threats of additional radical legislation. Stocks slumped today. Investors reasoned that congress couldn't have done much worse.

In the first session of the congress just ending the President was given autocratic power over industry [the NRA]; over agriculture [the AAA]; over banking and over human needs [the FERA].

Some of His New Powers.

In the session just ended the New Dealers obtained greatly augmented grants of executive authority in a large number of laws, including the following major ones:

The communications act, giving the President and a communications commission to be appointed by him authority to regulate radio, telegraph, and telephone companies. It has been charged

TEN YEAR TERM IN PRISON FOR BABY KIDNAPER

Youth Smiles; Says: 'I Expected It.'

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

George Rogalski, 14 years old, one of the youngest defendants ever tried in the Criminal court, was convicted by a jury last evening before Judge Francis B. Allegretti of kidnaping Dorette Zietlow, 2 years old, who was found dying on April 10 in an abandoned icehouse at 1780 Milwaukee avenue. The jury fixed his punishment at 10 years' imprisonment in Joliet penitentiary.

Young Rogalski, a small boy in knickers, took the verdict smiling. He had expected, he said, to be convicted and punished for his acts which caused the death of the baby whom on April 8 he lured away from an alley near her grandmother's home at 1942 North Central Park avenue.

The verdict seemed to satisfy everyone. Dorette's grandmother, Mrs. Dora Witte, who reared Dorette from infancy because the child's mother is in an institution, thanked Assistant State's Attorney Richard Regan, prosecutor in the case with Assistant State's Attorney Alexander Napoli.

Verdict Reached in an Hour.

The jurors deliberated only an hour before reaching their verdict. The guilt of the defendant was agreed on almost as soon as the jury entered its room. The question then was the punishment.

Under the law the jurors had it in their discretion to fix any penalty from one year to life imprisonment. After some discussion it was agreed that the boy should be kept incarcerated at least until he reaches his 21st birthday. The 10 year penalty was then agreed on as a compromise, some of the jurors having argued for a longer term.

Young Rogalski seemed not the least bit anxious as he waited while court officials were rounded up so the verdict could be read. He smiled and chatted with his attorney, Thaddeus C. Toudor. After the reading of the verdict the youth tried to address Judge Allegretti. He was quieted for the time being while the judge overruled motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment and pronounced sentence.

Youth Thanks Everybody.

Then Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach, who assisted in the defense, informed Judge Allegretti that Rogalski desired to speak.

"I appreciate the kindness shown me and I want to thank everybody," said the youth.

"That is very nice of you, son," the judge replied, then went on:

"Now, son, your own conduct will have a great deal to do with the time when you get out of prison. You will get some time off for good behavior if you are obedient and good. This verdict will do more for you than you yourself think now."

The judge said he would follow the case and see that arrangements were made so that Rogalski would not be thrown with hardened criminals at the penitentiary.

Trip to Prison Delayed.

A stay of mittimus was allowed until June 29. This delay in sending Rogalski to Joliet is to permit Attorneys Toudor and Bachrach to confer with prison officials on details of the youth's service in the penitentiary.

"I expected to get punished," said Rogalski as he was led from the courtroom. "I only hope I can take my school books with me to Joliet."

Prosecutor Regan announced that the state would dismiss the murder indictment which is pending against Rogalski. Mrs. Witte declared she had no desire to press further prosecution.

"This will not bring back my baby, but I am satisfied with the jury's verdict," she said. Her statement was echoed by Dorette's father, George Zietlow.

Attorney Toudor said he would not take an appeal unless asked to do so by Rogalski's parents, John and Sophie Rogalski of 2928 North Richmond street. They indicated last night that they were satisfied with the verdict.

Trial Closes With Speed.

The trial came to an unexpected end late yesterday afternoon when the Rogalski attorneys chose to stand on a technical defense and called no witnesses. They argued that the state had failed to comply with the law in proving all the elements of the kidnaping. They charged that the state failed to show that young Rogalski intended to "conceal or imprison" Dorette when he enticed her to the ice house and stripped off her clothing.

The prosecution had attempted to

ARREST PEEVES MAN WHO LOOKS LIKE DILLINGER

Things are coming to a pretty pass, in the opinion of Frederick A. Weber, when a man can't even attend a moving picture show without being arrested by half the police in Chicago.

Mr. Weber, who is 37 years old and lives at 3215 Catalpa avenue, has the misfortune to bear a close facial resemblance to John Dillinger. Yesterday he was attending the Uptown theater, 4814 Broadway, without knowing that suspicious patrons had seen and "recognized" him.

Within a short time six police squads, armed with riot guns, tear gas bombs, and quantities of ammunition, surrounded the theater and arrested Weber. Naturally indignant, and resenting police interference with his movie going, Weber at first declined to identify himself.

However, realizing that the cards were stacked against him, Mr. Weber finally told his name, business, address, and satisfactorily explained himself all around. He was let go with apologies. Mr. Weber is considering a little plastic surgery.

Two French Cities Hit by Riots; 167 Hurt

BY HAROLD ETTLINGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 19.—France was gravely concerned tonight by street fighting in two provincial centers resulting in injuries to at least 167 persons and increasing the already bitter feeling between right and left elements of the country.

The first riot occurred at Toulouse, where vicious fighting lasted through the night and by dawn this morning had become more violent than any of the long list of riots since February. It left the central districts of the city resembling a veritable battlefield.

Hospitals are filled with injured. The total of injured is known to have reached 152, including 49 policemen. Two policemen and two rioters, one of whom is a woman, are not expected to recover.

15 Hurt in Lyons Riot.

The second riot occurred at Lyons, where at least 15 persons were injured in a three and one-half hour battle between communists and police and mobile guards. There was some gunfire in this riot. The battle began when 2,000 Reds gathered and attempted to march on a Nationalist meeting at which Jean Renaud of Solidarité Française was scheduled to speak. About 1,000 policemen blocked the way of the communists and the battle was one.

In the Toulouse riot 300 persons were arrested and there was tremendous material damage. Several automobiles were burned, hundreds of windows were smashed, fences and grilles and paving blocks were torn up. Building scaffolding, which was used for barricades, was strewn everywhere for blocks around the main street, where the worst clashes took place.

The battle was between hundreds of Left Extremists and police, and continued until well after dawn when the forces holding the barricades finally were driven back after at least 100 charges by mounted police squads and mobile guards.

Mounties Make 100 Charges.

The trouble started entirely without warning, when mobs of Left sympathizers who have long had a stronghold at Toulouse, suddenly tried to break up a meeting of Nationalist Young Patriots, at which the leader, Pierre Taittinger, spoke. Police were taken unawares, for earlier in the evening a Socialist parade, which was expected to bring trouble, came off without incident.

The terrific battle raged at half a dozen points for hours, but the actual extent of the violence was not learned until late this morning.

PRESIDENT OFF FOR YALE; WILL RECEIVE DEGREE

Washington, D. C., June 20 [Wednesday].—(AP)—President Roosevelt's special train, taking him to New Haven, Conn., to receive an honorary degree at Yale university, left Washington at 2 o'clock this morning.

Postmaster General Farley, Frank C. Walker, chairman of the emergency council, and J. T. S. O'Connor, controler of the currency, joined Mr. Roosevelt on the train to go as far as New York.

After leaving New Haven tomorrow night the President will board the government yacht Sequoia to cruise to New London, Conn., for the Yale-Harvard boat races Friday. He will motor from there to Hyde Park, N. Y., for a week-end at the family home and return Monday to Washington.

POLICEMEN POSE AS SPOONERS; 2 ROBBERS CAUGHT

Posing as a loving couple in a sedan, two policemen from the Cragin station last night finally captured two of three robbers who have been preying on spooners in a dark "Lovers' lane" on Cortland street, just off Rutherford street. It took the policemen four nights of embracing to make the capture.

The policemen, Thomas Mackey and James Sullivan, were assigned to the case after nearly a dozen couples reported being robbed. Mackey wore a dark suit and Sullivan wore a floppy hat, a fur neckpiece, and two pillows.

Those captured gave their names as Frank Dini, 17 years old, 2316 North Austin boulevard, and Vito Nicasio, 17 years old, 2107 North Mason avenue.

RENEWED REPORT OF FIELD DIVORCE DRAWS A DENIAL

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—A renewed report of an impending divorce of Marshall Field, formerly of Chicago, and his wife, the former Mrs. Dudley Coats, was printed here tonight. It was the second time within six weeks that such a report has had wide circulation, and this one, like the earlier, is denied by attachés of the Field household.

Mr. and Mrs. Field's summer home is at Huntington, Long Island. The butler there tonight said they both are living there; that they are together in New York attending a dinner with friends; that stories of domestic discord are untrue.

The Fields were married in 1930.

Vienna Police Test Poderjay Trunk Stains

VIENNA, June 19.—(AP)—While chemists concentrated their efforts to determine whether spots on the trunk of the missing Agnes Tufverson were made by human blood, police tonight turned the present wife of Miss Tufverson's husband, Capt. Ivan Poderjay, over to the prosecuting attorney.

The court official will determine whether a charge will be filed against the woman, registered with police as Miss Susanne Ferrand, based on her possession of the trunk and other property of the American woman lawyer who disappeared shortly after her marriage to Poderjay.

Poderjay remained in police custody pending the outcome of the blood tests. A preliminary microscopic examination had failed to reveal whether the spots were stains of human blood.

Breaks with Poderjay.

Although Miss Ferrand maintained throughout that she is loyal to Poderjay, the couple have different lawyers and the possibility of a break was indicated by her attorney, Leopold Bestermann. He described her as "just another victim of another clever swindler" and indicated that her experiences with Poderjay may add to the captain's difficulties.

Vienna police are convinced that the finding of Miss Tufverson's possessions here establishes that she is dead, but without a formal charge against any one they made no prediction as to the eventual disposition of the couple held here. Microscopic examination, police said, revealed that attempts had been made to obliterate Miss Tufverson's signature from her briefcase, which was found in the apartment.

The police have been advised that after financial difficulties in Belgrade in connection with a previous wife, Poderjay returned to that city for a time without being disturbed by police and operated an astrological and graphological salon.

To Examine Messages.

New York, June 19.—(AP)—The search for Agnes Tufverson, missing bride of Capt. Ivan Poderjay, swain of many women, caused police here to subpena today all cable and wireless messages which the Jugo-Slavian adventurer may have sent or received during his mysterious visit here last fall and winter.

The police also considered with the district attorney's office legal maneuvers toward possible extradition of Poderjay from Vienna, where he is now in jail. The detective division was reported to have asked the district attorney to obtain an indictment against Poderjay for grand larceny on Miss Tufverson's trousseau and baggage. The police may send a detective to Vienna to question Poderjay.

A subpena also was issued for the brokerage firm of Brown Brothers & Harriman to produce any records they may have that would show that Poderjay owned stock in the Chase National bank or the Commonwealth and Southern corporation. The inquiry is being made as to Poderjay's stocks to learn if any of them had belonged to Miss Tufverson, and if they had been transferred to him by forging her name.

Four Trunks Taken on Boat.

A check of baggage records, police reported, has established that when Poderjay entered the country last summer he came with one trunk, but that when he left on the Olympic he had four trunks and six pieces of hand baggage. Two of the four trunks he took with him were Miss Tuvferson's. One of the others was Poderjay's original trunk, and the fourth was purchased here by him. The check determined further that Poderjay permitted three of the trunks to be stored in the liner's hold but that he kept one in his cabin.

FACES 5 YEARS PRISON ON EACH OF 16 CHARGES

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—A jury in federal court today found Joseph W. Harriman guilty of fourteen false entries totaling $1,713,000 in depositors' accounts at the Harriman National Bank and Trust company while he was president. It also found he had misapplied the bank's assets in connection with two loans of $300,000 each.

At the same time the jury acquitted his executive vice president, Albert M. Austin, who had been tried with him. Austin was discharged from custody immediately, while Harriman's bail was continued at $25,000 until June 27, when he must appear for sentence.

At the age of 67, after postponement of his trial for a year because of heart disease and failing mentality Harriman now faces penalties up to five years in prison and $5,000 fine on each of the sixteen offenses for which he has been found guilty. An appeal is expected.

Judge Says It's a Warning.

Judge Knox, who presided over the trial during the last five weeks, commended the verdict from the bench as "thoroughly understandable" as well as "highly salutary" for bankers in general.

After the jury returned he communicated his own convictions:

"There is no doubt in my mind that Mr. Harriman is guilty on each count of the indictment. As to Defendant Austin, I dare say you found him, as I did, to be one who took his direction from the man in control and followed instructions and that such guilt as might rest on him was of a different type than that which characterized Mr. Harriman.

"Hard as your verdict may be on Mr. Harriman, it will have a highly salutary effect, in that those who are entrusted with the funds of the public will know that the law intended to protect depositors is something to be observed rather than disregarded. I hope that other bank officers, entrusted with the proper use of the moneys in their care, will take this verdict very much to heart."

Harriman Stunned.

When the jurors returned, Harriman stared at them. Mr. Harriman's son-in-law, Boykin C. Wright, moved swiftly alongside him and waited. Mrs. Harriman had been left in the marshal's office with a bottle of smelling salts. Austin, further down the defense table sat stiffly waiting, his chin cupped in his hands. Mrs. Austin was sitting a few feet away against the rail.

The clerk of the court polled the jury and asked them if they had reached a verdict. John C. Blacker, the foreman, said:

"We find Mr. Harriman guilty on all counts and Mr. Austin not guilty."

Mr. Harriman never moved. He seemed to wait as if he had not yet heard anything that made sense to him. His son-in-law repeated the verdict to him and patted him on the shoulder. The elderly banker wet his lips but said nothing.

After Judge Knox discharged Mr. Austin from custody and said that Harriman must return under bail "a week from tomorrow morning," Harriman still sat inertly, until his son-in-law led him down the corridor to the marshal's office to his wife.

Walk Silently Away.

She took him by the arm and both walked silently out of the building.

Mrs. Harriman held tightly to his arm, her eyes closed wearily during all the time they faced the camera, holding to her husband's arm as if to keep from falling. Then both walked out into the rain to a taxicab their nurse had hailed. They drove back to Doctors' hospital, where they have been under care during the trial.

No information was available at the hospital as to the effect of the shock on Harriman. The indictment last June caused an attack of coronory thrombosis of the heart as well as mental aberration, which were certified to the court by a number of experts at the time as reasons for not bringing him to trial. During that period he attempted suicide by stabbing himself when he was found on Long Island after escaping from the hospital.

Before entrusting the case to the jury, selected at the outset after disclaiming any prejudice against bankers as a class, Judge Knox in his charge emphasized the fact that the two defendants were not being tried because the Harriman bank failed for 40 million dollars, but because of specific abuses in the 1931 and 1932 operations of the bank which the government found when the bank was closed during the moratorium of March, 1933.

The government case was prepared during the last year by Assistant United States Attorneys Jacob Rosenblum and Leo C. Fennelly.

In a four hour summation of the evidence, Rosenblum pointed out that the false entries and misapplication of assets arose in connection with an attempt by Harriman to maintain the price of the Harriman bank stock after the general market crash of 1929.

According to the evidence, the federal attorney said, Harriman continued, from 1929 until the precarious condition of the bank was discovered, paying out bank funds in taking Harriman bank stock off the market at $1,500 a share. He attempted to get rid of it, as fast as he acquired it, by selling it to depositors as a permanent investment, but it kept piling up in the bank, according to the government.

In December, 1931, there was an accumulation of $320,000 when the national bank examiners descended on the Harriman bank for one of the periodic examinations.

False Entries Cover Deals.

In view of the prohibition against a national bank's dealing in its own bank stock, the government evidence showed, the accumulated Harriman stock was concealed from the bank examiners by apparently selling it to three depositors, through three false entries charging their accounts a total of $320,000. These entries were reversed after the examiners departed.

The same maneuver was executed, but in larger figures, in April, 1932, according to the government evidence, when $1,393,000 of stock was concealed from the examiners of the New York Clearing House association by eleven false entries apparently disposing of the stock to eleven depositors.

In addition to these fourteen false entries, which constituted fourteen of the sixteen counts of the indictment, the government maintained, Mr. Harriman arranged to obtain funds for his bank stock campaign by appropriating 15,000 shares of common stock of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, owned by Dr. Preston Satterwhite and pledged by him at the Harriman bank as part security for a $300,000 loan.

Forces Loan on Bernheim.

Further funds were obtained by Harriman, according to the government, through a $300,000 loan which he forced on Sidney Bernheim in order to take the proceeds of the loan away from him.

Harriman, who had spent four days on the witness stand maintaining that these things had all been done by his subordinates on whom he relied for all details, listened with apparent resentment while Mr. Rosenblum rose gradually to a frantic denunciation that: "You can't do these things; you shouldn't be allowed to do these things."

Neither the government nor the defense has attempted to show exactly how much the attempt to stabilize the market price of Harriman bank stock cost the bank. The total expenditure of the bank funds for the purchase of stock, however, was set at 6 million dollars between 1929 and 1932. Offsetting this, it was shown that a great part of the stock was passed along to depositors as a permanent investment for which they actually paid the bank. That stock is now worthless to the depositors who were persuaded to buy it, since the bank is in receivership, but the amount which they paid for it does not enter into the 7 million dollar deficit which caused the government to keep the bank closed after the moratorium of 1933.

GERMAN DROUTH BRINGS PERIL OF FOOD SHORTAGE

BERLIN, June 19.—(AP)—Prospects of a food shortage in Germany next winter, which one responsible official predicted will be "frightful," were intensified today as a months-long drouth continued in many parts of the nation.

The damage to oats, beets and forage crops was described as "catastrophic" and beyond the repair of any rain that may come now. Upper Silesia is particularly hard hit. Observers said the drouth is the worst within memory.

Britain Gets Rain.

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—Prayers for rain were offered by the archbishop of York at the church assembly session in Westminster today and it wasn't long afterward that a few light showers, the first in many a long day, fell in parts of the London area.

Word came from the north that it had been raining steadily since 2 a. m. Manchester and sections of the south coast and west England as well were deluged.

VON HINDENBURG VOICES APPROVAL OF PAPEN SPEECH

Lessens Danger of Nazi Cabinet Split.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 19.—Powerful support for Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen's attack on Nazi "excesses and arrogance" in his Marburg speech appeared today when it became known that President Paul von Hindenburg had sent Von Papen a congratulatory telegram.

Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels suppressed the issue of the Frankfurter Zeitung which published the full text of Von Papen's speech, but the public learned of it through Swiss and Dutch papers carrying it. Police seized copies of the Basel Nachrichten, which had the longest report. The few copies that escaped seizure were read by clustered groups.

The president's approval lends powerful support to Von Papen's campaign against "bolshevik" elements in the Nazi régime. Von Hindenburg has a warm personal feeling for the vice chancellor and his approval is taken to carry the weight of the army and police.

Cabinet Soothes Wounds.

Von Papen's friends declare his speech was "constructive criticism." Few believe that it will result in his leaving the cabinet, both because he has a powerful following and because, since he hails from the Saar, he is slated to play an important part in regaining the Saar for Germany in the plebiscite next year.

The Catholic church is aware of this and is bringing pressure to bear on Von Papen, insisting that he stand up for the rights of Catholics. In one more passage of his speech Von Papen had declared, "Germans must not exclude themselves from the society of Christian nations."

In a tense session of the cabinet today it is understood Chancellor Hitler reproved Von Papen for making such statements in public instead of privately before party chiefs. He called upon Von Papen to accept suppression of the speech with good grace.

Point of New Attacks.

Von Papen's declaration that the German revolution is at a "decisive stage" is expected to prove the opening wedge for other speeches of similar character, and a campaign to set the Nazis on a moderate course which will not rub the world the wrong way.

Von Papen's expression of his monarchist sentiments, predicting the return some day of a state head removed from the political arena, brought a tirade from Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, the party chief of foreign affairs, in the Volkishe Beobachter.

"It is a fundamental error," he said, "to assume that the so-called elements of the right want the same things as the National Socialists except that their tactics are different. We did not proclaim and accomplish the revolution of our time in order that an antiquated class should proclaim under the slogan of a conservative revolution a restoration of the conditions of 500 years ago. The National Socialist revolution is loaded with dynamic power. It continues on its way true to the law according to which it started."

Germans Open Valley.

The first concrete result of the conference last week between Premier Mussolini of Italy and Hitler was seen today when the Germans opened the border at Walser, Thal, near Sonthofen. This tiny Austrian valley is surrounded by high mountains which open only toward Germany. When the Germans closed the border the Walser Thal community was cut off from the world. Mussolini interceded on behalf of the Austrians.

Official circles intimated that another outcome of the Mussolini-Hitler conversations would be a recommendation for a conference of all powers that signed the Kellogg-Briand anti-war pact to break the international deadlock and end the growing talk of war.

Sunday in an address to his congregation Father Peter Ritzi of Karlsruhe pointed to the death of a storm trooper as an example of divine wrath. Today guards were protecting Father Ritzi from the public indignation stirred up by his alleged anti-Nazi utterances. A Nazi tribunal in Berlin today sentenced three communists to death for the killings of two policemen in political disorders of August, 1931. This brought to six the number of death sentences levied in Berlin in four days.

Begs Jobs For Older Men.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, June 19.—Phillip Kessler, reich economic leader, issued today an appeal to all industrialsts and business men in Germany to find jobs in their plants or business houses for older married men with families and if necessary to discharge young men who can be spared.

The appeal applies primarily to unskilled labor, since an adequate supply of skilled young workmen is considered a national necessity.

BOMBINGS MARK FIRST BIRTHDAY OF BAN ON NAZI PARTY IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, June 19.—(AP)—Today, the first anniversary of the outlawing of the Nazi party in Austria, brought a wave of bombing after a period of comparative calm, but it was not clear whether Socialists or Nazis were responsible. The only demonstration directly traced to Nazis was a flaming swastika, the Nazi emblem, which ignited a roof in the Twelfth district of Vienna.

Small bombs blew out windows in the Fatherland Front headquarters in the Fifth district, and there were scattered explosions in telephone booths in which one policeman and two pedestrians were injured. Another bomb wrecked the front of a Jewish store in Frohnleiten, Styria, and two bombs exploded in the villa of a factory director there. A factory administration building was bombed at Bruck-om-der-Mur, as were high tension cable towers at Hafendorf.

Eight farm houses near Mitteldorf in East Tyrol were burned last night. Three suspects, arrested on suspicion of political incendiarism, may be tried by a court martial, authorities indicated. Fire destroyed 38 houses at Mitteldorf in May, 1933.

FALL OF HITLER NOW FORECAST BY ROTHSCHILD

Boycott Is Effective, Says Paris Banker.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—The prediction that the "Hitler régime will fall," not tomorrow, but eventually, was made today by Baron Maurice de Rothschild, French statesman and financier, to a group of Jewish members of the house.

The occasion was the extension by Representative Dickstein [Dem., N. Y.], of an invitation on behalf of Jewish Americans to Baron Rothschild to attend Jewish Peoples' day, July 29, at the Chicago World's Fair.

Baron Rothschild today assailed the treatment he said the German government had accorded to people of Jewish faith.

"I do not say it will be tomorrow," he said, "but I am certain that some day the Hitler régime will fall. . . .

"The boycott which has been taking place in Europe and in this country will help to overthrow that awful régime."

Rothschild said "most gratifying news" had come from Germany recently, adding:

"The mark is falling. Their gold reserves are constantly being reduced, and soon will dwindle to nothing.

"I do not believe that there will be in Germany a strong inflation such as there has been in the last few years; but," he continued, "what I do believe is that they will not have any purchasing power abroad; that they will not be able to buy as much raw material; and that this will mean a really strong depression in Germany."

Martin Durkin Made Head of Prison Hospital Ward

Martin Durkin, serving 35 years in Stateville penitentiary for the murder of Edward C. Shanahan, a federal agent, was promoted yesterday to the post of supervisor of a ward in the prison hospital. Durkin recently expressed a desire to study medicine, and was assigned to the prison hospital for instruction under Dr. Charles A. Calvin, penitentiary surgeon at Stateville.

TERRORISTS RUN WILD IN HAVANA; BULLETS FLY IN BUSINESS AREA

HAVANA, Cuba, June 19.—(AP)—A large yellow automobile sped through the business district of Havana this afternoon, its occupants firing rifles and pistols in all directions. Police, who were unable to catch the terrorists, said there were no casualties.

Earlier a band of armed men, said by police to have used the same automobile, forced a bus driver and passengers out of the vehicle in the suburb of Vedado and burned the bus in the middle of the street.

Jorge Quintana, a former lieutenant of the Cuban navy, today was arrested and accused of complicity in last Friday's bombing, in which President Carlos Mendieta was wounded and two others killed.

BRITAIN VOTES TO RESERVE ALL OIL RIGHTS FOR STATE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 19.—The house of commons tonight passed on second reading the government's petroleum bill, the fundamental principle of which is to vest property in any oil existing in the British soil in the crown, viz., the state. The vote was 251 to 29.

Opening the debate, Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, stressed that the object of the bill was to facilitate the search for petroleum in this country. At present Great Britain is dependent entirely on outside sources for liquid fuel. As far as known there are very small petroleum rights anywhere in the United Kingdom, Runciman continued, but he said the only way to ascertain whether oil could be produced was to induce some responsible concern with large resources to embark on a scheme of exploitation.

The measure was supported by Laborites and Liberals, and the opposition came only from a handful of Conservatives, led by the marquis of Hartington. Describing himself as owner of the only producing oil well in England, Hartington attacked the bill as an obstructive measure which would tend to make ownership of land less attractive and diminish the sense of security of land owners and decrease the flow of capital into the land.

U. S. HAS REMEDY IN GERMAN CRISIS ROOSEVELT SAYS

Might Impound Credits During Moratorium.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt stated today the American government has full power to take steps for protection of American investors in German securities.

He added that a study is being made by the state department to determine what, if any, steps shall be taken.

The German government has announced a moratorium on the payment of all its foreign debts.

Other nations, particularly England and France, have laid plans for seizing German credits in the British and French clearing houses and advancing them to the holders of German bonds and other indebtedness.

Might Take Like Course.

If the United States takes similar action, trade balances in favor of German firms or the German government would be held in American clearing houses and banks under executive order.

It is doubtful what means might be set up for the paying of those balances over to the American holders of German debts, and exactly how the legitimacy of the credits might be established.

It was learned, however, that the American government is hopeful that Germany will abandon the moratorium, at least as it might affect American creditors, so radical steps might not have to be taken. At any rate, if German credits were seized, they could be held indefinitly as security for the ultimate payment of the German debts.

The President believes his authority to tie up German funds is amply derived from the emergency banking act of 1933, and the gold reserve act of 1934. These measures gave the President power over all foreign exchange.

Could Impound Claims.

However, because of the large amount of American exports to Germany, which would be threatened by such drastic action against German merchants, it is considered highly doubtful that such action will be taken.

The state department, through Ambassador Dodd, already has protested to the German government against the freezing out of American investors in German securities.

This government has received specific authority, under a resolution sponsored through the congress recently by Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], to impound $20,000,000 of German-American mixed claims, now held by the treasury. This sum may be held until the German government resumes payments to the United States on mixed claims awards and the cost of the army of occupation.

FORBID FRENCH FIRM TO SELL HITLER'S BOOK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 19.—Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany may be enemy No. 1 to France in general, but to the courts he is just a fellow who wrote a book. As such he was declared winner today in a law suit over translation rights of "Mein Kampf" [My Struggle].

The chancellor sued a French firm for publishing an unexpurgated edition of his book without permission. Lawyers for the Paris publishers asked that the book be treated as a public document which every Frenchman has a right to read, whether Hitler gets the royalties or not. The court ruled, however, that the Nazi leader, regardless of what he says in his book or what his own methods in such matters are, is entitled to full protection.

Paradoxically, Germany's dictator was awarded judgment on the basis of the liberal publication of laws passed at the time of the French revolution. An injunction was granted against further sales of "Mein Kampf" by the French firm, and all existing copies, as well as the type, were ordered destroyed. The German publisher who sued on Hitler's behalf was awarded one franc per book symbolic damages. [The franc is worth now about 6.6 cents.]

CITY SWELTERS AT 92; FORECAST SHOWER TONIGHT

Grain Region Reports Scattered Rains.

Although scattered showers fell yesterday in some sections of the corn and wheat region, Chicago continued dry and sweltering under temperatures that reached 92 degrees at 3, 4, and 5 p. m.

The outlook for today, according to Forecaster W. P. Day, is for cloudy, warm weather, followed by showers tonight. Fresh southwest winds, becoming northwest at night, are forecast.

The mercury stood at 62 degrees at 5 a. m. yesterday, but almost immediately started a steady climb, rising at the rate of three to six degrees an hour, under cloudless skies. By 9 a. m. it was 77, and by 11 a. m. it had reached 87.

Report Only Light Rains.

The corn and wheat region bulletin reported showers during the last twenty-four hours in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, lower Michigan, Montana, and northwest North Dakota. The rains were light, however, with the exception of north and east Ohio and northeastern Kentucky. Canton, O., reported a fall of 2.72 inches, and Williamstown, Ky., 1.36 inches.

The Chicago area has had 3.9 inches of rain since the first of the month, and the deficiency from normal since Jan. 1 is now 10.08 inches.

Kansas, where wheat is moving, reports that the yield in the eastern third of the state, and in the south central counties will be larger than anticipated. That of western Kansas will be poor.

In Illinois, Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the emergency relief commission, announced plans to discontinue direct grants of feed and seed to needy farmers in the 77 counties comprising the secondary drouth area.

Halt Feed Grants.

Beginning tomorrow, the feed and seed grants will be halted in 57 of the 77 counties, and in the remaining 20 they will be discontinued by June 27, Mr. Reynolds said.

The commission plans to issue warrants direct to applicants who are found in need, for the sake of expediency, with the stipulation that the loan be used to purchase stock feed, or seed for forage crops.

In Kane county the first government shipment of creosote for fighting the chinch bug plague arrived at Elburn, and approximately 140 farmers came in from the surrounding countryside to get their share of the 8,000 gallons distributed.

PIPE WATER INTO LAKE IN BATTLE TO SAVE FISH

Workers in Hinsdale last night were piping water from mains on the south western outskirts of the village into Ruth lake in an effort to save what fish remained alive of the thousands once there. Because of the drouth the body of water has shrunk from 20 acres to barely one.

Along the mud-caked bed of the once populous lake are strewn thousands of fish, killed by the lack of water and by the poisonous qualities of that left in a small central pool. Perch, bass, sunfish and bluegills already are wiped out and only carp, able to live in mud, remain.

Old residents of the village remembering more than fifty years ago, are unable to recall a time when the lake was reduced to anything like its present condition.

Although two hoses were trained on the lake, the water was soaked up almost as speedily as it went in, and officials were considering abandoning the rescue effort.

AN ANNIVERSARY

Cartoon by John T. McCutcheon, which was printed in The Tribune on May 1, 1923, the 25th anniversary of the battle of Manila bay. It is reprinted today in honor of the opening at the Chicago Historical society of display of the personal belongings of Admiral George Dewey, loaned by his son, George G. Dewey.

BRITAIN PUTS TWO BEST SLEUTHS ON TORSO MYSTERY

Assert Victim Was Not Miss Tufverson.

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—The aces of Great Britain's crime detection forces gave their best efforts today to solving the mystery revealed by the finding in two railway stations of parts of a woman's body.

Sir Bernard Spilsbury, famous pathologist of the home office, who has played an important rôle in every major murder case of recent years, began a detailed examination of the torso found in a trunk at Brighton and the legs left in a suitcase at King's Cross station.

At the same time Chief Inspector W. Donaldson, Scotland Yard's best known detective, was tracing down the meager clews and directing the search for other parts of the body.

Wrapping Papers Similar.

Pieces of brown paper, similar in texture, in which the torso and the legs were wrapped, together with the trunk and the suitcase themselves, furnished the principal physical clews.

A theory that the victim might have been Miss Agnes Tufverson, missing American woman, was definitly abandoned.

At Brighton local pride caused Miss Margaret Hardy, the white haired mayor, to remark that the "case belongs to London." "Nothing like that ever happened in Brighton," said the chief executive of the watering place, proudly.

Sir Bernard on the Job.

BRIGHTON, England, June 19.—(AP)—Sir Bernard Spilsbury, the most publicized criminologist in Europe, is the big sensation of the trunk murder case in Brighton.

Although he has never been known to say a word for publication, Sir Bernard has such a hold on the public imagination in England that, once he is called into consultation, the murder itself becomes of almost secondary interest. When the tall, clean shaven, cherubic-faced criminologist sped here this afternoon the British public knew that here was a murder mystery of the first rank.

Sir Bernard, whose hair is beginning to turn gray, also has a reputation as the most expert of expert witnesses. His latest achievement as a criminologist and expert was the sending of Reginald Hicks to the gallows on a charge of pushing his father-in-law's head into a gas oven. The defense theory was suicide, but Sir Bernard and police developed evidence which convinced a jury.

Showing Opens Today

The first public showing of the personal belongings of Admiral George Dewey, including scores of articles rich in historical value, will be opened after a special preview today and this evening at the Chicago Historical society museum in Lincoln park. Included in the display is the original of a cartoon by John T. McCutcheon which was published in THE TRIBUNE in 1923, on the 25th anniversary of the battle of Manila bay, May 1, 1898. Mr. McCutcheon was one of two of THE TRIBUNE correspondents who were present at the famous fight. The Dewey exhibit is sponsored by George G. Dewey of Chicago, the only son of the admiral, and Charles B. Pike, president of the society.

BROOKHILL COWS TO TREAD CITY'S $177,000 "PATH"

Chicago's $177,000 cowpath will be trod at noon today by two of the herd of 30 cattle at the Brookhill Farm exhibit of A Century of Progress Exposition. Two cows will nose through the swinging doors at the western end of the 100 West Monroe street building and walk the 177 foot path flanked by milkmaids.

The path has been reserved, under an ancient deed, for cattle for almost a century. The property on which the building had been erected was purchased in 1833 by a William Jones, who had a herd of cattle. He sold the property in strips from time to time, providing in the deeds that the cow path to the pasture, now the site of the Board of Trade building be kept open.

In 1928 when the present 22 story building was erected, owners left the cow path but utilized the air rights over it. It has been estimated that the value of the path is $177,000 and the loss of rent it occasions is $10,000 a year.

In the last 50 years only one cow has walked the path. On Nov. 25, 1932, a cow and calf walked the path as a prelude to the opening of the stock show of that year. The cows from the farm exhibit will be trucked to the path.

SUPREME COURT SAVES LA RUE FROM CHAIN GANG

Florida Loses Fight for Extradition.

James A. La Rue, who escaped from a Florida chain gang, won a six months' court fight yesterday to escape return to that state. The Illinois Supreme court ruled that extradition papers in the case were legally insufficient to warant removal of the fugitive.

JAMES A. LA RUE.

Attorneys said yesterday that in effect the ruling will keep La Rue from serving the remainder of his term in the Florida prison camp. He is safe from further legal moves by Florida, officials say, as long as he remains in Illinois. It also was held unlikely that other states would order return of the fugitive on the record forwarded by Florida.

Two Fights Lost.

La Rue, after he was seized in Chicago in December, 1933, was ordered extradited by Gov. Horner. The ruling was upheld by Chief Justice Philip J. Finnegan of the Criminal court, who refused a writ of habeas corpus in the case. The case was then taken to the Supreme court, with the resulting decision yesterday.

La Rue owes his freedom to the chance that took Rosita Forbes, English writer, to the detective bureau to view a "show-up" on the night that he was paraded before the victims of Chicago criminals. Miss Forbes, who was lecturing in Chicago at the time, told Chief of Detectives Schoemaker that La Rue did not look like a criminal and asked permission to talk to him.

After hearing La Rue's story, Miss Forbes retained Attorney Grenville Beardsley to file habeas corpus proceedings in behalf of the fugitive. Beardsley, after his defeat in the Criminal court, took the case in behalf of the penniless La Rue to the high court.

Escaped After Six Months.

According to the story told by La Rue, he was arrested in Miami, Fla., while leaving an unoccupied house. Pleading guilty to a charge of burglary on the advice of an attorney appointed by the court, he was sent to a prison camp. He escaped after serving six months and returned to Chicago.

Here La Rue was hired to do odd jobs by Mrs. Alberta Clawson, 445 Roslyn place. In December, 1933, he was arrested after $800 worth of jewelry had been stolen from Mrs. Clawson's home and was identified as a fugitive from Florida. Later Mrs. Clawson told police that she did not believe that he had taken her jewelry.

La Rue was notified of the ruling yesterday in the county jail, where he will remain until a release order is received from the Supreme court. His wife, who has lived on the north side with their baby since La Rue's incarceration, was overjoyed.

METHODISTS LIMIT DRY SUPPORT IN PULPITS OF CHICAGO

Portland, Ore., June 19.—(AP)—Chicago Methodist churches have voted not to open their pulpits to all the 36 dry organizations they have found operating in the United States, Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf, general superintendent of Methodist activities in that region, said here today.

The bishop is presiding over the Oregon annual Methodist conference.

"We have decided in Chicago," he said, "that there must be a readjustment of the temperance situation.

"We studied conditions and found 36 dry organizations in the United States presuming to be friends of the dry cause," Bishop Waldorf continued. "Some of them were little, tiny organizations and walked down the street under the hat of the sponsor. Others promote temperance as a side issue. Methodist churches in the Chicago area have voted not to open their pulpits to anything like this number of organizations to appeal for funds to carry on their work."

SHOT TO DEATH AS HE SITS WITH GIRL IN SALOON

Joseph O'Connor, 31 years old, 3344 Congress street, was shot and killed early today in the saloon of John McGovern at 3447 West Madison street. The slayer, identified as Dick Rogers, whom the police designated a hoodlum, fled after the shooting.

According to McGovern and other witnesses, O'Connor and a girl companion were seated at a table drinking when Rogers entered. He began an apparently amicable conversation that quickly grew into a quarrel, in the course of which Rogers drew his pistol and fired twice, both bullets taking effect.

The girl fled before the police arrived. O'Connor, an employé in a city garage, was taken to the Gareld Park hospital, but died soon after arriving there.

ZEPPELIN FLIES OCEAN AGAIN.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, June 19.—(AP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin returned today from its second trip of the year to South America. It will be prepared immediately for another flight over the South Atlantic. It is scheduled to reach Buenos Aires June 23.

JIRKA, CONVICTED OF JAIL BREAK PLOT, DISBARRED

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday ordered the name of Harold W. Jirka stricken from the roll of practicing attorneys. The former attorney, who is under sentence of from one to five years in the penitentiary for conspiracy to aid in a jail break here, was charged with unprofessional conduct by the Chicago Bar association.

The disbarment order had no direct relation to his conviction. In 1929 Jirka was accused of diverting money accepted from clients. He was charged with operating a confidence game, and at that time the bar association opened an inquiry.

Jirka pleaded insanity and was adjudged insane. Last April he was indicted for his part in attempting to help 12 prisoners escape from the county jail March 24. Another hearing was held on the question of his mental status and Jirka was found sane. The disbarment proceedings, which had been dropped, were then reinstated.

Jirka at present is at liberty on bond pending an appeal of the sentence pronounced in the conspiracy case by Judge Daniel P. Trude. The stay of mittimus expires June 26. Jirka is the brother of Dr. Frank J. Jirka, son-in-law of the late Mayor Cermak and state director of public health.

Peggy Joyce Pays $600 Bill; Saves Villa from Auction

NICE, France, June 19.—(AP)—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, American actress, today took action to save the furnishings of her villa here by ordering payment of an account of 10,000 francs, [$600] to an interior decorator. An auction of her possessions to satisfy the claim had been threatened.

2 MILLIONTH FAIR VISITOR TO ENTER TURNSTILE TODAY

Lucky Guest Will Get Royal Welcome.

BY EARL MULLIN.

The World's Fair will welcome its two millionth visitor today, five days earlier than the 1933 Exposition and 19 days earlier than the Columbian Exposition of 1893. All of the facilities of the Fair will be used to honor the visitor when he passes through the turnstiles shortly after noon.

Officials are also watching the attendance of today with interest to see whether or not today continues the record breaking aspects of the week, with each day bettering the record of the corresponding day in all previous weeks. Yesterday's admissions continued this record breaking, previous Tuesday attendance being exceeded early in the afternoon.

Big Attendance Task Today.

To equal or better all previous Wednesdays today's Fair must attract more than 132,498, the record hung up May 30 when Decoration day crowds swelled the total.

That record, however, is disregarded by officials in comparison making insomuch as it was made on a holiday. For ordinary Wednesdays the attendance of June 13 set the record—53,309 admissions.

With warm weather and cloudless skies, yesterday's crowd began arriving early and continued to pass through the turnstiles during the afternoon and evening. During the first hour 5,391 persons entered the grounds. At 12:45 p. m. the first Tuesday attendance of 28,894 admissions was exceeded. At 1:25 p. m. the second Tuesday recording of 33,107 was bettered and by 4:30 p. m. yesterday's crowds had exceeded the previous record of 48,517, established June 12.

Break Tuesday Records.

At midnight the official reading was 67,632.

Fair officials praised the ideal weather as one of the most important factors in the establishing of the new record. Although warm during the midafternoon fair visitors seemed to enjoy the weather and for the first time this year linen suits and sports clothes ruled.

"The constantly increasing attendance on week days is a source of much gratification to the Fair," Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, general manager, said. "Week-end attendance has been satisfactory all along, largely because that seems to be the time Chicago residents visit the Exposition.

"The increase in weekday figures is due to a considerable extent to the influx of out of town visitors. As long as each day betters the comparative day for previous weeks we will feel optimistic as to the final result."

Out of Town Visitors Increase.

A survey of garages and parking lots adjacent to the Fair bore out the theory as to out of town visitors. Garages reported transient business has increased 50 per cent since Saturday on foreign cars and parking stations near the Fair showed a gross increase of 20 per cent in the last three days. At 4 o'clock last night cars had been checked in the parking lots from 35 states.

One of the largest groups from out of town arrived aboard the S. S. South American from Cleveland and Detroit. The ship arrived with a full passenger list of 500 persons making a special lake cruise to the Exposition.

Sales Over Bars Demanded.

Concessionnaires at the Fair are continuing their efforts, heretofore fruitless, to have the Exposition management liberalize the rules governing the sale of liquor and beer on the grounds. They have asked that the same regulations in general use in Chicago be adopted.

The management, however, is opposed to bars and has declined to permit any, interpreting the state law literally in this respect. Last night thirty-six concessionnaires, at a meeting on the grounds, voted unanimously to request Mayor Kelly to appoint a committee of three to act as arbitrators between their group and the management.

Earlier it was indicated the concession men might ask the liquor commission to overrule the Fair managers on the bar question, but it was learned from reliable sources that it was improbable they would get any comfort from that source.

OPTIMIST'S CLUB WILL BOYCOTT IMPURE MOVIES

Members of the Optimist Club of Chicago yesterday made public a resolution boycotting salacious and anti-social moving pictures. The members of the club determined to take the action, the resolution said, because a number of boys convicted of felonies in the Criminal court pointed to certain moving pictures as the inspiration for their crimes.

The resolution concluded:

"Be it resolved that the Optimist Club of Chicago declare its belief and conviction that many movie exhibitions are harmful to the youth of today and that we, as Optimists disapprove of such exhibitions and will show our disapproval by refusal to attend any salacious or anti-social pictures and attempt to purify the same by requesting our family and friends to likewise refrain from attending such exhibitions until we are satisfied that the movie industry is not willing to sacrifice American youth for box office returns."

FIRE DRIVES 15 FROM HOMES.

Fifteen Negroes were driven to the street yesterday when fire started by a carelessly tossed match caused damage of $400 in frame shanties at the rear of 1821-23 Austin avenue.

COUPLE IN AUTO ROBBED.

Two armed men took $30 and jewelry valued at $29 early yesterday in a robbery of Thomas Bales, 24 years old, 1724 North Kedzie avenue, and Miss Lillian Kessler, 18 years old, 1233 North Hoyne avenue, as the couple sat in Bales' car in front of Miss Kessler's home.

PLAN NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR PAGEANTRY HERE

Fair's Villages Would Be Preserved for Use.

Preliminary plans for the organization of a National Institute of Pageantry, which will have as its three-fold purpose the preservation of the foreign villages at A Century of Progress, the formation of an outlet for the talents of histrionically inclined college graduates, and the resurrection of decadent drama in the country as a whole were discussed by a group of drama minded enthusiasts yesterday at the home of Mrs. Andrew Sherriff, 1320 North State street.

The original project was conceived by Miss Edith T. Rockwell, director of drama extension of the University of Wisconsin.

Tentative plans were outlined by Clifford C. Boynton, in the absence of Miss Rockwell.

Among the annual events listed in the tentative prospectus are sponsorship of an outdoor production in Soldier's field and a two-weeks' festival of pageantry and Little theater plays at the villages, with groups from all sections of the country competing for cash awards.

University Club Pushes Claim Against Forgan Jr.

Further efforts to collect a $392.60 judgment obtained last October against David R. Forgan Jr. were begun yesterday by the University club of Chicago through Attorney Henry Mason. The judgment, obtained in the County court of Lake county, is said to be for unpaid bills and dues. Attorney Mason requested Sherif Lester Tiffany of Lake county to make a further demand for payment on Mr. Forgan, now living at 620 North Lake road, Lake Forest.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS NOTES

AERIAL photographs taken by Capt. A. W. Stevens, who will attempt a stratosphere flight in a balloon late this month, are now on display at the Hall of Photography. One of them shows practically the entire area of the New York metropolis in one photograph.

New free drawing classes are being conducted on the Fair grounds for children up to 16 years of age by Mrs. Anita Willetts-Burnham, Chicago artist and lecturer. The classes, which will be held on Tuesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays between the hours of 2 and 5:30 p. m., will take place in the art gallery on Enchanted Island with all drawing material included. Tours will be taken about the island to obtain subjects for study, and after each tour members will return to put down their impression in crayon and pastel.

Pressing trousers without taking them off is being demonstrated in an exhibit in the south end of the electrical building at the World's Fair. The gadget used is a small electric presser, weighing only ten ounces.

The newest organization at the 1934 World's Fair is the Sky Ride Aero club. Its twelve members are all registered air pilots who are employed at the Fair's loftiest structure, the Sky Ride. The group, headed by Lewis E. Clark, wartime pilot and pioneer air mail flyer, will serve as a reception committee for visiting flyers at the Exposition.

Samuel Insull, the former utility magnate, took a trip yesterday to the top of a sky ride tower. One of the attendants, recognizing Insull, walked over to welcome him. "If reporters and employés don't quit coming to ask me questions," said Insull, "I'm going to boycott the whole Fair. Leave me alone."

The women's division of the Jewish Community day committee of A Century of Progress will meet at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Morrison hotel to wind up pledges of support from Jewish women's organizations. More than 100 organizations already have enlisted in the work, and many others are expected to offer their services tomorrow, according to Mrs. Dore E. Singer, chairman of the Chicago general woman's committee for Jewish Community day.

One hundred balloons, each carrying an invitation to children to attend the World's Fair, will be released by Armour & Co. from the Pier at the south end of the company's building at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon as one of the features of Children's day at the Fair.

Miss Winifred Carter, first harpist and only woman member of the Detroit Symphony orchestra, arrived at the Fair yesterday after an eleven thousand mile trip from her home in Aukland, New Zealand. Miss Carter, former angel harpist in the Aimee Semple McPherson Angelus temple in Los Angeles, left for her home and rest after closing the orchestra's season in Detroit but a cable reaching her in Sydney, Australia, brought her back to play at the Fair.

TRIBUNE TOWER COOLING SYSTEM MEETS THE TEST

92° Outside, but Inside It's in the 70s.

Yesterday's warm spell, when the thermometer registered 92 degrees at 3, 4, and 5 p. m., gave THE TRIBUNE'S new air cooling system, recently placed in operation throughout the office tower, its first real test, and won for it unanimous commendation from building tenants and employés of the newspaper.

Naturally, the comfort of working in temperatures which at will could be kept as low as 70 degrees excited the most comment, but almost as generally noticed was the increased efficiency of workers in the air cooled rooms. Mechanically, the system was working with 100 per cent efficiency, and in a number of offices the individual cooling units were turned off at times to keep the temperature from falling too low for comfort.

System Exceeds All Hopes.

"The system is exceeding the fondest hopes of THE TRIBUNE management," said Holmes Onderdonk, manager of Tribune tower. "My only complaint is that I have trouble getting rid of my visitors. They sit and sit, and say: 'Isn't it wonderful!'"

An unofficial thermometer outside Mr. Onderdonk's window registered 94 degrees, while one inside stood at 70 degrees and the air blown out of the cooling unit was at 48 degrees.

In the tower office of Dr. Irving S. Cutter, editor of THE TRIBUNE'S How to Keep Well column, his secretary felt too cool and turned off the unit, allowing the temperature to rise to 80 degrees. At that level the room was quite comfortable, fulfilling the promise of the air conditioning engineers that the action of the units in drying the air would contribute fully as much to comfort as the cooling action.

Emphasizes Effect on Health.

"The comfort of the system is obvious," said Dr. Cutter. "From a medical standpoint, I would like to stress its effect on health. Our bodies function best around 70 degrees, and in the tower here we escape the loss of needed body salts through perspiration. The effect of such salt loss on fatigue is well recognized, to the extent that firemen in hot holds of ocean liners are given these salts in their drinking water to prevent collapse from losses through perspiration.

"The benefit of properly humidified air, and of air cleaned of dust and the bacteria which travel on dust are other benefits to health which we will receive here in the tower the year 'round."

In offices on the 24th floor of the tower, the temperature stood at 73 degrees. A tenant on the 20th floor, where slightly opened windows and raised awnings had allowed the temperature to rise to 80 degrees, reported "perfect comfort" at that level. Another on the 15th floor said that the unit had been turned on and off several times to prevent overcooling. It was 70 degrees there.

In the Telephone Exchange.

In THE TRIBUNE telephone exchange on the 10th floor, at 74 degrees, Miss Anna Garrow, chief operator, commented on the fact that her operators were escaping the usual fagged out feeling from the afternoon rush of calls, between 4 and 5 p. m. One of them just then received a query as to the official temperature.

"Ninety-two degrees, sir," said she into the transmitter, and then added over her shoulder: "But isn't it the berries here."

In THE TRIBUNE'S ad-taker division on the same floor, where the temperature was 76 degrees, Mrs. Elizabeth Blakeslee, head of the department, also commented on the increased efficiency of her girl operators.

"It's marvelous," said one of them, Miss Norma De Baugh. "I noticed the contrast at lunch. I don't feel tempted to snap back at the occasional customer who is gruff or rude, either."

They Think Faster Now.

"We think faster now on hot days," said another, Miss Adelia Barroll.

A thermometer in the office of the advertising order department on the 8th floor registered 72 degrees. It was 76 degrees in the circulation department on the second floor and 74 in the office of the managing editor on the fourth floor.

"I feel almost as fresh now as I did this morning," said Miss Letty Leitner, secretary to the managing editor, "and I don't feel the least bit mussy, as I used to at the end of a hot day."

Report Jean Harlow May Return to Stricken Husband

JEAN HARLOW AND STRICKEN MATE MAY "MAKE UP"

Platinum Blonde Actress Concerned About Rosson

Hollywood, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—Rumors there might be a reconciliation between Jean Harlow, platinum blond screen actress, and Harold Rosson, her estranged husband, were circulated here today when it became known she was concerned over his condition. Rosson was stricken with an infantile paralysis attack last week.

Miss Harlow could not be reached for comment on the reports, but it was learned she has kept in constant communication with Rosson by telephone.

Rosson was in quarantine at the home of a sister, Gladys Rosson, and the glamorous screen actress thus was unable to visit him regardless of her anxiety.

Stricken After Swim.

The film cameraman was stricken after taking a swim in a private pool, but the public did not learn of his illness until yesterday. Attending physicians said he has passed the crisis and that there probably will be no lasting affliction.

Although Miss Harlow and Rosson separated several weeks ago, no divorce action has been filed. Miss Harlow announced the separation while acting as matron of honor at a Hollywood wedding.

The cameraman is Miss Harlow's third husband. Her first was Charles F. McGrew. She divorced him and married Paul Bern, film executive, who committed suicide a few months after their wedding.

McGrew Sentenced.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—Charles F. McGrew, first of Jean Harlow's three husbands, was given a 180 day suspended sentence when he appeared today before Municipal Judge McKay for judgment on a charge of being drunk in an automobile. McGrew was placed on two years' probation.

POLICE CLEARED AT INQUEST INTO CAPTIVE'S DEATH

Ignatz Winter Jr., 26 years old, who died in the Bridewell hospital on June 8, was a victim of pneumonia and a hemorrhage, not of a beating which his family claimed was administered while he was held at the Racine avenue police station, a coroner's jury decided yesterday.

Mrs. Rosa Winter, 1846 Fremont street, mother of the dead man, with whom he lived, testified that just before her son died he told her the policemen had "trimmed" him.

This testimony was denied by Dr. Emerson Kunla and Miss Thelma Lyon, the physician and nurse who attended Winter. Both declared they were present during the mother's visit and Winter mad no such statement.

AQUARIUM SENDS BEST WISHES TO OSCAR THE SEAL

A life of utter freedom in the great lakes, albeit a rather lonely life, is possible for Oscar, the seal whose antics in Lake Michigan off 86th street puzzled south shore residents before it was established that the animal was in fact a seal and a former inmate of the Shedd aquarium.

"We're not going to capture Oscar," said Walter Chute, director of the aquarium yesterday. "He's better off where he is. Of course if some one does catch him we'll take him back if we can. But we're hoping he can be left in peace to do what he pleases. If people will let him alone he'll be perfectly free and entirely happy."

As for Ted Barron — the Shedd aquarium keeper who took pity on the seal which was ailing and turned it loose in Lake Michigan instead of killing it as he had been ordered—he will not be disciplined, said Director Chute.

"You can't blame a fellow for being warm hearted," Mr. Chute said.

HARRINGTON TAKES OATH AS JUDGE IN COURT CEREMONY

Cornelius J. Harrington, newly elected judge of the Circuit court, was inducted into office yesterday in the flower-banked courtroom of Chief Justice Dennis J. Normoyle.

Judges, civic officials, relatives, and friends jammed the room as the oath was administered to the new judge by County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer. Judge John J. Sullivan of the Superior court was the master of ceremonies, and speeches were made by him, Federal Judge Phillip L. Sullivan, and Judge Harrington.

Among the spectators were his wife, Mrs. Caroline Harrington; his mother, Mrs. Mary Harrington, and his four children, Cornelius Jr., 10 years old; Robert, 8 years old; James, 7 years old, and Joan, 2 years old. Others present included:

John D. Black, president of the Chicago Bar association; Corporation Counsel William H. Sexton, former Gov. Edward F. Dunne, and Peter B. Carey, president of the board of trade.

Mr. Harrington was elected on the Democratic ticket at the June 4 judicial election, taking the place of the late Ald. Frank J. Corr.

23 BILLIONS IS SET AS COST OF LAST CONGRESS

Experts Floundering in a Maze of Figures.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—The seventy-third congress has departed, leaving behind bills for the taxpayers to foot and other treasury liabilities that stagger the comprehension.

Nobody knows exactly how much congress appropriated and obligated the government to pay. The Democratic and Republican members of the appropriations committees disagree and the financial experts and statisticians are floundering in a mass of figures from which they will not emerge for several days.

While Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader of the senate, fixes the aggregate appropriations at 12 billion dollars, Representative John Taber [Rep., N. Y.], ranking minority member of the house appropriations committee, asserted today that the total liabilities incurred are nearly 23 billions.

Submits Detailed List.

In support of his assertion, Mr. Taber submitted the following detailed list of appropriations and obligations of the two sessions of the congress aggregating $22,857,837,181.

FIRST SESSION.

Emergency banking act		$ 2,000,000
District of Columbia		30,375,834
Independent offices		625,642,286
First deficiency bill		994,579,055

Interior		31,474,319
Legislative		25,075,595
Navy		284,658,799
State, justice, commerce, and labor		88,884,522
Treasury and postoffice	$ 819,721,370
Treasury permanent	1,363,494,972	2,183,215,442
War		316,228,991
Total		$3,616,145,232

[Extraordinary.]

Relief and CWA	$ 950,000,000
Salaries of government employés	90,000,000
Veterans' increases	100,000,000
Farm loan	200,000,000
Crop production loan	40,000,000
Cash in deficiency bill	1,825,038,393
RFC in deficiency bill	750,000,000
Appropriation of allocated funds in PWA allotments carried in deficiency bill	1,500,000,000
Gold stabilization fund	2,000,000,000
Housing insurance fund	200,000,000
Insurance on mortgages on existing loans and low cost housing projects	1,000,000,000
Savings and loan insurance corporations	100,000,000
Increase in bond capacity of HOLC	1,200,000,000
HOLC bond guarantee	2,000,000,000
Federal farm mortgage bond guarantee	2,000,000,000

Second session regular	3,616,145,232
Total, second session	$17,595,167,376
First session	5,262,659,805
Grand total	$22,857,827,181

"Unheard of Extravagance."

"The money that the first and second sessions of the 73d congress has made available to the administration to spend on New Deal experiments presents an unheard picture of extravagance," said Mr. Taber.

"In throwing together the figures which make up this story we are obliged to include every item where the congress has made funds available to the administration to spend or to loan where either a direct charge comes on the treasury or a bond obligation comes to the treasury.

"The total for the first session ending June 16, 1933, was $5,262,659,805. The total for the second session was $17,595,167,376, and the grand total for the 73d congress was $22,857,827,181.

"I am submitting with this a detailed statement of what this money was for. Every single item is covered by a law.

Deficit 16 Billions.

"It is a record of extravagance and disregard of any sense of responsibility to the taxpayers of the United States beyond the wildest dreams. The federal deficit for these two fiscal years, 1934 and 1935, will run approximately sixteen billions of dollars. They have made these appropriations without having any money in the treasury to meet them or any prospects of any except such as comes from sale of government securities.

"The very size of these appropriations tend to destroy business confidence and to prevent the recovery which those of us who have been fighting for recovery want to see. We will never be able to stop these expenditures unless we put taxes on the people each year to meet what we are paying out and wake them up to a sense of what is going on here in Washington.

"The government admits to an additional debt of one billion dollars above the war time peak, but in figuring that up they have omitted all existing liabilities on guaranteed bonds which run into several billions of dollars."

HOLD UP 20 IN DRUG STORE.

Albany Park police yesterday were seeking four gunmen who took $115 in a robbery of the Walgreen drug store at 3250 Bryn Mawr avenue after lining 20 customers and clerks against a wall.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Slyly and presumably with his tongue in his cheek, Vice President Garner today emerged from the usual silence which envelops his office and issued a statement in which he announced that the recent congress was "one of the calmest, most constructive and least bitter that I remember."

The Vice President's famous white eyebrows were arched quizzically and there was a grin on his ruddy face as he issued the statement. He referred to himself as "the spare tire on the automobile of government." Avowing his party loyalty, he remarked:

"For myself, I say that if the President's course should take him to a political Hades I will be at his elbow inhaling the sulphurous fumes with him and I will be proud to be there."

Admits Some Hyperbole Present.

Then hastily, as if alarmed at any implication that President Roosevelt's program is not succeeding to the highest degree, the politically astute Garner added:

"There is, of course, some hyperbole about this presentation of the situation. So far the President does not appear to be making mistakes. He has brought the country from a state of industrial chaos and psychological despair to a condition where the upward trend is obvious and people look to the future with confidence."

Despite impressions the public may have received that congress at times gave a fair imitation of a riot or a lynching party, the two houses actually proceeded in a quiet, logical manner to accomplish much good, the Vice President declared gravely.

Blames "Glare of Headlines."

"Through the smoke of debate and the glare of headlines," he commented, "it might seem to the ordinary citizen receiving his impressions from the newspapers that the national legislature was locked in a series of death grapples over various bits of legislation out of which one or the other combatants emerged battered and bewildered."

This mistaken impression, Vice President Garner said, is not the fault of the newspaper writers.

"A fight is always interesting," he explained, "so when one member arises and churns the air with sensational oratory, particularly if that oratory is directed to an attack on the President's policies, he gets a merited play in the newspapers even if his effort amounts to no more than the Biblical reference to futility—the crackling of thorns under a pot.

"Actually, the session of congress just completed was one of the calmest, most constructive and least bitter that I remember during my thirty-odd years at the capital. This is particularly true of the senate over which the Vice President functions and which happens to be about his only function. He is only a spare tire on the automobile of government."

Feeling, perhaps that a description of the congressional session as a peaceful, happy one might inspire a certain amount of cynical doubt in those who had covered the session, Mr. Garner continued with judicial calm:

"Of course, there has been some politics. No man in congress can be totally oblivious of his own prospects. Some of the partisans undoubtedly have overstepped the line in attempting to make party issues of matters which should have been entirely divorced from politics."

Democrats Play Politics? My, No!

Of course, the Democrats did not play politics, Mr. Garner asserted.

"Our side has striven valiantly to keep the atmosphere clear of politics," he said with the air of one who looks off vacantly and avoids the gaze of his hearers. "But some of the folks on the minority side have insisted on taking the other track. Obviously, when one of these assails the administration, some Democrat feels called upon to keep the record straight.

"On the Democratic side I think that practically the entire membership has taken the view of the situation to which I have subscribed—that is, that we have given the President a job to do; we have clothed him with authority, and it would be absurd to turn around and make it impossible for him to accomplish that which we asked him to accomplish.

Amused at Foes' Taunts.

"The political opponents of the administration are disposed to taunt us Democrats in congress with having abdicated our functions and simply registering the will of the President. That is an amusing charge coming from this particular source, for through a dozen years Republican Presidents initiated the policies the government followed and few indeed are the instances where a Republican majority did not enact the policies that came from the White House. The President is the leader of his party."

A horrible suspicion seemed to strike the Vice President at this moment.

"I do not want you to think I am making a political speech," he said in a shocked tone. "There is really no occasion to do so. Of course, we have a congressional election coming on and the preliminaries incident to the primaries inspire a lot of loose talk intended by the individual candidates to get such publicity as they think may help them.

Belittles Opposition.

"As a matter of fact, the President has had a lot of Republican support in congress as well as the practically unanimous adherence of the members of his own party. But in some districts we find candidates clamoring against the administration, regardless of what the administration is doing. Their assaults would be just as fierce if the President asked congress to enact the ten commandments into law as they were when he recommended any of the legislation passed at the session just closed."

The statement ended in a complacent tone.

"Nor would I venture into the field of prophecy," said Mr. Garner. "But I would like to remind you that most of the Republicans in the national legislature have been my intimate friends for a great many years. In our conversations, regardless of what we may say on the stump, none of us seeks to put anything over on the other and I have yet to hear any partisan Republican say that there was the slightest likelihood of diminishing the present Democratic majority in the senate.

Confident of Vote Result.

"Nor have I heard one of them suggest that there will be changes in the house of such consequences as to affect the Democratic complexion of that body.

"The country is getting along pretty well. Compared with what it was when our party took over the government, the situation is as different as day is from night, or as a summer morning is from a December blizzard. Under such circumstances, politics practically becomes a game without stakes instead of a bitter controversy with the welfare of the nation presumably in the balance.

"The senate session just closed has been devoted mainly to continuing the processes of industrial recovery that were inaugurated at the previous session. It has been an industrious congress and less time than usual has been wasted in spread-eagle oratory, a circumstance which has been not only of enormous benefit to the country but a great relief to the Vice President of the United States, who has to listen to the speeches."

Girl Dies as Respirator Is Prepared to Aid Her

Florence Morrissey, 15 years old, 7052 Normal boulevard, died of a brain tumor in the Presbyterian hospital yesterday as an artificial respirator was being prepared for her. The device was a last hope for prolonging her life but Dr. H. H. Young of the hospital staf said he believed it would have been useless even if it had arrived before she died. The respirator stood among other life saving devices in the Chicago Rapid Transit Lines' exhibit at A Century of Progress. Attendants made it ready for transfer to the hospital but before it was moved word came that the girl had died.

RUSH IS ON TO SPEND BILLIONS CONGRESS VOTED

Ickes and Farley to Get 565 Millions Early.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—The rush to spend the emergency billions granted by congress in the closing hours of the session was on full tilt today.

Though President Roosevelt had not yet signed the deficiency bill with its outright appropriation of 1,170 million dollars from the federal treasury, two members of the cabinet hastened to announce preliminary plans for spending their respective chunks of the fund.

Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes left the White House with definite assurance that 500 million dollars of the money carried in the bill directly will be turned over to him for carrying on his public works administration.

400 New Postoffices.

At almost the same time Postmaster General Farley was announcing that 400 new postoffice buildings will be constructed with 65 million dollars of the recovery fund. Within a week, said Mr. Farley, the location and the amount to be spent on each building will be announced.

Mr. Farley's plans for building new postoffices throughout the land were considered timely, with elections pending all over the country.

Just how Mr. Ickes intends to spend the half billion he expects to be turned over to him, was not known today, except that it will be used to carry on the program of the PWA during the next year.

Expects 250 Million More.

In addition to the 500 millions which he is to receive from the funds appropriated outright, Mr. Ickes is expected to receive an additional 250 millions through RFC purchases of municipal bonds pledged with the PWA as collateral for loans already made. In all, he will have at least 750 millions to expend in the various activities of the PWA, not to mention the "unobligated balances" of the RFC and the public works administration, which can, under provisions of the deficiency bill, be diverted to virtually any purpose the President sees fit.

Most of the money he has charge of will be spent on non-federal projects, the PWA administrator said today. Very little attention is to be given to governmental projects, which consumed a large portion of the 3,300 million dollar fund originally approved for the PWA. But at least one federal proposal is certain to be considered favorably by the interior secretary—a new office building for the department of interior. Mr. Ickes said today he believes he can squeeze enough money out of the bill to pay for the new structure, for which space has already been reserved in Washington.

Signs Taylor Dam Contract.

Meanwhile, Mr. Ickes signed a contract permitting the bureau of reclamation to undertake work as soon as possible on the 2 million dollar Taylor dam in Colorado.

The postmaster general is slated to leave Washington tonight, on an extensive tour to the west coast. He expects to halt in a dozen cities, it was said, making political speeches and dedicating postoffices.

CITIZENS OF TWO STATES TO FORM CAROLINAS, INC.

Charlotte, N. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Representative citizens from North and South Carolina will meet in Charlotte tomorrow to form Carolinas, Incorporated. The plan is to be modeled after Californians, Incorporated.

The purpose is to build up the Carolinas as a section and bring in more people, tourists as well as new citizens.

One proposal to be considered is the issuance of 50,000,000 illustrated stamps at a penny each. The proceeds will be used in advertising the advantages of the Carolinas.

"MY wheels struck a culvert and I crashed into the ditch.

"Of course, I thought my insurance covered me, but I found out that the insurance company did not consider sliding into a ditch a collision, and, as a matter of fact, that the policy expressly excluded such accidents."

A complaint such as this will never be uttered by the member of the Chicago Motor Club who has placed his insurance with the Inter-Insurance Exchange. The Policy issued by the "exchange" considers sliding into a ditch a collision and the claims department handles it as such.

Another feature of the policy issued by the "exchange" is that it is the valued form, which, in the event of total loss, pays the face value of the policy.

BLUE RIBBON is the order—the standing order—Blue Ribbon every time. It's the same wherever good taste is found, from the old English taverns on the coast of Maine to the Spanish patios of Southern California. There are plenty of reasons, but none as convincing as Blue Ribbon itself. Try it and see why its universal acceptance has made it the nation's standing order.

ROOSEVELT SEES LABOR'S CHIEFS ON STEEL CRISIS

Signs Disputes Bill and Predicts Peace.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today signed into law the new emergency bill giving him power to force settlement of labor disputes. Shortly afterward he intervened personally in the steel strike negotiations for the first time.

Unless the steel strike threat permanently is disposed of approximately along lines of a compromise proposal presented to the President today by organized labor, indications are that he will invoke his new law immediately to arbitrate the questions in disagreement and force a settlement on the industry and labor alike.

Chief Steel Question.

The emergency law which the President today wrote into the statute books gives him power to compel collective bargaining elections among workers and to establish arbitration boards for industries. The question of collective bargaining representation lies at the heart of the steel controversy.

New negotiations endeavoring to make the present steel truce a permanent peace centered today in a four-point proposal offered by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. This afternoon, after discussing this proposal with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, the President called William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, and Michael F. Tighe, president of the steel union, to the White House.

Roosevelt Expects Peace.

Following these conversations, the first he has had with either side in the steel fight, Mr. Roosevelt expressed the "hope that some method will be found to adjust all the points that are in controversy." He charged Miss Perkins with carrying on the negotiations.

"I have discussed with the secretary of labor," he said in a formal statement, "every detail of the proposal that has been made by a committee of the Amalgamated Steel, Iron and Tin Workers on behalf of employés of the steel industry. The secretary has described to me also the proposal that the employers in the steel industry made last week with the administrator for NRA.

"It is my hope that some method will be found to adjust all the points that are in controversy and to preserve orderly relations, without sacrificing any principle that is involved.

"I have referred the proposal to the secretary of labor for careful study and to undertake any negotiations that seem advisable. The secretary is fully empowered to represent me in taking whatever action seems advisable under the circumstances and will, of course, consult and coöperate with all other agencies of the government concerned."

Green Discusses Statement.

Mr. Green said that he interpreted the President's statement as meaning that Secretary Perkins will lay the workers' proposal before the American Iron and Steel institute and try to persuade that group to accept it.

The union's peace proposal followed closely the lines laid down by the emergency labor law. It calls for an impartial board of three to mediate labor disputes in the steel industry, to arbitrate wage and hour disputes, and to hold collective bargaining elections. The union's plan differs from the President's in that it requires only representation for the majority group of workers, whereas the White House plan is to let each group of employés be represented.

An immediate strike order can be issued by Tighe if the union's proposal is rejected. He was given that power by the convention which met in Pittsburgh last week.

Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, temporarily on the sidelines in the steel crisis, expressed the hope that the plan would be accepted by the steel companies. He said that it resembled closely the proposal put forth by the industry itself two weeks ago.

Reports, denied in New York, were that a high executive in the NRA had been sent to that city to try to persuade the Iron and Steel institute to accept the plan.

May Order an Election.

Failing a successful conclusion of current negotiations, President Roosevelt under the new law will order an election among steel workers to determine which unions are to represent them in collective bargaining. Mr. Roosevelt said today he expected such elections to get under way as soon as an organization to administer the labor law is found.

Choice of a new chief labor arbitrator to replace Senator Robert F. Wagner, now chairman of the national labor board will be one of the major problems facing the President as he attempts to set up his new strike settlement machine. Senator Wagner said after a conference with the President today that he can not take the chairmanship of the new board, which is to replace the existing national labor board.

Senator Wagner pointed out that under the constitution no member of congress can serve as a member of a statutory federal board. The national labor board, which Wagner now heads, was created by President Roosevelt's executive decree.

The President will take over the national labor board's central staf and its 19 regional boards to administer the new labor law, Senator Wagner predicted. He said that this machinery was ample, when clothed with the powers of the new law, to carry out the work. He admitted, however, that President Roosevelt had not yet finally decided on this course af action.

LA GUARDIA DOCTOR IS FOUND GUILTY OF RELIGIOUS BIGOTRY

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—Dr. Charles A. Fama, who was recently appointed to the medical board of the city's retirement system on the recommendation of Mayor F. H. La Guardia, was found guilty today of religious bigotry and declared unfit to hold public office by the investigating committee of the board of aldermen.

The board of aldermen adopted the report and forwarded to the mayor and the board of estimates the findings of the committee, with a request that they act upon it in accordance with the dictates of their consciences.

"I will not resign," Dr. Fama said when informed of the committee's findings. "I believe in free speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of association. If that is bigotry then I am a bigot. That is all I have to say."

The report presented to the board of aldermen today is the result of a four hours' hearing, at which Dr. Fama testified concerning his oft quoted anti-Catholic and anti-Fascist utterances.

ROOSEVELT GIVEN GREATEST POWER IN U. S. HISTORY

this power may be used to censor the radio and press.

The tarif act, authorizing the President to raise or lower tarifs by as much as 50 per cent.

The stock exchange bill, which puts the financial markets of the nation under the thumb of a presidentially controled new commission.

The commodity exchange bill, giving the same authority to control grain and commodity exchanges.

The silver bill, under which the President may revamp at any time the monetary bases of the American currency.

The one billion dollar housing bill, which puts the federal government in the mortgage loan business.

The labor disputes bill, giving a presidential board power to enter industrial plants and conduct elections for selections of labor representatives.

The loans to industries bill, authorizing the treasury and the RFC to loan millions of dollars to private corporations on a long term basis.

Give Him Free Purse.

Implementing the New Deal still farther, congress has given Mr. Roosevelt the free spending of billions of dollars for relief, for pay rolls for the greatest burocracy set up by a peace time administration, for payments to farmers, for subsistence homesteads, public works, and so on.

Hundreds of millions are being given to American farmers under the AAA Secretary Wallace, and the charge has been made that in part at least the checks are flooding those areas which have shown a waning affection for the New Deal policies.

But with all the great powers given the President, he is far from through. Toward the end of the present session, when the antics of the Roosevelt brain trust had awakened the people unto knowledge of the radical motives of the administration, it was found necessary to call a halt to dictatorial legislation.

However, it is learned that at the next session, when the New Dealers hope to have an equally strong hand over the congress elected in November, the President expects to present legislation of even more far reaching social significance.

JOHNSON FACES NRA CLERKS' STRIKE FOR FIRING THEIR CHIEF

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA taskmaster for industry, today had a tempest in a teapot on his hands because yesterday he fired the head of a union which had been formed among NRA workers.

Breathing threats and defiance, the dimunitive union today set out to do battle with their famous boss. In open warfare with him, the union, composed mostly of militant young members of the clerical and stenographic stafs in the NRA, has called a protest massmeeting for tomorrow night.

"The president of your union, John Donovan, has been discharged from the NRA," read the opening sentence of the union's rallying cry to its members. The statement went on to charge that Donovan was fired by Johnson because he led a delegation which protested to Johnson against the discharge of a union member. Johnson has insisted that Donovan was fired for inefficiency.

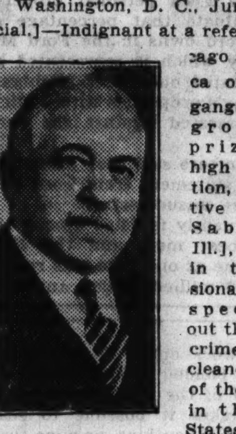
Johnson declared that he has invited the head of the Federal Employés union to organize the employés of the NRA as much as he wants to. Union officials claim the charges offered against Donovan are all old and that they merely screen a slap at the union.

SABATH ASSERTS CHICAGO'S CRIME RECORD IS CLEAN

Shows Other Big Cities Have More Murders.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Indignant at a reference to Chicago as "the Mecca of crime—the gangsters' playground" in a prize-winning high school oration, Representative Adolph J. Sabath [Dem., Ill.], has inserted in the congressional record a speech pointing out that Chicago's crime record is cleaner than most of the large cities in the United States.



CONGRESSMAN A. J. SABATH. [U. & U. Photo.]

The high school oration was introduced in the congressional record by a Pennsylvania congressman and Representative Sabath was quick to fly to the defense of his city. He pointed out that most of the severe criticism directed against Chicago was stimulated by a corrupt administration under a former Republican mayor and that conditions have improved steadily since then.

Chicago 27th on List.

"The implication in the oration was that Chicago has a larger per capita percentage of crime, including murder, than other cities," he said. "This absolutely is not the fact. Twenty-six of the largest cities in the United States have a much larger number of murders yearly per 100,000 population than Chicago. The city that has the largest number of murders has a ratio of 43.10. Twenty-seventh in the list is Chicago with a ratio of 9.31 per cent.

"Even under the indefensible administration of a former Republican mayor Chicago was not near the top of the list. Under succeeding administrations the crime situation has been steadily improving.

"Under Mayor Edward J. Kelly and with the coöperation of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, the judges, and every branch of the present administration, hoodlums and hoodlumism are being cut out of the Chicago picture. The morale in the police department is high."

Winning Financial Fight.

Chicago is slowly but surely waging and winning her fight against financial difficulties, Representative Sabath declared. He named the following points as indications of how Chicago is solving this problem.

FIRST—Pay rolls one year ago were approximately 5 months behind. Today they are approximately a month and a half behind.

SECOND—The tax lexy for city purposes in 1934 was reduced from 1930 by over $30,581,000, or approximately 41 per cent.

THIRD—Corporate vouchers unpaid on June 1, 1933, wer approximately $9,000,000. On June 1, 1934, the amount unpaid is approximately the same figure, showing that in addition to catching up on the pay roll by three and one-half months, one year's expense, exclusive of pay rolls, has been paid off.

FOURTH—Total expenditures for the year 1930 were $58,768,000, and in the year ending Dec. 1, 1933, were $44,602,000, a reduction of over $14,000,000.

JANE ADDAMS IS CONVALESCING AT A DOCTOR'S HOME

Hadlyme, Conn., June 19.—(AP)—Jane Addams, founder of Hull house in Chicago, is convalescing from a long illness at the summer home of Dr. Alice Hamilton of the Harvard Medical school, it was disclosed today.

Miss Addams probably will be at Dr. Hamilton's home at Hadlyme ferry, town of Old Lyme, all summer, it was said.

WIFE DIVORCED; GETS INVENTION AS HER ALIMONY

Mrs Gladys M. Raber, 5200 Sheridan road, was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Walter J. LaBuy, from Dr. Walter Raber, dentist and inventor. She charged cruelty.

When the question of alimony came up Attorney Norman Becker, representing Mrs. Raber, said:

"Your honor, my client will waive alimony—except for $10 a week for the support of the two children—in return for the automatic photographing device which Dr. Raber invented and patented. She intends to set it up at the World's Fair, and make her money that way.

Attorney Joseph Bailey, representing Dr. Raber, said this seemed reasonable to him. Judge LaBuy entered the decree. The two children are June, 4 years old, and Ronald, 1.

HIGHWAY POLICE SUE NASH OVER $80,000 BACK PAY

A petition for a writ of mandamus to compel County Treasurer Thomas D. Nash and County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer to pay over $80,000 in salaries due for the last five months of 1933 was filed in the Circuit court yesterday on behalf of 65 county highway policemen.

Appropriation for that time was not made in the 1933 budget, since it had been planned to abolish the force. The abolition never went through, however, and the police continued to work without pay. In the spring of 1934 a special appropriation was made for the back salaries.

However, an opinion by the state's attorney held the appropriation to be illegal, and the treasurer and clerk consequently refused to sign and issue the checks.

DEMAND RETAIL OPTICAL CODE BE WITHDRAWN

Monopoly Is Charged in Brief to Johnson.

A charge that the New Dealers and the NRA retail optical code is being used as a cloak for an attempt by two manufacturers and wholesalers of optical merchandise to gouge the public and stifle honest competition was made yesterday by a large group of State street stores, merchants of a dozen other cities of the east and middle west, and by the Consumers' league.

The allegations were contained in briefs filed with Gen. Hugh Johnson in Washington in which the protestants ask for the immediate revocation of the code, which has been approved and signed by President Roosevelt. Especially do the opponents of the code ask for the revocation of a paragraph in the regulating document which prohibits advertising of spectacles or prices pertaining thereto.

Monopoly Is Charge.

In the 52 page brief in which both facts and law presenting the case of the code opponents are related, the manufacturer and wholesaler whose employés make and distribute 75 per cent of the optical goods used in the United States are accused of joining in a "monopolistic scheme to misuse the NRA to extend its monopoly over the retail optical business."

It is explained the opponents to the code regulations, although numerically few, actually transact a majority of the optical business done annually. Because of the large quantity of business and their ability to purchase lenses and spectacle frames in large numbers, the brief states, they are able to keep prices low although giving the same qualing of service to purchasers.

The "upper floor" optometrist, the brief asserts, must charge high prices because he does but a small amount of business and must buy his supplies in small quantities at high prices. Thus, it is said, the upper floor optometrist charges from $16 to $25 for the same pair of glasses which the larger or retail optometrist can sell at an average price of $9.

Defend Use of Advertising.

Through the use of advertising in which definite prices are set for glasses and mention of free examination by a licensed optometrist is made, the retail stores have built up their businesses. They charge that the NRA has no right to interfere with honest advertising of their goods.

The protestors have asked for a rehearing before the optical code authority to present more detailed objections to the code.

UTILITY CODE, SHIPPING, TOO, ARE REJECTED

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Both the shipping and electric utility codes have been returned—unapproved—to NRA by the White House.

Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, said today the codes came back with comment attached from other government departments.

"I'm going to try to work out the difficulties, but I've been so busy I haven't even opened the cover yet," Johnson said.

"I don't think the utilities code is so terribly necessary, but I do think the shipping code is very necessary.

"I regard it as of an emergency nature. It might help in some of these labor troubles somewhat."

FIVE AUTO RING SUSPECTS HELD IN JOLIET RAID

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS
Automobiles stolen, 24; recovered, 41; stripped, 3 [from police records for 24 hours ending at midnight Monday].

Five members of a Chicago automobile theft ring which is said to have handled an average of two stolen cars a day were arrested last night by the Joliet police. Four stolen cars, two of them taken Monday night, were recovered in an abandoned garage on the southern outskirts of the city.

Police, acting upon the information of neighbors, who reported mysterious nightly activity in the garage, caught three of the men as they were dismantling the cars. They were two mechanics, George Williams, 29, 1603 South Wabash avenue, and Homer Brokaw, 42, 1827 South Wabash avenue, and the alleged leader of the gang, Albert Wagner, 31, 1546 South Kildare avenue.

Later, while officers were removing the cars to the police station, two other men drove up in a truck loaded with spare auto parts. Arrested, they gave their names as Maurice Shapiro, 30, 3518 Grenshaw street, and Raymond Wire, 25, 113 West Harrison street.

The five are being held in Joliet and will be turned over to the Chicago police today.

U.S. Appeals Court Upholds Somberg's 5 Year Sentence

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed the sentence of five years imprisonment imposed on Samuel J. Somberg by Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward in June, 1933. Somberg, formerly president of the Motor Parts corporation, 1617 South Michigan avenue, was convicted of concealing $93,000 of the concern's assets in bankruptcy proceedings. The sentence was said to be the most severe ever imposed in the federal court here on a similar charge.

COMPANY LOSING NRA EAGLE FILES BANKRUPTCY BILL

National Lock Co. Seeking Mortgage Extension.

Rockford, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy, under section 77 of the new corporate reorganization act, was filed in the federal District court at Freeport today by the National Lock company, whose Blue Eagle was ordered removed by Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson last May 24.

The petition lists assets of $1,005,113 and liabilities of $3,463,675, but Frank G. Hogland, president of the company, said the liability figure includes outstanding stock.

"The only liability is the funded indebtedness of $1,200,000," Mr. Hogland said. "We are taking this step in full accord with the trustee under the mortgage, the Mississippi Valley Trust company of St. Louis and with the bondholders' protective committee. Under the new law consent of only two-thirds of the creditors is required, while 90 per cent of the bondholders have come in.

"This move will bring the other 10 per cent into the fold and it will enable us to work out a 10 year extension on the bonded indebtedness."

Section 77 of the bankruptcy act as amended makes it possible to scale down bonded obligations, or wipe them out entirely to reorganize insolvent firms, with the creditors receiving stock in the new company, but Mr. Hogland said no such plan was contemplated. The extension on the mortgage is all that is being asked, he said.

FORD'S PERSONALTY IS VALUED AT 8 MILLION BY COUNTY TAX BOARD

Detroit, Mich., June 19.—(AP)—The Wayne county board of tax review—admitting it is largely guessing like most other persons—has valued Henry Ford's personal property at 8 million dollars, an increase of 2 millions over the valuation fixed by the city assessor of the motor magnate's home town, Dearborn.

The board members explained their principal task in connection with appraising the Ford personal property was to evaluate that percentage of the stock Ford owns in the Ford Motor company which is represented by property located outside of Michigan. The company's properties within Michigan are assessed against the company itself.

Board members said they attempted to obtain a statement from Ford himself but were unsuccessful.

Ford frequently is listed among the world's richest men, and the Ford family income at one time was reported to be 100 million dollars annually.

GROCERS GIVEN WORD SPANKING FOR BOOING NRA

Hear Johnson Called One of Nation's Greatest.

Defending the NRA, Charles Janssen of St. Paul, Minn., executive chairman of their code authority, yesterday took 500 grocers to task for booing Gen. Hugh S. Johnson on Monday during a session of the National Association of Retail Grocers convention at the Hotel Sherman.

"The very welfare of our nation is in the hands of its citizenship, in the hands of such bodies as this," Mr. Janssen declared, "and if we boo the constructive efforts of men like President Roosevelt and Gen. Johnson, who can we call upon to follow?"

The code chairman, who had been speaking with assurance up to this point, banged his fist upon the rostrum in the Grand ball room. A full glass of ice water bounced into the lap of a delegate from Florida.

Should be Sorry.

After his glass was refilled, Mr. Janssen went on to tell the delegates that when they come to realize that Gen. Johnson's failure to come to the convention was due to his work, they will be sorry they acted as they did.

No one but the President himself is "better fitted to direct the destinies of this nation than Gen. Johnson," said the code chairman. The President, who was not booed at any time despite Mr. Janssen's linking him with the National Recovery administrator, last night was in receipt of a telegram in which the grocers asked him to tell citizens of the United States to pay up their grocery bills, when he delivers his next radio address.

Puzzled Over Code.

There was some discussion of code puzzles, but after a time it was decided that the practice of having questions asked from the floor was not satisfactory. The hajor portion of this piece of convention business was therefore put off until today, when selected questions will be read from the rostrum.

The delegates, however, did raise the question of whether a retailer who buys direct from a producer must sell at a minimum of cost plus 8 per cent, or 6 per cent. Two per cent is the code minimum the wholesaler must charge the retailer over his cost. A long distance telephone call to Administrator A. Reilly of the grocers' code at Washington brought the answer "8 per cent."

With a rising vote, the grocers decided the retail meat dealers should be brought under the present retail grocers' code, with a few amendments and proper representation. A part of the meat dealers have been working toward a code of their own.

At the Congress hotel, members of the National-American Wholesale Grocers association discussed the proposed revision of the pure food and drugs act. Francis L. Whitmarsh, chairman of the legislative committee, said the body had aided in blocking passage of the so-called Tugwell bill, a radical substitute for the present food and drugs act, but warned the same proposals will be made again in 1935.

Early in the afternoon the grocers began flocking to the World's Fair where it was Grocers' day. The main event was a program of entertainment at the Swift bridge, running from 4:30 o'clock through 8 o'clock. Features from nearly every concession were presented, including entertainers from the Swiss, Belgian, Old English, Mexican, Colonial, Midget, Italian and Spanish villages, and the Streets of Paris.

FINED ON BEATING CHARGE.

A fine of $1 was assessed by Judge Francis Borrelli yesterday against John Bastick, café manager of 2001 Indiana avenue, who was charged with beating a World's Fair policeman on June 2.

LAWYERS GRADE 28 CANDIDATES FOR JUDICIARY

Ratings Made Public by Bar Association.

BY PARKE BROWN.

In its effort to aid in the selection of the best available timber for the bench the Chicago Bar association yesterday resorted to a new method.

It made public the "grade marks" given by members of the association upon the specific qualifications of the nominees for judicial office in the election of Nov. 6. The "grades" were established by answers to questionnaires sent to the rank and file of the bar association which established definite scores for all the nominees.

Made Public for First Time.

The questionnaire method has been employed in previous elections, but never before have the results been announced. It is understood they are made public in this instance to show that the conclusions of the committee on candidates sent out in connection with the ballots for the bar primary are based on the personal opinions of hundreds of lawyers and not upon the views of a relatively small committee.

As an example of how the scoring method works out, it was noted that Harry C. Kinne, Republican nominee for probate judge, received the highest total recorded—97 out of a possible 100 points—in comparison to the 83 cast for Judge John F. O'Connell, the incumbent Democrat. Similarly Samuel Heller, Republican, scored 94 to the 78 recorded for County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, the Democrat, against whom he is running.

There were two sets of questionnaires sent out. The first, sent out last January, covered sitting judges whose terms expire. The second, sent out in February, concerned new candidates not now on the bench. The questions in each case were different, the former set devoting particular attention to the bench records of sitting judges.

2,900 Replies Received.

Approximately 1,400 lawyers responded to the questionnaire on the sitting judges and 1,500 replied to the second questionnaire on the new candidates. The judges were graded on points on four of the eight queries submitted in the first questionnaire and the new candidates were graded on points in four of the six queries in the second. How the points were apportioned is indicated in the questionnaire lists below. The first list, applying to sitting judges, follows:

1. Does he observe court hours?
2. Is he intelligent in the dispatch of business?
3. Is he patient and courteous [10 points]?
4. Is he attentive and fair minded?
5. Does he possess legal ability [30 points]?
6. Have you confidence in his integrity [30 points]?
7. Do you regard him as an able judge [30 points]?
8. Should he be renominated?

The second list, concerning new candidates, follows:

1. Have you had personal contact with him professionally or socially?
2. Does he possess legal ability [30 points]?
3. Has he a judicial temperament [10 points]?
4. Is his reputation at the bar good?
5. Has he the capacity to be a good judge [30 points]?
6. Has he the integrity to be a good judge [30 points]?

Municipal Judges Graded.

In addition to the two places in county courts already mentioned there are twelve seats on the Municipal bench to be filled. The scores of the nominees on two tickets for these twelve places were as follows:

REPUBLICAN.		DEMOCRATIC.
T. F. Ehler	95	F. M. Padden	92
Howard Hayes	94	H. P. O'Connell	91
Emmet Byrne	90	Le Roy Hackett	89
J. F. Haas	89	G. B. Weiss	87
A. I. Bernstein	80	J. M. Braude	82
W. E. Helander	79	J. B. Hermes	75
H. C. Patterson	75	J. J. Drucker	74
L. H. Gladstone	72	Stephen Adamowski	68
F. W. Elliott	67	G. E. Gorman	68
W. H. Haynes	66	M. D. Hartigan	67
H. M. Sharpe	57	E. L. McGarry	66
A. O. Erickson	37	Francis Borrelli	49

The report also contained the usual information concerning candidates which goes out with the primary ballots. In condensed form the verdicts of the asociation in reference to the candidates were as follows:

COUNTY JUDGE.

HELLER—Prompt, diligent, courageous; possessed of high ideals; qualified.

JARECKI—Demonstrated honesty, courage, and a desire to render public service; qualified.

HERMES—Good reputation for honesty, integrity and ability; fairly qualified.

McGARRY—Has had varied experience as trial lawyer but we do not regard him as qualified.

O'CONNELL—In three years on bench has rendered capable and efficient service; possesses judicial temperament; well qualified.

PADDEN—During nine years of service has demonstrated fitness and received deserved commendation of bar; exceptionally well qualified.

PATTERSON—Painstaking, diligent, honest and reliable; fairly qualified.

SHARPE—Good reputation for honesty and integrity; committee doubts his capacity and is obliged to find him not qualified.

WEISS—Honest and trustworthy; service in Probate court has demonstrated poise, industry, judicial temperament, capacity and conscientiousness; qualified.

The deadline for ballots for the bar primary is four o'clock next Monday afternoon. The results will be announced as soon as they are known.

CITY'S JUDGES LOSE ROUND IN PAY CUT FIGHT

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday reversed the ruling of the Cook county Superior court which restrained city officials from making any deductions in salaries of the chief justice of the Municipal court and his 36 associate judges for 1932 and 1933.

The suit, brought by Judge John H. Lyle in behalf of himself and the other judges, was based on the contention that the law gives the Municipal court authority to fix the number and salaries of court employés. The suit also pointed to the statute which provides that the salary of an elected official may not be reduced during his term. These arguments were upheld in the Superior court and the case was appealed for the city by First Assistant Corporation Counsel Leon Hornstein.

The appeal was based on the argument that the relief of the judges lay in a lawsuit for the full pay rather than in a suit in a court of equity. A reduction of 48 days' pay had been made in 1932, and a cut of 78 days' pay ordered for 1933. The total saving to the city in the two reductions approximated $125,000.

GIRL, 14, FORCES FATHER TO ADMIT KILLING HIS WIFE

Tells Police of Ride with Mother's Body.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Anton Arujo, assault to murder, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge Walter P. Steffen.
Frank Blagich, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Joseph Bold, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Grover C. Niemeyer.
George Rogalski, kidnaping, sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Francis B. Allegretti.

Samuel Miller, 41 years old, a machinist living at 39th street and Sterling road, Downers Grove, confessed to the Woodlawn police yesterday that he fatally assaulted his wife, Sylvia, 39 years old, with a rolling pin during a quarrel in their home Sunday evening. He said he put the dying woman in his automobile, drove to Chicago, and abandoned her in an alley in the rear of 7037 Vernon avenue, where she died.

Her body was found early Monday morning wrapped in an automobile robe and remained unidentified until a neighbor, Joseph Haggerty, noticing her absence and reading of the findin gof her body, notified the police.

Child Forces Confession.

Miller, when arrested by Deputy Sherif Arthur Bennett of Du Page county, denied knowing anything of the crime, but later confessed when his 14 year old daughter, Beatrice, told the authorities of the quarrel and how she accompanied her father with her two sisters, Lena, 4 years old, and Clara, 2 years old, on the automobile trip when her mother, then unconscious, was placed in the alley. She said that her father warned her not to tell any one of the deed.

In his confession to Capt. Daniel A. Lynch of the Woodlawn station yesterday Miller said he did not intend to kill his wife and when he left her in the alley he thought she would recover and return home later.

"I wanted to teach her a good lesson because she had been nagging at me for years," he said. "I drove her far away from home in the belief that when she returned she would cease quarreling."

Takes Children Along.

He said he earned $70 a week as a machinist, but for the last few years he has been on the relief rolls. He said Sunday night his wife began the quarrel and struck him with a rolling pin. He took the rolling pin from her and hit her over the head with it, he declared. He said he believed that he did not strike her hard enough to cause her death. An autopsy disclosed that her skull had been fractured.

He then told of placing her in the automobile and, taking his three children along with him, drove to the south side.

"She was alive when I placed her in the alley because she moved as I wrapped the automobile robe around her," he told Capt. Lynch.

Because she was alive when abandoned in the alley, Assistant State's Attorney John Boyle announced that Miller would be prosecuted in this county instead of Du Page county, in which Downers Grove is located. Miller had been married seventeen years and has four children. A son, Harold, 16 years old, does not live at home.

Police Guard Chain Store Bakery as Workers Strike

Six policemen of the Gresham station last night were guarding the bakery of the Kroger-Consumers stores at 8201 Vincennes avenue after union bakers in the plant went on strike. The walkout, according to Donald L. Hillman, was 98 per cent effective and involved about 100 men. He said that the union demanded recognition and $35 a week of 35 hours for skilled workers. Company officials declined to comment on the strike. They were continuing operations last night.

YOUNG ROGALSKI GUILTY; GETS TEN YEARS IN PRISON

Jury Reaches Verdict in an Hour.

prove this fact on Monday by calling Dorette's brother, Kenneth, 4 years old, to the witness stand. Judge Allegretti ruled, however, that the boy was not competent as a witness because he did not understand the meaning of an oath.

Yesterday Assistant State's Attorney Napoli contended the state had proved concealment and imprisonment by Rogalski's own confession to the police, which was related from the witness stand by Capt. Charles Essig and Policeman Edward Culleeney of the Shakespeare avenue station.

Capt. Essig's Testimony.

Capt. Essig testified that young Rogalski was reluctant at first to confess because of a fear of being sent back to the juvenile home from which he had been paroled only a month before for molesting another little girl. When assured he would not be sent back he confessed, the captain said.

In the confession Rogalski admitted that he lured Dorette away on the promise of finding her a nickel. He confessed stripping off her clothing in the ice house and then running away because he feared someone would hear him.

"I asked him why he did it," Capt. Essig testified. "He said: 'I don't know; I just wanted to look at her.'"

Three Boys on Stand.

The other prosecution witnesses yesterday were three boys who found Dorette in the ice house. The child died of exposure and hunger a few hours later in St. Elizabeth's hospital.

After the boys' testimony the prosecution rested its case. The defense waived witnesses and closing arguments began.

Judge Allegretti started to adjourn court at 4:30 p. m., the usual time, but the jurors stood up in their box and virtually demanded that the trial be finished. The judge then directed that the session continue and the case was given to the jury at 5 o'clock.

60-MILE WIND AND RAIN SWEEP S. DAKOTA AREA

Mitchell, S. D., June 19.—(AP)—A severe windstorm which struck Mitchell tonight demolished the municipal airport hangar in which were two airplanes, blew down the towers of radio station KGDY, and caused considerable damage in the surrounding vicinity.

The wind, which lasted for nearly an hour, reached a velocity of nearly 60 miles an hour.

The airport hangar, a large frame building, was flattened and the planes destroyed.

Reports from Lake Mitchell, a summer resort near here, indicated six cottages were destroyed, while a number of farm buildings also were reported blown over.

At Aberdeen, S. D., there were rain and hail, accompanied by a 55 mile an hour wind. Approximately .60 of an inch rain fell.

MYSTERY GROWS AROUND SLAYING OF RICH DENTIST

Torture Theory Meets Opposition.

Eldorado, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Why Dr. Homer L. Meyers of Eldorado was slain, what caused burnlike marks on his face, why money was left in his billfold, yet his office was ransacked, and where Lee Armstrong, alias Harold St. Clair, obtained money with which he purchased a bus ticket to Chicago for his woman accomplice were a few of the angles to the slaying of the dentist that puzzled local authorities today.

Meyers was found dead Monday morning near a dilapidated and abandoned farmhouse six miles southeast of Eldorado with two bullet wounds in the body. He had taken Armstrong to the farm when Armstrong had expressed his intentions of buying farm land.

Few new developments were unwound today. Parties disagreed as to whether the dentist was tortured before he was killed. The undertaker in charge believed nitric acid had been poured on the face, while other authorities and physicians are of the opinion that parts of the face were eaten by ants while the body lay for several hours face downward in the weeds.

Mrs. Evelyn Anderson, 30, Armstrong's woman accomplice, remains in the Saline county jail, where she told her story to reporters. She is not nearly so calm now. When asked what she intended to do when released from jail she said she intended to commit suicide.

Tells of Trips with Armstrong.

Mrs. Anderson told of being the wife of Don Anderson in Texas and that she had known Armstrong about two months when she left with him early this month in search of adventure. She said that Armstrong told her he was a secret service agent and that he told her he would give her $200 if she would accompany him to Chicago and work with him on a special case. The woman said they parted at Terre Haute, Ind., he going to Urbana, O., and she going to Chicago. When she arrived in Chicago she put her automobile in storage and waited for her companion. When Armstrong arrived in Chicago they left for southern Illinois to see a fellow called "Sid" at Equality, she said.

DEGREE NO OPEN SESAME, HARVARD ORATOR ASSERTS

Cambridge, Mass., June 19.—(AP)—Any notion Harvard seniors may have entertained that their diplomas would carry them as a matter of course to social and financial success was challenged today by Asa E. Phillips Jr. of Washington, senior orator.

"When we entered Harvard college," Phillips reminded his classmates, "a degree was commonly believed to be the key to social and financial success, and it was assumed as a matter of course that every rational young man wished above all to be 'successful.'

"This is no longer true. We know today that we are going out into a world that does not want us, a world already overcrowded and overproducing. Merely to have a degree is no guarantee of economic independence, but rather, as we are dimly beginning to recognize, carries a heavy intellectual and moral responsibility to society.

"It is our task to rebuild and reconstruct, guided by courage and high idealism."

CHILD'S PLAGIARISM SUIT IS THROWN OUT OF COURT BY JUDGE

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—Federal Judge John M. Woolsey continued today to make legal history in the literary world. With the remark "It gave me a pain" he dismissed Richard Washburn Child's one million dollar plagiarism suit against James Hagan, playwright, and the Paramount interests on the basis of the film "One Sunday Afternoon."

The attorney for Mr. Child, who was ambassador to Italy under President Harding, sought to withdraw the suit today. Mr. Child had sought damages on the ground that the film play had been taken from his novel, "The Avenger," which had run serially in a magazine.

Harry Weinberger, attorney for Mr. Hagan, protested and asked dismissal of the suit.

"I studied the matter carefully," Judge Woolsey interrupted, "and am satisfied that there was no plagiarism. It gave me a pain."

LOBBYING LEADS TO OUSTER OF LONG'S BROTHER

New Orleans, La., June 19.—[Special.]—Earl Long, who recently "made up" with his brother, Senator Huey P. Long, was ordered off the floor of the Louisiana house of representatives today by Speaker Allen J. Ellender, acting on the complaint of Representative Peter Casse.

"Mr. Speaker," shouted Mr. Casse, "I notice Earl Long going among the members of this house lobbying. He should be compelled to get behind barriers and stay. He has no right on the floor."

"You'll get off the floor," Speaker Ellender warned Long, and he went.

STRUCK BY CHAIN, MAY DIE.

Coldwater, Mich., June 19.—[Special.]—John Dieterman, Wolverine Portland cement plant superintendent at Quincy, near here, may die as a result of being struck by a chain attached to a drag line scraper behind which he was working.

cuts time cuts cost

Santa Fe to California

RAIL TRAVEL—the most dependable, comfortable, and safest western transportation—has reached a new peak in service, at a new low in cost.

Santa Fe offers the fastest schedules in its history. AIR-CONDITIONED cars—including all Fred Harvey dining cars—are slipping rapidly into place on every Santa Fe limited. Yet Santa Fe has deeply cut fares; reduced sleeping car cost; lowered dining car prices.

You can now add to a California journey, via Santa Fe, an Indian-detour in New Mexico; or a stopover at Grand Canyon and still spend less than you would have last year for the bare round trip.

AMERICA'S COOLEST SUMMER CITY

TEMPERATURE YESTERDAY: 61°

A FLEET CAR speeds you up Nob Hill . . . past Chinatown, to the many-towered crest above the Bay. Then you drive along the stately ridge of Russian Hill, along Pacific Heights . . . above the gay Yacht Harbor and the Golden Gate. Through the Presidio and out around Land's End . . . to where the long Pacific combers roll up on the Beach.

Fishermen's Wharf

Downtown again, in San Francisco's clear, cool dusk you may make your way to the Fishermen's Wharf . . . and there above the tiny boats all painted blue, taste fresh-caught seafood straight from the steaming cauldrons on the dock . . . Tomorrow you'll watch the big new bridges building . . . explore Chinatown . . . and the shops around Union Square. Next day, Mission Dolores and Sutro Heights . . . Golden Gate Park and the Embarcadero . . . Each day something new.

Old Mining Town

Here is every summer sport there is, almost. And world-registered hotels and celebrated restaurants and cabarets. Moreover, broad highways and smooth steel rails lead through gorgeous valleys to a score of storied places you will want to see. The mother lode country that the fabled Forty-Niners found. Yosemite National Park and high Lake Tahoe. Feather River and Russian River. Del Monte and the early-Spanish Monterey Bay places. Groves of giant Redwoods.

Lincoln Park

It is a varied, exciting playland that San Francisco centers . . . and vacation costs are really low. Moreover, the cost of getting here is now drastically reduced. Railroad fares are lowest in many years, Pullman fares cut one-third! From Chicago, with lower berth both ways, $117.50 is the roundtrip fare, with stopovers anywhere. There are low fares too on planes. Or come by motor car, over excellent highways.

Bowman accepts milk only from healthy, well-kept herds

Not just any cow can help produce Bowman's Milk. She must be sleek and healthy and well-fed.

Her pastures must be lush; her barn must be light and airy and kept in good order.

And she must have an owner who will give her special care, even to the point of cleaning her before each milking.

Every Bowman herd is carefully selected. Of 18,000 dairy farms in the territory which supplies milk to Chicago, Bowman has chosen the 4637 that entirely meet its requirements.

Bowman's special inspectors constantly make the rounds of these model dairy farms. They see to it that this milk is right at the source.

This selection and supervision of herds is but one example of the extra care used in the production of the milk that Bowman delivers to your door.

PIRATES FLEE TO SWAMP WITH SIX CAPTIVE BRITONS

British Steamer Looted in Chinese Waters.

CHEFOO, China, June 19.—(AP)—The inaccessible swamplands of the Yellow river delta tonight blocked efforts to rescue six Britons and one Japanese kidnaped by a gang of pirates from the British steamer Shuntien.

British authorities were considering sending airplanes from the aircraft carrier Eagle at Weinhaiwei in search of the sea wolves if Chinese authorities permit.

The U. S. S. Pope and the mine-layer Bittern, coöperating with British destroyers in scouring China's pirate-infested waters, are not able to navigate the swamplands, accessible only to small boats.

19 Chinese Taken.

The ill-starred vessel, stripped of its valuables, arrived in Chefoo this afternoon. One officer of the craft was shot and gravely wounded in resisting the pirate desperadoes who, after boarding the ship disguised as passengers, stormed the vessel Sunday night off the Yellow river and held her passengers at pistol point for 24 hours.

The captain of the steamer said the raiders fled in junks after abandoning the Shuntien, retreating with their 26 prisoners to the swampy hinterland.

These prisoners included six Britons—two of them ship's officers—and a Japanese named Yamamoto, reported to be an army officer. The others were Chinese. The foreigners will be held for ransom.

Pirates Able Seamen.

The Shuntien's captain said the pirates were able seamen and navigated the ship themselves while officers were held prisoners in cabins and most of the passengers cowered in terror. Taking their time, the raiders looted the vessel in a thoroughgoing fashion, menacing with death any one who showed resistance. Plans to rob the ship had been carefully laid.

A number of the pirates boarded the vessel as passengers at Tientsin. When the Shuntien was at sea, en route to Shanghai, the brigands at a given signal rapidly took over the vessel under cover of darkness.

The British government, it is understood, feels that the British minister to China and British naval officials on the ground will negotiate for the release of the six Britons and handle the matter with promptitude and as they see fit.

PURSE SNATCHER SENT TO JAIL. William Helwick, 19 years old, of Houston, Tex., was sentenced to eight months in the county jail by Judge Lambert K. Hayes yesterday, after being found guilty of snatching the purse of Miss Helen Tracas, 25 years old, cashier in a restaurant at 200 West Madison street.

FOREST BOARD OUSTS MULAC IN MONEY TANGLE

Charges Inefficiency in Revealing Action.

Rudolph Mulac Jr., controler for the forest preserve district, was dismissed from that post a month ago for alleged "inefficiency" in the handling of the district's funds, it was revealed yesterday at a meeting of the forest preserve board.

This came to light when Lee J. Howard, Cook county public auditor, made a report on his examination of the books and records kept by Mulac.

According to Howard's report Mulac failed to distribute tax collections properly to the various funds of the district. Emmett Whealan, president of the county board and also president of the forest preserve district, said Mulac had been discharged because his work was unsatisfactory.

"Unable to Meet Queries."

"When we first started work on the forest preserve budget," he said, "Mulac was unable to furnish us certain information as to financial matters and to answer other questions we put to him."

Mulac was named controler some years ago by the late Anton J. Cermak, then president of the county board.

He has been succeeded as auditor by John W. Koch, who has been employed in the county auditor's office.

Koch and Howard, it was reported, have straightened out the tangle which, it was charged by the board members, Mulac left in the financial records.

Faces $885,000 Deficit.

It was also revealed at the board meeting that the forest preserve faces a deficit of $885,000 in the district extension fund, which is supposed to be used solely for the purchase of real estate.

For the last few years moneys have been taken from this fund for payment of salaries and other obligations and replaced by tax warants.

The board passed a resolution calling for all tax collections for 1932 and previous years to be turned over to this fund.

DISPUTED LETICIA DISTRICT HANDED TO COLOMBIA

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 19.—(AP)—Leticia, the tiny jungle village whose sovereignty nearly caused war between Colombia and Peru, today was handed back to Colombian authorities.

For the last year Leticia and its surrounding territory have been administered by a league of nations commission. Today's action followed the agreement reached at Rio de Janeiro between representatives of Peru and Colombia.

The ceremony, as announced here, was at 10:30 a. m. and consisted of an exchange of brief speeches between Gen. Ignacio Moreno of Colombia, intendant of the Amazon territory, and Commissioner Giraldez of Spain for the league of nations, followed by the signing of the act of delivery.

6 ESCAPE DEVIL'S ISLAND; SAIL 500 MILES TO SAFETY

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, June 19.—(AP)—Weak and emaciated from the rigors of a long voyage under the tropical sun, six men stepped ashore here today from a tiny open boat, fugitives from the French penal colony of Devil's island. They were hungry and thirsty, almost exhausted and their bodies were burned almost black from seven days' exposure on the open sea.

The six—five Frenchmen and a Spaniard—planned to push on to the West Indian island of Trinidad, another sea voyage of [illegible] miles. First they will have to repair their boat, which sprung a leak on the 500 mile voyage from French Guiana and kept them bailing 24 hours a day.

The fugitives were given medical attention and police forgot the niceties of the law temporarily to give the men shelter and food for the coming journey, but they warned them not to stay here long. Otherwise they would be deported to France as "undesirables."

Dying Woman Acts as Hostess at Son's Party

South Bend, Ind., June 19.—[Special.]—Although she knew that death was only a matter of a few more hours, Mrs. James A. Duggan, prominent South Bend woman, smiled and gayly acted as hostess at her seven year old son's birthday party here two days ago. Today she was dead, victim of a lingering illness.

"Amazing—the way she improved" relates DR. SAMUEL MÉLAMET, noted French internal specialist!

This case is good news for every single person in this condition!

PERHAPS YOU—like Dr. Mélamet's patient—have many things wrong with you, but don't know why!

You suffer from indigestion—yet don't realize it might merely be that your gastric juices are flowing too slowly (so simple to correct).

You feel all tired out. Maybe you're like Miss P—— who, Dr. Mélamet says, "was fatigued because her system was slowly poisoning itself."

Your eyes are heavy—you look wretched. The chances are that your system is clogged with waste.

Perhaps all you need is the same simple thing Dr. Mélamet advised for Miss P——:

"The only prescription I gave her was Yeast," reports Dr. Mélamet. "In a short time her strength and appetite returned. Once again, the girl was full of vigor and the joy of living."

Yeast yields all these benefits to health because it does three very important things for you.

"Yeast," says Dr. Mélamet, "aids digestion by increasing the flow of gastric juices. It stimulates the tired intestinal muscles, softens hard waste matter."

Eat 3 Cakes a Day

Won't you take advantage of Dr. Mélamet's advice? Just eat 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast every day... for at least 30 days. No food is richer in the group of vitamins B, D and G that we all need for good health. Buy it at grocers, restaurants, soda fountains.

Won't you get some right now... and improve your digestion, elimination, "pep," appearance? Order 9 cakes, a 3-day supply, right now!

Copyright, 1934, Standard Brands Incorporated

Warning! When you buy yeast be sure you ask for FLEISCHMANN'S, because—

1. It's the only yeast that contains three important vitamins—B, D, G.
2. It's the yeast famous doctors advise.
3. For 65 years it has been known as the best for all purposes.

THE TOUGHEST TEST A MOTOR OIL COULD TAKE

A DARING TEST—a result that stands sharp and clear! New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil outdistanced five worthy rivals, thanks to the extraordinary film strength and penetrativeness our recently patented process gives it. Five quarts of this remarkable new motor oil lubricated a car for the almost unbelievable distance of 4,729 miles before the motor was wrecked.

Five other oils, all nationally known and widely advertised, competed with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil in this test. All cars were driven under exactly the same conditions and on exactly the same number of quarts until the motors could no longer operate. The story of this interesting test is told in the pictures and captions below. The notable thing is that New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil went more than 3,000 miles farther than the first oil to fail, and over 1,400 miles farther than the best of its competitors.

The results of this test should guide your next oil purchase. A tremendously greater motor protection and remarkably lower consumption await you at Red Triangle Stations. Drive in today.

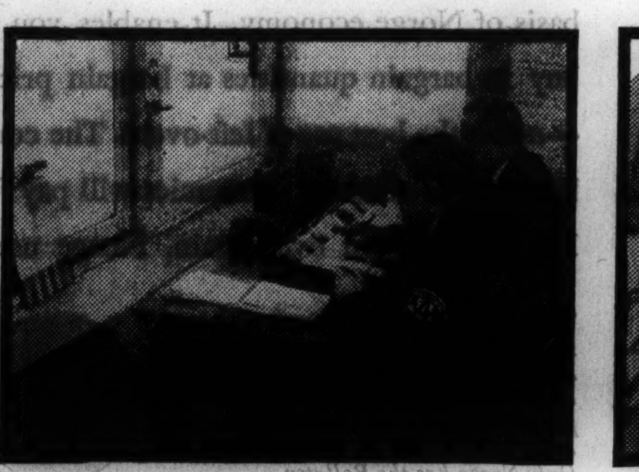
New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil winner in terrific "destruction" test at the Indianapolis motor speedway—supervised by the Contest Board, American Automobile Association

CONTEST BOARD AAA CERTIFIED TEST

AAA SANCTION NO. 3001

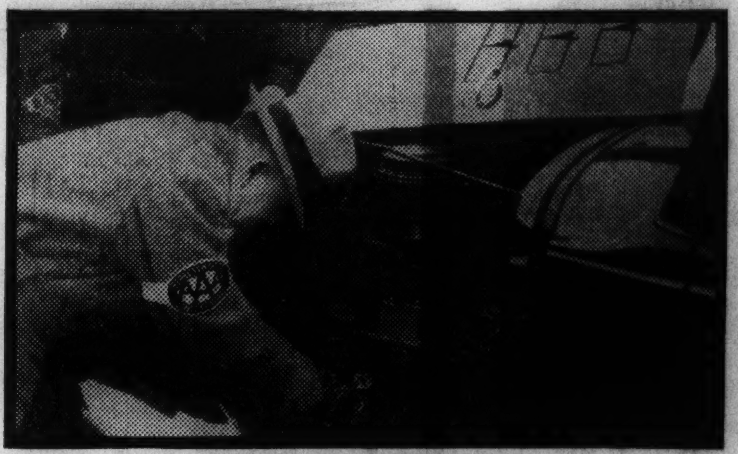
These six new strictly stock cars were used in the "destruction" test. AAA officials assigned the brand of oil each carried by drawing of lot numbers. Only AAA officials knew which oil was in any car.

Here are the representatives of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association who supervised every detail of the test and attested to the records made.

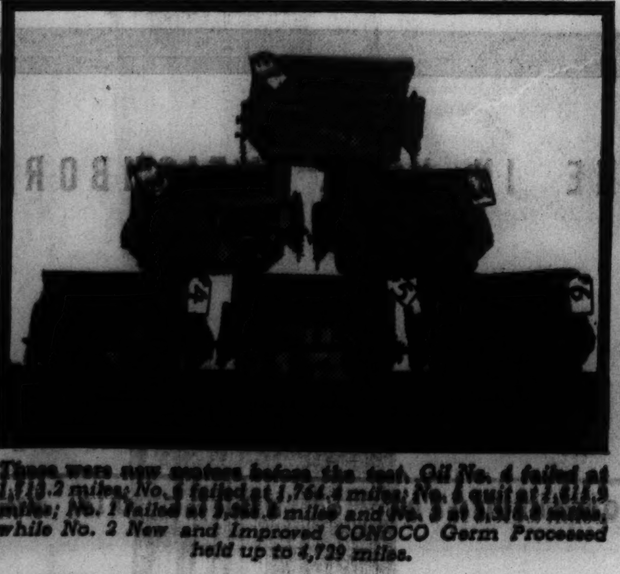


Mileage and all final details were checked by these two AAA officials. Electrical timing instruments were used.

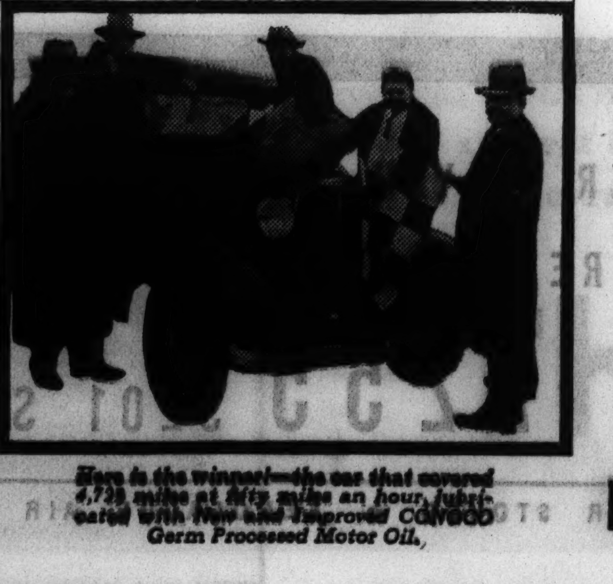
Five quarts of each brand of oil of the same S. A. E. grade from measures checked by the Bureau of Weights and Measures, State of Indiana, were carefully put in the cars by A A A officials.



The official sealing of crankcases after fill of five quarts was put in. No addition of oil was permitted in this "destruction" test.



These were new motors before the test. Oil No. 4 failed at 1,713.2 miles; No. 6 failed at 1,764.4 miles; No. [illegible] quit at [illegible] miles; No. 1 failed at 3,[illegible] miles and No. 3 at 3,[illegible] miles, while No. 2 New and Improved CONOCO Germ Processed held up to 4,729 miles.



Here is the winner!—the car that covered 4,729 miles at fifty miles an hour, lubricated with New and Improved CONOCO Germ Processed Motor Oil.

Warning
TO NEW CAR OWNERS

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results indicate that it gives them greater protection against damage than straight mineral oils.

Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

An old friend of the family is drawing the family's trade

And Jiggs has 15 million friends with money to buy your product!

Yes, sir! Jiggs & Company have the lively sympathy of more than 5 million families from coast to coast.

When Jiggs and Maggie and their pals in The Comic Weekly walk in for their regular Sunday morning visit, front page news waits in hundreds of thousands of homes. Sports, politics, stocks and bonds, editorials, fashion, society news—however important—often wait until the whole family has had its fill of Skippy, Barney Google, Tillie the Toiler, and all the rest.

Maybe people ought not to be that way. Maybe they ought to be more serious-minded. Maybe the comics ought to be for children alone.

But you can't argue with the customers about their reading habits. And the fact still remains that, according to a recent survey, 68% of all men and 72% of all women who read newspapers, read the comics.

One after another, leading advertisers who use The Comic Weekly have proved this fundamental truth of human nature to their profit—it's entertainment that always draws the biggest crowds.

For advertising in The Comic Weekly, which is distributed through the 17 great Hearst Sunday newspapers, has brought results almost unequalled by any other medium, even in prosperous times.

Price for a back cover, $17,500; inside page, $16,000. Circulation more than three of the great national weeklies combined. And what better way to get attention than to walk into the home, on a leisurely Sunday morning, arm in arm with an old friend of the family like Jiggs? For full particulars, call COlumbus 5-2642 in New York, or Superior 6820 in Chicago.

RFC FUNDS FOR TEACHERS' PAY ASSURED SOON

Folsom Back with News; Bond Hearing Today.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

Assurance that RFC funds will be advanced for the payment of $25,447,240 in back salaries to Chicago teachers and other employés within a short time was given by Richard S. Folsom, attorney for the board of education, upon his return from Washington yesterday. Folsom reported the successful outcome of his mission to James B. McCahey, president of the school board.

The school attorney said there was no doubt the school property in the city unused for educational purposes would be ample collateral within the limits of the act passed by congress According to the program suggested by Mayor Kelly this property would be offered as additional security on a purchase of school bonds.

Application Is Ordered.

"There will be no special form for the application to the RFC," said Folsom. "The officials in Washington instructed me to have the board make out its own application, setting forth the amount, legal phases, character of the security, list of lands to be pledged and reference to statutes applicable. They assured me there would be no delay in consideration of the advance."

Government officials will probably want to make an appraisal of the lands to be offered, but this should take only a few days, since the values of the properties are well known, Folsom said.

The wording of the act passed by congress is as follows:

"The RFC is hereby authorized and empowered to make loans at any time prior to Jan. 31, 1935, out of the funds of the corporation upon full and adequate security, to public school districts or other similar public school authorities organized pursuant to state law, for the purpose of payment of teachers' salaries due prior to June 1, 1934; provided that the aggregate amount of such loans at any time outstanding shall not exceed $75,000,000."

Springfield Hearing Today.

Folsom remained in the city for only a few hours, leaving on the afternoon train for Springfield for the hearing today before the Illinois Supreme court on the validity of the school bonds. The case is a mandamus action brought by the school board to compel City Controler Upham to sign the bonds. The burden of the oral arguments for the board will be made by Frank S. Righeimer, special attorney for the board, who has been handling this phase of the struggle to get the teachers paid.

McCahey recessed a meeting of the school board until Friday in order to be ready for any emergency action needed.

LINER BUFFETED AS STRONG GALE WHIPS NEW YORK

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—A southeast gale which struck the metropolitan area today gave the White Star liner Majestic a troublesome two hours at quarantine and caused considerable property damage in the city and vicinity.

Trees and signs were blown down by a wind that attained a velocity of 38 miles an hour and injuries to several persons and one case of drowning were attributed to the storm.

The Majestic was caught in the storm at Ambrose channel and was still riding the gale when she dropped anchor at quarantine 3 hours later. Their great difficulty was encountered when customs authorities, immigration officials, and reporters attempted to board her from the coast guard cutter Raritan.

The cutter was bobbing like a cork in the choppy sea when it pulled alongside the Majestic. Only one group from the cutter had boarded the liner when a hawser holding the ladder in place snapped. The next two hours were spent in trying to get the remaining groups transferred from the cutter to the Majestic.

Negroes Ask Free Space on Drive for Dancing

Leading Negro citizens of Chicago are preparing to petition Mayor Kelly for permission to use a portion of the lower level of Wacker drive between State street and Wabash avenue for a temporary free dancing pavillion. The project is sponsored by George C. Adams, commodore of the newly organized Illinois Yacht club, and has been endorsed by several Negro clergymen. "The Fair has taken from us our beach at 31st street," said Commodore Adams. "We will employ it for free dancing and other social events. The property will be vacated as soon as our beach is restored."

Wife on Stand in Powner Divorce Case

MRS. RUBIE POWNER.

WILLARD E. POWNER.

Jury Is Selected

Before a jury of ten married and two single men in the court of Judge Rudolph Desort, Mrs. Rubie Riddiford Powner took the stand yesterday to tell why she deserved a divorce on the grounds of cruelty from Willard E. Powner, owner of the Charles T. Powner Publishing company, at 621 Plymouth court.

A jury hearing had been demanded by Attorney Jay J. McCarthy, counsel for Powner, who made the rather unusual request after Mrs. Powner had caused her husband to be jailed for 13 days, beginning last April 18, because he was in arrears in temporary alimony.

At that time Powner had protested that he was without funds, while his wife was living in comfortable circumstances at the Edgewater Beach hotel, and had plenty of money to support the child, Suzanne, 11 years old.

In her testimony yesterday, Mrs. Powner, who now lives at 1210 Astor street, declared she had always been a "kind and affectionate wife," but that Powner was frequently cruel to her. She recited several instances when, she said, he had struck her because she refused to borrow more money from her father.

HAYDEN BEATEN; DR. HESS HEADS MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. Julius H. Hess, a specialist in the treatment of children's diseases, was elected president of the Chicago Medical society last night in a contest with Dr. Austin A. Hayden, present head of the group of 3,400 physicians. Only twice in the 84 years of the society have presidents won reelection. The last time was in 1878.

The lead shifted back and forth between Dr. Hess and Dr. Hayden as returns came in from the balloting at the 15 branch quarters of the society. Dr. Hess was finally declared the victor by a vote of 1,145 to 848.

The president-elect is 58 years old. He has practiced in Chicago for 35 years. For 21 years he has been professor and head of the department of pediatrics at the University of Illinois college of medicine. He is the author of four books on medical subjects.

Dr. Thomas P. Foley was reëlected secretary of the society. There were five councilors-at-large elected to sit on the governing board of 63. They are Dr. Victor L. Schrager, Dr. John J. Pflock, Dr. John H. Evans, Dr. Charles E. Humiston, and Dr. G. Henry Mundt. Five alternate councilors were also elected.

Customers Watch Girl's Tug of War with Bandit

While nearly 100 customers watched interestedly, Miss Manila Powers, 841 Windsor avenue, cashier in a cafeteria at 15 South Wabash avenue, yesterday had a tug of war contest with a bandit. He seized a $250 roll of bills from her register, but she managed to catch hold of them, too. The tugging contest ended when the man produced a pistol and escaped.

• With the opening of the new short line through the Colorado Rockies via the Moffat Tunnel through Pullman cars leaving Chicago on the famous ARISTOCRAT will go all the way to California. Air-cooled lounge and dining cars all the way.

The story of this new direct route is one of the great romances of rail history. The bitter fight against crushing odds to thrust a six-mile bore through the rocky heart of James Peak; the spanning of turbulent waters and deep canyons in the winning of a new short way to the Pacific Coast—all make a mighty modern drama of human achievement.

A trip to California this summer over the new route (at the new reduced fares, both rail and Pullman) will give you thrills that you'll never forget. It reveals parts of the Rocky Mountains heretofore seen only by the miners, hunters, trappers.

ITALIAN TRIBUNAL BEGINS TRIAL OF 8 AS RUSSIAN SPIES

Inventor, 3 Officers, and Woman Accused.

ROME, June 19.—(AP)—Seven men and one woman went on trial before the special tribunal for defense of the state today, accused of selling secret military information to soviet Russia.

Although death sentences probably will not be demanded, great public interest is centered in the trial, due to the prominence of some of the defendants.

Chief among them is Umberto Bianchi, inventor and former member of parliament. He is held as the leader of the band, which is said to have operated over a period of eight years prior to its discovery last spring.

Four Air Officers Accused.

Four air service officers are among his alleged accomplices. They are said to have used their positions at the air ministry to gain access to the information. Capt. Ambrogi Torello faces the most serious charges. He is listed as Bianchi's chief aid.

The woman is Bianchi's 20 year old daughter, Bianchina. The prosecution charges she acted as a go-between to deliver the information to Russian agents here.

Bianchi's chauffeur and one Russian, whose name has not been made public, are the other two prisoners.

The inventor represented the Socialist party in the chamber of deputies before Premier Mussolini converted it into a completely Fascist institution. He has invented a rotating sail and several electrical appliances.

Seize 600 Documents.

Bruno Cassinelli, also a former representative of the Socialist party in parliament and now one of Italy's foremost criminal lawyers, is defending him.

Mussolini's secret police uncovered the alleged operations of the band and seized more than 600 secret documents in a series of raids and arrests that began last June, when Bianchi was detained.

The special tribunal, which judges all espionage cases as well as attempts against the state and the life of the Duce, is noted for its severity. Attenuating circumstances are reported to have decided the prosecution in this case, however, to be content with long prison sentences.

Warant Officer Ugo Travaglia, an employé of the navy ministry, was executed by a firing squad last May after being sentenced by the tribunal for a similar espionage offense.

SHOT AFTER DRINKING PARTY.

Lon Johnson, colored, 48 years old, was in a serious condition yesterday as a result of bullet wounds received in an early morning quarrel after a drinking party in his home at 2602 Washington boulevard.

ILLINOIS PAROLE SYSTEM PROBE IS URGED BY FISHER

A complete investigation of the whole matter of the parole of criminals in Illinois was suggested yesterday by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher. He spoke before a meeting of the advisory committee of the Central States Parole conference at the Medinah Michigan Avenue club where the entire organization will convene June 26 to 29.

Judge Fisher declared the parole system was in danger because an aroused public sentiment might destroy the humanitarian principles involved.

"The chief offense of parole boards," said Judge Fisher, "is that they let some criminals out of prison who should never be out. On the other hand a reëxamination of the 10,000 committed to our penal institutions in Illinois would probably reveal that 25 per cent or more could be released."

W. C. Jones, chairman of the board of pardons and paroles, then declared that a reclassification had been started, but that the facilities for carrying it on were restricted.

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court told the committee that reciprocal agreements should be reached with other states in order that parole violators might be extradited. This question will be discussed at the general parole conference.

U. S. LIQUOR TAX SLASH URGED BY DELEGATES HERE

Horner Parley Drafts Plea to Roosevelt.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

The national liquor conference called by Gov. Horner to discuss uniform regulations yesterday adopted a resolution favoring a substantial reduction in federal taxes and prepared an appeal to President Roosevelt urging him to consider the wisdom of such legislation.

The resolution, adopted by delegates from 23 states at the close of their two day session in the Congress hotel, observed that the prime objectives of repeal were to promote temperance, to create respect for law and order, to prevent bootlegging, and to collect reasonable federal and state taxes.

It added that existing taxes tend to obstruct attainment of these ends and that President Roosevelt already has manifested his vital interest in the problem by removing temporarily the quota restrictions on imports.

Reject Proposed $1 Cut.

Another resolution which favored reducing the federal gallonage tax from $2 to $1 was rejected by the conference. Resolutions adopted urged the President to take steps under the reciprocal tarif act to maintain adequate imports, recommended that state inspectors report violations to code authorities and called upon states to coöperate in suppressing tax evasion through the interchange of information.

Gov. Horner was commended for his "splendid public service" in calling the conference.

J. M. Braude, associate director of the Illinois department of finance, was elected permanent chairman of the conference. Edward P. Mulrooney, chairman of the New York liquor commission; S. Heth Tyler of Virginia and David R. Arundel of Minnesota was elected vice chairman. Robert Henry of Wisconsin, was elected secretary and treaurer. The conference will meet in December at a place to be selected by the executive committee.

Abandon Uniformity Plan.

Most of the speakers yesterday agreed that nothing approaching uniformity in state liquor laws and regulations would be practicable because of social and physical differences, but they urged the adoption of general standards to prevent evasion of the excise tax and eliminate disparity in prices in bordering states.

Edward P. Mulrooney, chairman of New York state's liquor control commission, told the delegates the widespread disappointment over revenue collections was probably due more to economic conditions than to bootlegging, but that if they wanted to stop bootlegging they would have to get at its source—corn sugar.

"The great amount of illicit liquor is not being distilled from rye, corn or other grains, but from corn sugar," he said. "In 1914 the bureau of census reported that corn sugar consumption in the United States was 174,368,-818 pounds. The consumption jumped to more than 800,000,000 pounds in 1931.

Used to Make Liquor.

"The legitimate uses of corn sugar are ice cream, candy, caramel, artificial silk, and leather tanning. During those years the increase in the production of those commodities, with the exception of artificial silk, was only normal, indicating how much corn sugar was going to the illicit manufacture of liquor.

"Why not demand, in the public interest, that all sales of corn sugar be accounted for?"

Judge Edward T. Dixon, head of the Ohio liquor commission, told of the difficulties of the state monopoly system, the chief of which he called the lack of patronage.

"We know that a great amount of liquor is sold in Ohio outside of our state stores," said Judge Dixon. "The railroad officials say that thousands of dollars worth is brought in every day, and they have promised to coöperate with us, so that the consignor or consignee for all orders outside the state must furnish certificates to show that the transaction is legitimate.

Watch Monopoly Law.

"We had a considerable anti-saloon sentiment in Ohio, as you know. The anti-saloon headquarters is in Westerville. That's why we adopted the state monopoly system. If it develops that the law is out of step, then we'll have to change it.

"The trouble with prohibition was that it didn't have the support of a majority of the people."

J. M. Braude, associate director of the Illinois department of finance, made a plea for a general exchange of information on liquor shipments between states. This has already been done, in the middle west, with a great saving in tax collections, just as similar methods were adopted against gasoline tax bootleggers, he said.

IOWA OPENS FIVE LOW PRICE STATE LIQUOR STORES

Des Moines, Ia., June 19.—[Special.]—Iowa launched its repeal experiment of combating the bootlegger by underselling him today in five localities while most of the state looked on with rather mild interest.

First to open its doors to the buying public was the Des Moines store in the liquor commission's own office building and warehouse. It began business at 9 a. m., whereas the stores in Mason City, Marshalltown, Atlantic, and Oelwein did not open until 11.

About thirty prospective customers were on hand today when W. C. Harback, leader in the Iowa "repeal for prosperity" organization, made the first purchase—a fifth of Duff's Gordon sherry. Mr. Harback's experience seemed to sound the keynote for the day. Routine technicalities slowed up purchases. Occasionally it was found that no liquor of the type wanted was yet on the shelves.

Sales of individual permits increased today as prospective purchasers appeared at the store to get their first legal liquor in Iowa in 18 years. No great rush either for permits or liquor is expected, however, until July first, when the full year passbooks may be obtained.

LOS ANGELES CLUB WOMEN GIVE BLOOD FOR PARALYSIS CASES

Los Angeles, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—More than 500 volunteers from women's clubs and parent-teachers' associations have furnished blood to provide serum for present needs in the infantile paralysis epidemic here. That was announced today by Dr. R. V. Stone, laboratory director of the Los Angeles health department.

A total of 911 cases of infantile paralysis, with 8 deaths, have been reported in the city and county since May 1. The number of new cases gradually has decreased. Yesterday only 35 were reported in the city.

Fifty graduate nurses were sought today for special duty at the Los Angeles general hospital. Five physicians and 30 nurses who had been handling infantile paralysis cases have contracted that disease, it was disclosed.

The existence of many mild widely scattered cases in San Francisco also was reported today by Dr. J. C. Geiger, city health officer. He said there have been 44 cases there since May 1, four deaths resulting, as contrasted to 230 cases and 27 deaths in 1930.

LIQUOR CUTTING PLANT SEIZED IN LOOP CAFE RAID

Agents of the federal alcoholic tax unit yesterday seized a quantity of contraband liquor and a complete rectifying plant in a raid on the Barney Rathskeller restaurant, 10 North Clark street. The owner, Barney Franklin, was arrested on charges of possessing counterfeit labels and government strip stamps.

The agents, after obtaining a search warrant, broke into a closet which Franklin said had not been opened since last December. There they found five cases of whisky, two 5 gallon cans of cognac, and two five gallon cans of alcohol.

Franklin was held by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on $1,000 bond. Hearing was set for June 27.

Woodrings Have 7 Pound Son; He's Marcus Coolidge

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—A seven pound son was born today to the Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Harry H. Woodring, daughter of Senator Coolidge of Massachusetts. Woodring said the baby probably would be named Marcus Coolidge Woodring, after his grandfather.

OVERALL TRIO ROBS RANTOUL BANK OF $10,000

Rantoul, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Three holdup men, wearing straw hats and overalls, held up the First National bank of Rantoul shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. They obtained $10,000 in currency.

The robbers, carrying revolvers, took possession of the bank for more than five minutes, searching all cash boxes, meanwhile forcing customers and employés to lie on the floor. But Miss Esther Brettell, bank teller, and Mrs. Gertrude Peterson, a customer, the only women in the place, were permitted to sit in chairs.

Others persons in the bank during th holdup included W. H. Wheat, president; Kenneth Frost, assistant cashier, and Charles Gregory of Ludington, Ill., a customer. As the bandits entered, waving revolvers and shouting, Wheat, in his office conferring with Gregory, opened his door and faced the armed robbers.

The holdup men later sped north on state highway 25, followed by state highway police, who could not overtake the robbers' new sedan.

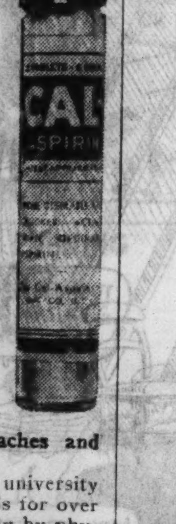
DOCTORS USE FOR SEVERE PAIN RELIEF

New way is safe—more effective—3 times faster acting

Supply Sent Free



THERE has been a notable discovery for relieving pain. Physicians advise it. 9 people out of 10 find it superior to anything they've ever tried.

This new discovery—CAL-Aspirin is safe. Hospital tests show that in 89% of patients it does not upset the stomach, cause distress, dizziness or nausea.

But most astounding is the high effectiveness of this new formula in overcoming pain — such racking pain as that of rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, intense headaches and the aches of colds.

Developed in a leading university—tested in great hospitals for over two years—advised widely by physicians. Sufferers should try CAL-Aspirin—25c—at your druggist. Or free supply from CAL-Aspirin Corp., Chicago.

PLYMOUTH ANNOUNCES THE SPECIAL SIX

RECENTLY you read about important reductions in Plymouth prices. This week Plymouth again makes news.

It's the introduction of a new car . . . THE SPECIAL SIX . . . and it changes the whole picture in the low-price field.

When Plymouth announces a new model thousands of people go to see it. We urge that you take a few minutes of your time and join them.

There are two reasons why it will pay you to do this. One of them is the car itself . . . and the other is the price of this new model.

You'll find a big car . . . a new "luxury" model . . . with all the major Engineering Features that made Plymouth famous . . . yet a 4-door Sedan costs practically the same as comparable models of the very lowest priced cars WITHOUT ALL THESE FEATURES!

Consider that statement carefully. Realize what it means.

It means that without spending a single extra penny, you can own this new Special Six with Hydraulic Brakes . . . the safest kind made . . . instead of a car with ordinary brakes.

It means that your family can ride surrounded and protected by a BODY OF SAFETY-STEEL . . . instead of the ordinary composite kind.

It means that you can have the added comfort of Individual Wheel Springing and patented Floating Power engine mountings without paying a penalty for these modern improvements.

And finally it means real pride of ownership.

For here is a smart, stylish automobile . . . with the luxury features people want today. And the 4-door Sedan is priced at $620 f. o. b. factory.

Today the prices of "All Three" low-priced cars are virtually the same. Don't buy blindfolded. Don't let "habit" rule your judgment. Go see this Plymouth Special Six today . . . at any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer. Look at it . . . ride in it. Buy no car until you do.

PRICES AND FEATURES OF THE NEW PLYMOUTH SPECIAL SIX

SEE WHAT YOU PAY

Four-Door Sedan $620 Two-Door Sedan $580
Town Sedan $655 Rumble Seat Coupe $590
Business Coupe $560

SEE WHAT YOU GET

HYDRAULIC BRAKES. The safest brakes ever perfected for an automobile. Always equalized. Eliminate dangerous swerving. Save frequent relining jobs. Ask any Plymouth owner if he would go back to mechanical brakes!

SAFETY-STEEL BODY. The best safety insurance that you can have on today's crowded highways.

FLOATING POWER Engine Mountings. They keep vibration away from you. You ride fully relaxed.

INDIVIDUAL WHEEL SPRINGING. The best of the so-called "knee-type" springs, as used on the most expensive cars, for a more comfortable back-seat ride.

T-Slot Pistons with four rings instead of the usual three. Four-Bearing Crankshaft—Valve-Seat Inserts—Oil Filter and Air Cleaner—Temperature and Oil Pressure Indicators on Instrument Panel—Dual Trumpet Horns—Two Combination Tail and Stop Lights—Steel Artillery Wheels.

Prices as low as $485 for Standard Plymouth. All prices f. o. b. factory, Detroit, subject to change without notice. Convenient time payments by Official Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan.

"Newspapers are the sentinels of the liberties of our country." — Benjamin Bush.

THE 73D CONGRESS AND AFTER.

Having added twelve billion dollars to the burden to be carried by the American people, and endowed the executive with powers unprecedented in our annals, the 73d congress has adjourned sine die. The record this body has written in the history of government must now meet the judgment of the American people and thereafter the verdict of future generations upon which its consequences will bear heavily. It is not astonishing, therefore, that the more responsible members of the house of representatives were unwilling that its proceedings should end with an outburst of clownish farce. But citizens who have followed with anxiety the course of legislation during the session will find in the performance an ominous appropriateness.

The outstanding characteristic of the 73d congress has been its evasion of duty as a deliberative body. About the only exceptions to its subserviency to executive demand have demonstrated that its judgment, its grasp of fundamental principles, its regard for the common welfare were so deficient as to reconcile the nation, at least for the moment, to its surrender of responsibility and its alternative of executive domination.

Digesting this experience, the nation now has before it the opportunity and the duty to send to Washington a congress more competent to meet the responsibilities imposed by our form of government upon the lawmaking power. In spite of the reckless talk of revolution, we are confident the American people are not ready to abolish the system of separate powers which the wisdom of American statesmanship established for the protection of a free people from the dangers and evils of autocratic rule. It is apparent at this juncture that this can be accomplished without our consent by the failure of one branch or another, in this instance the legislative, to maintain its independence and to fulfill its functions.

The nation's experience with the 73d congress leaves no rational doubt that if it is to preserve its form of government, if it is to retain the liberties which a balance of powers has protected throughout the life of the republic, it must weigh well the qualities of the men who are seeking place in this congress and send only such as they have reason to believe will restore to the legislative branch of government its self-respect, its independence, and its character as a deliberative, lawmaking body.

EDITOR REID AND THE RADIO COMMISSION.

The federal radio commission and Editor Ogden Reid of the New York Herald-Tribune are in a controversy in which the press and public ought to take a special interest. It began with an editorial in the Herald-Tribune which asserted that the radio, controled by the administration through the licensing power, was made spokesman of the New Deal and was largely restricted to government propaganda.

This was a serious assertion and it resulted in a demand by the commission that the Herald-Tribune submit to the commission any facts or other material upon which its editorial was based. Mr. Reid has responded, in effect, that he does not propose to recognize this burocratic summons which he considers an invasion of freedom of the press, although he recalls the significant statement of the commission on Aug. 14, 1933, that "it is the patriotic, if not the bounden and legal, duty of all licensees of radio broadcasting stations to deny their facilities to advertisers who are disposed to defy, ignore or modify the codes established by the NRA."

The issue raised in this exchange is whether any newspaper or any individual that makes allegations of fact or comment disliked by a government agency may be summoned by the agency to verify and support the utterance. We know of nothing in the laws of the land which authorizes such a summons. The radio commission is in possession of the facts of its own conduct. If the facts are contrary to the allegations of any offending newspaper or individual it is free to publish them. It has no authority to compel any citizen to divulge information or sources of information.

The contrary rule would put the expense and onus of proof upon any critic of government action or policy, leaving the government agency free to pursue any course not proved at the expense of the private critic unlawful or contrary to public policy.

Government agencies inevitably resent critical comment. Irresponsible allegations and criticism are not desirable from any viewpoint, but the proper method of dealing with them in a free society is disproof for which the agency criticized has all the data existing. The radio commission is not a tribunal for the trial of critics, but if it is innocent of the charge made by the Herald-Tribune it is free and in duty bound to establish its innocence.

But the Herald-Tribune in fact has presented in the statement of the commission of August, 1933, a prima facie case. If the commission has not repudiated the doctrine expressed in that statement Mr. Reid need hardly go further. It is for the commission to do the explaining, not Mr. Reid.

VON PAPEN AND BABSON.

Vice Chancellor von Papen of Germany has dared to make a public attack upon Nazi theory and practice. His address of June 17, delivered before a university audience at Marburg, was published in at least one edition of the Frankfurter Zeitung before the censorship descended. The vice chancellor, in effect, demanded the restoration of freedom of the press and of discussion; attacked single party rule; declared his opposition to the attempt of the state to dictate in matters of religious belief, and pleaded for an end to the brutalities of Nazi rule. He observed that the Nazi revolution, while anti-Marxian in its origin, was tending to become Marxian in fact because of the dominance of the state over private enterprise. Finally, in language too thinly veiled to conceal his meaning for a moment, Von Papen argued for a restoration of the monarchy.

All of which may be read profitably in connection with the latest prophecy of Mr. Roger Babson to the effect that the American people is shortly to accept a Fascist dictatorship. Possibly so; but if Mr. Babson is right the American people will have convicted themselves of an extraordinary incapacity for profiting by the mistakes of others. Mussolini's Fascism has resulted in a progressive decline in the standard of living of the Italian people. Hitler's Fascism has had a similar result. The German financial situation is now nothing short of desperate. Popular discontent, which has no outlet in the press, is rising to dangerous and perhaps explosive pressures. The fruits of Fascist dictatorship are there for any one, including the American people, to behold. They are not tempting.

Von Papen's career suggests that he may be something of a weather vane. He pointed his conservative group into the Nazi alliance when the Nazis were on the eve of power, and now he is pointing to counter revolution. If he is expressing the direction of public sentiment he is saying that the German people, despite all that it suffered at the hands of the kaiser, is coming to regard a restoration of the imperial régime as preferable to a Fascist dictatorship. He is saying that the kind of rule which led Germany into a ruinous war and a humiliating defeat is better than a Fascist dictatorship in the minds of people who have experienced both.

The American people who fought a war to prevent the spread of kaiserism would be mad, indeed, if they deliberately chose to accept a form of government to which kaiserism is preferable in both theory and practice. It cannot be said that Mr. Babson flatters our collective intelligence and common sense.

THE PANHANDLERS OF ARKANSAS.

The Arkansas Gazette of Little Rock says:

"In one of its typical editorial expressions THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE dilated upon the millions Illinois is paying in processing taxes above what it is getting in AAA benefits, and the millions states like Arkansas, Mississippi, and Texas are getting in AAA benefits above what they are paying in processing taxes. When the government spends half a billion dollars in the drouth states will THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE dilate upon how much federal money these states are getting for relief by comparison with what they are paying in federal levies?"

Two days before the question was asked THE TRIBUNE had answered it in an editorial entitled "Illinois Says No." That editorial read, in part:

"Illinois has never known a complete crop failure and it will not have one this year. It is a year of great hardship for our farmers and of immense crop destruction, but Illinois is not a desert. As always, Illinois will grow more than it consumes. If Illinois must look to Washington for drouth relief funds, every state in the Union must do the same. Every state will be relieving every other state's distress and the ultimate absurdity will have been reached. . . . We have survived the hard times and we can survive the drouth, but we may not be able to survive the drain on our resources which the squanderers are preparing."

Panhandling is, of course, only a symptom of a general moral collapse. Self-respecting men and women and self-respecting states do not beg. They are therefore under no necessity to justify their conduct with the falsehood that everybody's doing it.

MOVIE CRUSADE.
[Baltimore Sun.]

The essential fact about the campaign against indecent movies under the leadership of the Catholic church is that it seeks to accomplish its ends through the individual and not through official censors. This is very much to the good. Whatever the offenses of the movies against good morals, the cure lies not through the invocation of official sanctions but through appeals to the good sense and the essential decency of movie patrons. By moving along this path it is possible to avoid the errors and the excesses and the stupidities of a burocratic censorship.

It will, to be sure, be a more difficult task to mobilize the decent and sensible patrons of the movies in a moral protest. The results of such an approach will probably be slower than the results that would follow an immediate recourse to spectacular censorship. But in the end the slower method will be more effective than the other. For the movie magnates keep their ears attuned to the box office returns, and if the rumblings from that quarter are not favorable they will be quick to heed. Much quicker, in fact, than they would be to listen to the remonstrances or the orders of any official watchdogs of public morals. Besides, burocratic zeal has a way of creating sympathy for its victims.

There are some who hold that the movies are more guilty of stupidity than they are of indecency. Certainly stupidity is as much in evidence in the gilded palaces of the cinema as offenses against good morals. In the long run the public can protect itself against offenses of the one sort only by the same methods by which it can protect itself against offenses of the other. But it may be that a warfare on indecency may of itself help in the attack on stupidity. For if the producers can be forced to dispense with some of the lures with which they have attracted patrons to see stupid pictures, they may awaken to the importance of giving patrons a greater measure of high grade entertainment.

DRINK'S ON ME!

Pat determined to pass his favorite "pub" on his way home. As he approached it he became somewhat shaky, but, plucking up courage, he passed it.

Then, after going about fifty yards, he turned, saying to himself: "Well done, Pat, me bhoy. Come back and I'll treat ye."—Humorist.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IT NOW APPEARS that any cinema queen who plays daring sex rôles is, away from the movie picture studios, given to sipping tea at her own fireside, attending Epworth league meetings and reading the Elsie Dinsmore books. The only thing in the way of drink in which she indulges is sassafras tea, and her only amusement is knitting woolen socks for the benighted heathen of far off India. The bad, bad villains of the movies, or at least so we are assured, are never out after 9 o'clock at night, abhor drink and tobacco and do naught but sit around the home reading the Rollo books to their children. They always wipe the dishes after the frugal meals in their humble little homes and support five missionaries apiece in the Fiji Islands, often take first prize at the nearest county fair for their grape jellies, Angel Food cake and open work stitching. But, since that is true, what about the gals in the movies who play the sweet, demure little maidens who sing in the village choir and who are such a help to mother around the house? And what about the movie actors who play the great, loyal, devoted, tender, loving, perfect gentleman characters? If everybody in the films is in private life exactly the reverse of what is his rôle in the movies—then what? It makes one shudder to think of it!

SEA SONG FOR DJEERZHEE.

When I press my ear
To the singing shell of your heart,
I hear
a sweet, clear melody,
I know
your body as a vibrant mast,
And through your soul's white sails,
I hear the wind
Murmur in musical humming,
A strange rhythm,
From out the long, long past!

PIERROT.

THE NATIONAL LIQUOR control conference now sessioning in Chicago brings out the interesting fact that it costs twenty cents a gallon, including overhead, to produce alcohol. Then the label on a bottle of rye or bourbon must cost something like two dollars, the bottle two dollars and the cork fifty cents. Anyhow, they don't charge for the string and wrapping paper they put around the bottle, do they? Oh, don't say they charge for the string and the wrapping paper!

FOREIGN TYRANNY is an awful thing and must be overthrown by a liberty loving people. Yet the devil should be given his dues (bromide 3674), and it must be said that tyrannical Spain did a good thing for the free Cuba of today in building the great gloomy Cabanas prison. Cuba, free at last of all foreign yokes and rejoicing now in the blessings of liberty, chucked four hundred and thirty political prisoners into the cells of Cabanas yesterday. Viva Cuba Libre!

THE VERY CONGRESSMAN who would say yes every time the President sent over for another billion will look a little sad and ask her what she is going to do with all that money when his wife asks him for six bits.

AND WHILE SCANNING the front pages and reading of all the ladies divorce bent, bound for Reno, I happened to be turning over the pages of a book and found there something that in this day and age seems very strange and uncanny. It is a quotation from the Book of Common Prayer: "To have and to hold from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness, and in health, to love and to cherish, till death us do part." Well, well, well! How extraordinary! "Till death us do part!" Toot, toot! Reno! Reno! All off for Reno! Don't forget your suitcases and evidence! Drop your old wedding rings in the garbage can as you go out! Reno! Reno! All off for Reno!

LIKE PUPPETS.

I saw them driven off to school
And driven back again.
I saw them hurry out to play
While play was left to them.

Now some were gravely posturing
Like puppets in a play,
And some went stalking by with sticks
Like soldiers to a war.

I saw them on the grassy stage
Chase after butterflies.
They ran and laughed and screamed and fell
And lay with empty hands.

As like in war some hurt themselves,
Their tears were on the grass—
And after they had crept to bed
I heard their weeping still.

Their voices fly upon the wind,
The saddest in the world,
Of any children, young or old,
Crying themselves to sleep.

WHAT IS INFECTION?

IN spite of all our care bacteria that produce disease may gain access to the tissues of the body and in some instances may reach the bloodstream. The body is provided with many defenses against bacterial invasion. For example, bacteria are rarely able to pass through the skin unless there is a break in this protective layer such as a scratch or a wound. Should a finger be scratched bacteria may be introduced beneath the skin, and as a result a defense barrier is established in the resulting inflammation. There is usually swelling and soreness of the part infected, and the body sends out an alarm to the white cells of the blood, known as leucocytes.

These white cells congregate in the inflamed area and consume and destroy the bacteria found there. This frequently leads to the formation of pus that may require surgical drainage. If the infection can be confined to a small area it is said to be local and not general—that is, that the bacteria have not gained entrance to the bloodstream. In such cases blood poisoning, as we understand the term, does not result.

Careful attention to minor scratches and wounds has saved many lives. The wounded area should be thoroughly cleansed with soap and water and some local antiseptic applied. Heat should be used by immersing the part in water as hot as can be borne or by applying clean cloths wrung out of hot water. This application should be continued for thirty minutes or more, and may be repeated at intervals of one or two hours if the pain and swelling persist. Should the inflammation show signs of spreading no time should be lost in consulting a physician. Lockjaw must be guarded against through the use of anti-tetanic serum. Wounds should never be sealed through the application of collodion or ointments, but should be covered with sterile gauze.

In addition to the blood vessels the body contains another system of channels through which lymph flows and by means of which lymph finally mingles with the bloodstream. Lymph is a slightly yellowish fluid and contains many white blood cells. Should bacteria gain entrance to the lymph channels, infection may be spread as readily as though bacteria were directly introduced into the circulation. Most fortunately there are situated in many parts of the body lymph nodes, or glands, into which lymph is drained from the extremities. If infection has gained entrance to the lymph channels these glands act as another line of defense and will sometimes stop and hold the infection, preventing its further spread. Lymph glands exist in well known situations, such as the bend of the elbow, the armpit, the groin, etc. Should one of these lymph glands become painful or enlarged, whether one is conscious of having sustained an injury to an extremity or not, prompt care may result in preventing spread of the infection and in the saving of life.

Bacteria may also gain entrance to the body through the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. This mucous membrane is richly supplied with blood vessels and is not so resistant to the entrance of bacteria as is the skin. Dust carries bacteria, and while millions of organisms are expelled from the nose and throat by means of the mucous protective layer, yet a massing of the virulent organisms may set up local inflammation resulting in the formation of pus. If this pus is not adequately drained another avenue is provided for the entrance of bacteria into the blood. Slight sore throats should not be neglected, nor should occasional or chronic discharges of pus from the nose.

PARKINSON'S.

C. F. D. writes: In commenting on Parkinson's disease you assert that there is no cure and leave the inquirer without hope of relief. May I enter a friendly protest? Medicines may not cure this disease but they help greatly. Medical magazines contain accounts of remarkable results achieved in the treatment of bedridden patients suffering the encephalitic form of this ailment by using stramonium. In one case which I have been taking care of, remarkable results were obtained from the use of scopolamine. The patient is 72 years old. His ailment started in his left arm some years ago and, after an attack of flu over a year ago, he became so bad he could hardly walk. When he attempted to walk across the room he was compelled to stop at the middle point of it because he apparently had a catch in the legs. Now he walks downtown. The only variation from a typical form of idiopathic Parkinson's disease was that he lacked pronounced tremor of the hands. It is necessary to continue the medicines. Possibly you think that the misuse of medicines mentioned would offset any benefit obtained. I am satisfied merely to bring this matter to your attention and let you be the judge. Before concluding, I will say we have used both stramonium and scopolamine and got better results from the latter.

REPLY.

Most cases of Parkinson's disease seek no medical help for years after the onset of the symptoms. There comes a time when they ask for relief through medicines. Some get a moderate amount of help. Those whose disease follows so-called sleeping sickness appear to get most help from the medicines you name. Both are too powerful to be used except under medical supervision and control.

OSTEOPOROSIS.

R. S. K. writes: What is osteoporosis, the cause, the cure, and how long does it usually last?

REPLY.

Osteoporosis is an insufficient density of bone. It is a secondary condition and there are several causes of it. What is to be done about it and, in fact, the answers to all of your questions except the first depend on the cause. Some cases are due to a deficiency of lime and phosphorus in the diet. Such cases are treated with diets rich in lime and phosphorus, of which the milk foods are the best. These are the cheeses, butter, and other forms of milk.

VERBAL AGREEMENT.

Provincetown, Mass., June 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Just what is the meaning of "a verbal agreement is good for a year only"? A agreed to pay a certain sum of money in a given time. This is in writing, and was lived up to literally, the sum being paid in advance of the specified date. 2. B claims there are other sums that were implied with the written document but not included therein. A affirms there was no agreement, verbal or otherwise, and the items claimed by B were his assumption solely and not a part of the agreement. 3. Has B grounds for suit against A? 4. Can he attach personal property or interfere with his business in an effort to obtain satisfaction of the sum he thinks remains unpaid? The tenure of the agreement was for a year and that time is six months past. 5. The verbal agreement seems to be one sided, to be sure, but if it was really made, and was an unwitnessed verbal agreement to pay more than the amount specified in the written agreement, what status has it in law? This question comes from Massachusetts, but I am from Illinois and a property holder in that state. H. J. K.

1. Under the statute of frauds, an agreement not to be performed within one year of its date must be in writing in order to be enforcible.

2. If a written contract purports on its face to be a complete expression of the whole agreement, oral understandings incidental to the negotiations are superseded and cannot be proved in court to change the written contract.

3. Depends on whether the writing appears on its face to be a complete statement of the agreement.

4. Attachment would require one of the special grounds listed in the attachment act, for example, absence of the debtor from the state.

5. We cannot advise to advantage without having a narrative statement on this point.

DISPOSING OF ESTATE PROPERTY.

Chicago, June 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If a person were given the income from an estate by the terms of a will, same to accrue to him during his lifetime, and if this same heir were named in the will administrator of the estate [1] would he have the right to sell the property at his discretion? 2. The property is mostly in Iowa, and I suppose the law may be different in different states. H. H.

1. On the bare facts stated he would have no power to sell the remainder after his life interest.

2. We know of no jurisdiction in which the foregoing would not be true.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WITNESS TO WILL.

Chicago, June 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Please tell me [1] if there is any state which requires the appearance of witnesses to a will at the probation of the will. 2. If so, what happens when the witnesses have died or their whereabouts are unknown? A. B.

1. We know of no state in which the appearance of the witnesses would not be excused upon proof that they were dead, if that is what you mean to ask.

2. The will would, in general, be admitted to probate on proof of the handwriting of the witnesses.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

Brookfield, Ill., June 8.—[Friend of the Insured.]—To what extent is an insurance company liable in accident cases under workmen's compensation insurance? How long a time is compensation paid for permanent partial disability?—Mrs. H. M.

Under workmen's compensation insurance the insurance company is liable only to the extent of the provisions as provided for under the state workmen's compensation act.

Compensation payments for temporary total incapacity begin on the eighth day and continue as long as the total temporary incapacity lasts, but not after the amount of compensation paid equals the amount which would have been payable as a death benefit, if the employé had died as a result of the injury at the time thereof. If the total incapacity for work continues for a period of more than thirty days from the date of injury, then compensation payments shall commence on the day after the injury. Compensation for permanent partial disability would be based upon the nature of the disability sustained. For instance, the loss of a thumb would call for seventy weeks' compensation, while the loss of a hand or the permanent and complete loss of its use would call for one hundred and seventy weeks' compensation.

IT'S NOT GOING TO BE SO EASY TO NEGOTIATE THIS STYMIE!

UNIFORM ACREAGE REDUCTION.

Chicago, June 15.—If Mr. Warner had given a moment of thought to the program of the AAA in a percentage reduction of wheat acreage applicable in the same proportion to all sections of the country he would have avoided placing himself in an awkward position. The wheat acreage reduction in the territory that is this year "a complete failure" in no wise affects the food supply, but the acreage reduction secured at the same time in the humid area where there is a reasonably good yield results in reducing the aggregate of food supply that much further below the danger point. When the AAA decreed a blanket percentage of wheat acreage reduction, in humid and semi-arid territory alike, it made a blunder that cannot be defended. The shortage of moisture in the semi-arid belt for two or three or more consecutive years gave advance notice to any intelligent student of agricultural possibilities that serious drouth danger existed this year and should have suggested the danger of creating an artificial scarcity in the area where nature could provide a crop. B. W. SNOW.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Champaign, Ill., June 15.—I wish to congratulate the Republican party on its selection of Henry P. Fletcher as chairman. To me it would appear that this marks the rebirth of the Republican party to uphold the principles of our country and the party of Lincoln. I also wish to express the ardent hope that this party may be returned to power in both houses of congress at the coming November elections.

But I realize what a period of political turmoil would ensue should the Republicans be so successful at the midpresidential elections, and in order to remedy this evil, an evil which has marked many periods of our national history under Republican as well as Democratic Presidents, I should like to recommend the following constitutional amendment as a remedy:

"Whenever the President at the midpresidential elections shall lose political control of both houses of congress a new election of President shall be held immediately."

This proposition, which I feel should enlist the support of both Democrats and Republicans, would tend to make our system of government more flexible and responsive. It would be a guarded approach to the system now in use in certain European countries, notably England and France, and would eliminate those periods of disastrous political turmoil when the President is at variance with his congress. WILLIAM KARNES,
Student, University of Illinois.

PORTUGAL TO THE RESCUE.

Ottawa, Ill., June 17.—Your correspondents who were justly outraged at the Scotchman's criticisms of the marching of your militia soldiers nevertheless were unfair in their replies.

The German attacks before which the English broke were of the most intense nature. I who was there know, and I know that it took all the skill and courage of our officers to prevent the Portuguese division from breaking also.

READ IT AGAIN.

Chicago, June 15.—If you feel, as your editorial of today seems to indicate, that the menace of a strike in the steel industry is exaggerated, will you tell me why with your scare headlines in the last two weeks you persist in perturbing the public in this matter?

BUCKINGHAM CHANDLER.

BICYCLES.

Chicago, June 17.—Pedestrians are harassed enough now, avoiding autos at almost every street crossing, without being obliged to dodge bicycles on their only refuge, the sidewalk. To have a silent bicycle rider suddenly rush by you from the rear is enough to make almost anybody jump, and the sudden appearance of a cyclist coming down upon you from around the corner will have the same effect.

After all, it is fundamentally necessary for people to walk, but it is not fundamentally necessary for people to ride bicycles, and the walkers, therefore, have a superior right to the sidewalk originally provided for them. Furthermore, the walkers vastly outnumber the cyclists, and it would, therefore, be doubly unjust to compel the footwalkers, some of them elderly people, to jump out of the way of bicycle riders swiftly approaching from the rear or the front, or both. Two people walking together would have still more trouble.

Bicycles, wherever used, should have bells or horns and proper lights for use after dusk. PEDESTRIAN.

MANSLAUGHTER IN THE AIR.

Chicago, June 12.—For six years I have read your editorial columns and have enjoyed them immensely, but the editorial in today's TRIBUNE concerning "Manslaughter in the Air" is one of the most unjust articles ever published, in my opinion. Your insinuation that the transport pilot might use his parachute, leaving his passengers to do likewise or not, is cowardly and unfair. I am an amateur pilot and I know that I would never leave my passengers in midair under any circumstances and I can safely say that not one transport pilot in many thousands would think of such a thing. Also, every pilot realizes that he is responsible for the lives of his passengers and he will not take his ship any place where those lives will be endangered. True, circumstances over which he has no control may endanger his life and those of his passengers, but that happens even with a ship at sea.

Who wrote that editorial? Certainly no man associated with flying men. Did your aviation editor approve of the editorial? I doubt it. LEO C. GALBRAITH.

A LADY WITH A SHORT MEMORY.

Chicago, June 14.—I should like to make a vigorous protest against articles and cartoons appearing recently in your paper criticizing the various efforts of our President. It has been noticeable how you started this criticism. One might say it was somewhat cautiously done at first, but now that you have a running start you feel you can go on a rampage.

During the terms of the two previous Presidents, when you could have criticized to the utmost, it seemed to be your policy not to criticize regardless. Now that we have a man in the White House who is using every possible means to bring us out of chaos you assume a heckling attitude which can only be interpreted as not wishing to coöperate.

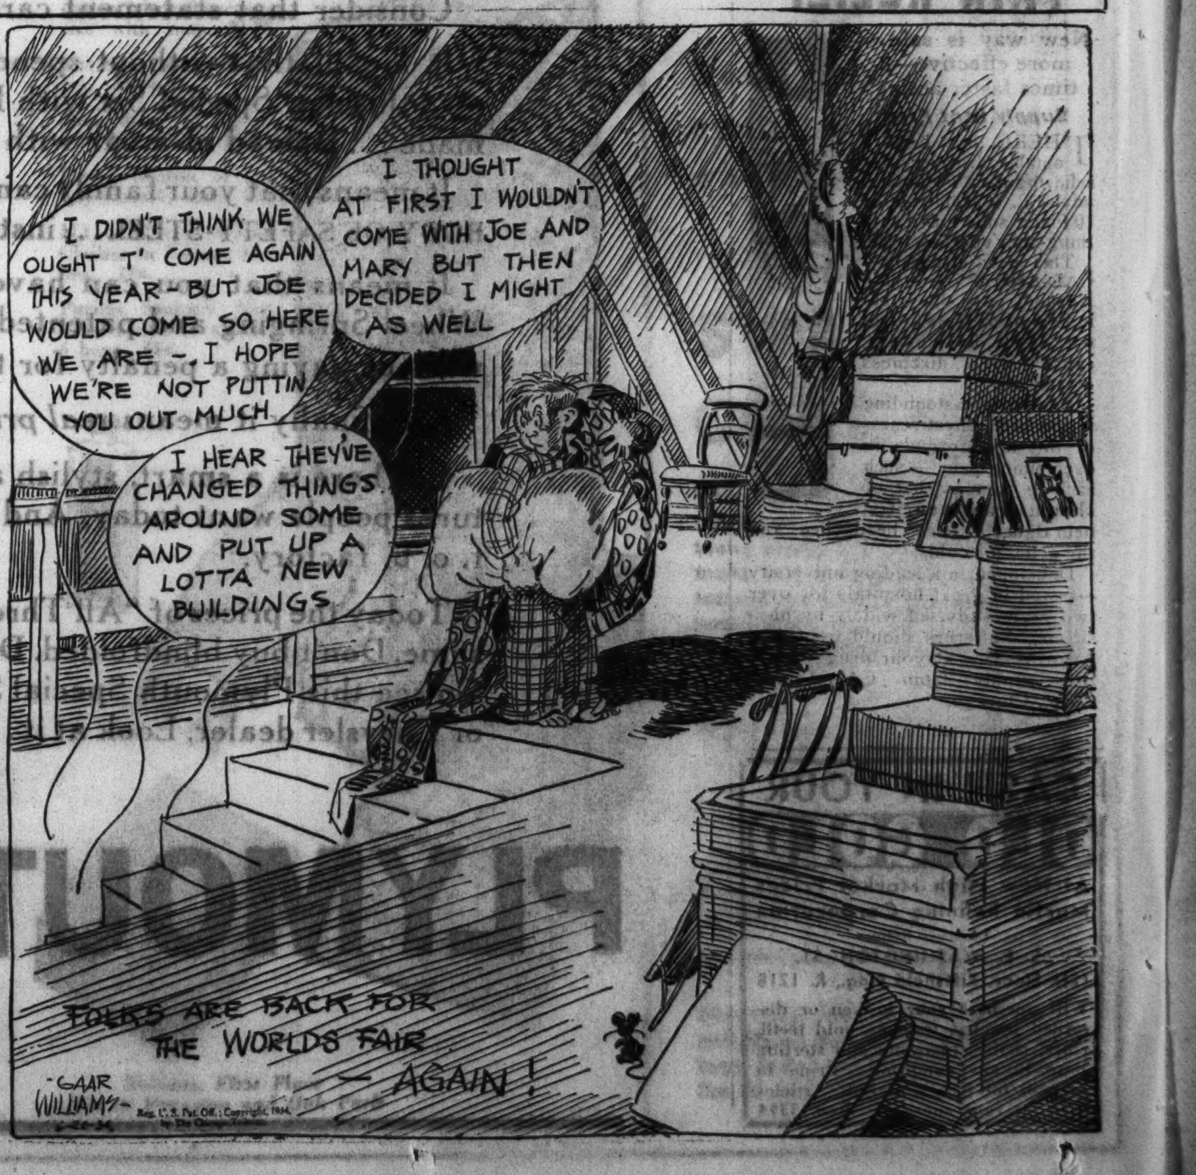
TEA TIME.

Chicago, June 13.—While visiting the English village at the Fair last week, being English myself, I was disappointed at not finding a typical English tea shop where one could order tea, plate of thin bread and butter served with jam or honey, hot buttered scones and tea cakes, and many other things native to England at tea time. I think it is worth considering by the management of the village. May the Fair continue to flourish and become a permanent attraction of our fair city.

MRS. A. SCHERKL.



NEW YORK POLICE SAID TO LIST '1,300 RADICALS'

La Guardia, Mrs. Roosevelt, H. Swift 'Named.'

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—The New York Post says in a special article today that the New York police department, in its campaign against what is supposed to be a "red menace" confronting the city, is acting on data listed in a "little red book" compiled by Mrs. Albert W. [Elizabeth] Dilling of Kenilworth, Ill. Mrs. Dilling has been agitating for some time against persons she catalogs as Reds. Her book is called "The Red Network."

MRS. A. W. DILLING. [A. P. photo.]

This little book catalogs the alleged leaders of the radical movement and—according to the report—is kept under lock and key in the private office of Capt. John Lagarenne, head of the police bureau of alien investigation. The police are said to refer to it, and in some cases are accused of putting spies upon persons listed thereon.

Notables on the List.

Among the prominent names listed as "dangerous radicals" are the following—to name only a few of 1,300:

F. H. La Guardia, a former congressman, now the mayor of New York.

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President.

Henry A. Wallace of Iowa, secretary of agriculture.

Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior.

William E. Borah, U. S. senator from Idaho.

George W. Norris, senator from Nebraska.

The Rev. Father John A. Ryan, director National Catholic Welfare conference.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise.

Lillian D. Wald, noted social worker.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, society leader.

Harold H. Swift, Chicago packer, head of the University of Chicago board of trustees.

Prof. A. A. Berle, Roosevelt brain truster.

Lorado Taft, Chicago sculptor.

Clarence S. Darrow, Chicago attorney.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war.

Fannie Hurst, author.

Mrs. J. Sargent Cram, sister of Mrs. Gifford Pinchot.

Circulated in Wall Street.

The Post ridicules the list, but insists that the police are taking it seriously. Copies of the document have been widely circulated in Wall street.

Mayor La Guardia roared with laughter as he read that he was listed among the "dangerous Reds" in his own police department's records. "It's not the first or last list of one kind or another I've been on," he said.

"The copy which began the current campaign of repression on the part of the police department," the Post story continues, "was presented to Capt. Lagarenne several weeks ago by E. F. McCrossin, consulting engineer of 120 Wall street.

"Part of Mr. McCrossin's income is derived from Alabama and Texas mills, mines, and oil fields, where a rising strike wave is leading to support for Fascism by big business interests."

The Post depicts the author as an active club woman who visited Russia. After that visit, it says, she gathered clippings and wrote her book.

CONFIDENT IN BOOK

Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, Kenilworth housewife, talked of her book after hearing of the story from New York.

"The facts are bullet proof," she declared, "and they ought to be. I worked day and night for 14 months doing the research work. Even Hamilton Fish, anti-communist leader in congress, admitted that it was the most complete survey of radicalism completed so far in America."

She was asked if she named Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt among them.

"You bet I did," she replied. "She's right in with them. She belongs to three "red" agencies; the National Women's Trade Union league and the National Consumers' league, both supported by the Communist Garland fund, and the Non-Intervention Citizens' committee, which is opposed to the Monroe Doctrine."

Mrs. Dilling said there would be more in another book, to say Mrs. Roosevelt talked over a station dedicated to the late E. V. Debs.

GIRL REFUSES TO COMPLAIN AGAINST 'PRINCE' AS SEDUCER

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—A tiny obstacle got in the way of the police today when they, as guardians of the public morality, tried to arraign "Prince" Childe de Rohan d'Harcourt on a charge of seducing his 18 year old poet friend, Louise Krist.

Miss Krist refused very firmly to sign any complaint against the prince.

"I love him. Why should I sign anything that might send him to jail?" she asked the lawyers in West Side court. Her mother and father and several detectives and lawyers tried to make her see that that wasn't the point, but she wouldn't see it.

In the end D'Harcourt's case was adjourned for 48 hours while former Magistrate Charles A. Oberwager, representing Otto Krist, cellist at Luchow's restaurant and father of the girl, makes a further investigation of D'Harcourt's background. The defendant had demanded instant trial and acquittal so he could go free to marry Miss Krist.

SMALL INTEREST SUIT BARRED BY SUPREME COURT

Kerner Petition to Reopen Case Here Is Denied.

BY PARKE BROWN.

What may be the end of the long battle for a complete accounting on interest received by Len Small as state treasurer was written yesterday by the Illinois Supreme court.

Sitting at Springfield, the court put an end to Attorney General Kerner's efforts to reopen the old suit in Cook county as he sought to do last year. Mr. Kerner proceeded on the contention that the $650,000 for which former Attorney General Carlstrom allowed Small to settle the state's claim was far from adequate and sought to recover about $350,000 more.

With the Supreme court ruling against him, Mr. Kerner said last evening that he could not comment until he had an opportunity to study the decision.

Kerner's Comment on Opinion.

"I have read the able although somewhat lengthy opinion from the Supreme court," he said at Springfield. "I wish to take time in which to give it further consideration before I decide upon further action, if any."

The "further action," it was indicated, might be an effort to reopen the action against Small in the Circuit court of Sangamon county, where the original civil proceedings were had. But it was pointed out that obtaining service on Small in that county probably would be difficult if not impossible.

It also was suggested that action might be sought in Kankakee county, Small's home, but one of the reasons for Kerner's attempting to have the proceedings held in Cook county was a belief that possibly the atmosphere of Kankakee county might be expected to verge a bit away from the neutral. For that reason the action was switched to Cook county by means of obtaining service on some of Small's former bondsmen.

Written by Justice Shaw.

The opinion of the court, written by Justice Elwyn R. Shaw of Freeport, a Democrat elected last year, held that a revived suit would be in the nature of a bill of review and could not be recognized as long as the original decree is effective.

"This leaves for our consideration only the final question whether a bill in the nature of a bill of review may be brought in any court than the one in which the original decree was entered. It is clearly established in this that it cannot."

At the same time that it acted on the Small case the court also entered a similar ruling against Attorney General Kerner's companion move against the late Fred E. Sterling who succeeded Small as state treasurer in 1919. The original suit against Sterling was dismissed by Carlstrom just before he left the attorney general's office.

Fire Captain Is Injured in Fighting Garage Blaze

Capt. Fred Pipegrass of Fire Engine company 111 was slightly injured yesterday while fighting a $9,000 blaze that followed a gasoline explosion in Bud Williams garage at 2902 Armitage avenue. Capt. Pipegrass, who was carried from the building when the roof collapsed, was revived and returned to his duties after first aid treatment.

BOY DIES TRYING RITES OF SECRET HANGMAN'S CLUB

Fort Wayne, Ind., June 19.—[Special.]—Strangely inspired by a story of a man who resisted hanging eighteen times, Howard Shelly, 16, tried it himself—and died.

This was the theory held by his family and authorities today as they heard reports of a youthful "hangman's club," whose members sought to see whether they could duplicate the feat of the man who would not be hanged.

Howard's body was found hanging in the basement of his home, presumably as he performed another rite of the mysterious club at a time when other members were not there to cut him down when he became unconscious.

The boys brother-in-law, E. J. Nadeau, Kalamazoo, Mich., when informed of the manner in which Howard met death, revealed Howard had told him of seeing another boy hang to unconsciousness two weeks before.

He said Howard told him that the boys had been inspired by a detective story to form a club to see how long a persons could strangle without being killed.

Officials were questioning Howard's friends today in an effort to learn more of the "suicide club."

Forces Men in His Crowded Court to Obey Old Custom

New York, June 19.—(AP)—Federal Judge John M. Woolsey enforced a rule of courtesy today in his crowded courtroom in the federal building. Seeing women standing, the judge suggested that a group of men stand up and "let the ladies sit down." The men made no move. "Go over there, marshals, and 'roust' them out," said the judge. The marshals did.

"Colors stay fresh as new," says Mrs. K. F. Bell, 4130 Addison St.

"WOMEN of today are more fortunate than those of a generation ago. Our mothers used to slave over the week's wash—yet here I am with whiter, brighter washes than they ever dreamed of, and not a bit of hard work! It's Rinso with its thick lively suds that has made the difference. Rinso soaks clothes several shades whiter than they can be scrubbed. And the colors stay fresh as new."

MRS. K. F. BELL,

Rinso is simply marvelous for tub washing—soaks out dirt, saves scrubbing. Clothes last 2 or 3 times longer and you save lots of money! Rinso gives lasting suds, in hardest water. Makers of 40 famous washers recommend it. Tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

NEW YORK CITY SELLS MILK AT SPECIAL PRICE

Charges 4c Below That Legal for Dealers.

[BY A STAF CORRESPONDENT.]

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—A curious situation with regard to milk price fixing and divergent rulings by the state milk board, working in conjunction with the federal AAA, came to a head today.

A delegation of local grocers and milk dealers called on Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia to protest against the city's selling milk for 8 cents a quart while the grocers and dealers, under prices fixed by the state board, are not allowed to charge less than 12 cents for the same grade.

The grocers and milkmen complained that their business has suffered about 20 per cent since the city began selling milk at 60 baby health and welfare stations. They pointed out that it was a form of unfair competition—that the city actually was violating a cardinal principle of the NRA, if not in fact, the letter of the AAA regulations.

State Board Favors City.

It developed, however, that the La Guardia city administration appears to be safe from a clash with the federal authorities. The state milk control board, after fixing the New York City dealers' price at 12 cents specifically ruled that the city government could produce milk in bulk and retail it "to needy persons" at 8 cents per quart.

The mayor felt that there are hundreds of families in this city who are unable to pay the 12 cent price. With the approval of the state board he decided to set up the city stations. Some of the larger companies agreed to furnish the milk in bulk. Soon the city began selling to all comers for 8 cents a bottle.

As the city's distribution increased from day to day and the stores and dealers felt a drop in sales their resent became intensified.

It became known today that the peak of the city sales had reached 25,934 quarts and that 13,492 families had been accommodated. The grocers and dealers then marched right down to city hall. They contended that the city sales had been indiscriminate, that many families not of the "needy" class has been allowed to purchase, and that the city was in effect taking their business away from them.

Abraham L. Lipman, spokesman for the independent milk dealers, told the mayor that they had no objection to the city selling milk at 8 cents, if some one in authority certified that the families buying milk were in need.

A speaker for the grocers said their milk sales had dropped 20 per cent.

Mayor La Guardia was not deeply impressed with this argument, and retorted:

"Impossible! The city consumption of milk averages 3,000,000 quarts daily. The city's sales of 25,000 quarts is hardly a drop in the bucket."

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Bob Becker

Gadget Saves Birds

June 19, 1934.

A GOOD sized pheasant family was saved yesterday here on the experimental farm. Louis Thurow Jr. ought to get a medal for this deed, and the flushing bar on the mower should receive at least a citation because, sweeping over the alfalfa field ahead of the clattering, sharp blades, it flushed a pheasant hen from her nest, thus giving Thurow time to lift the mower and save the nest and eggs.

This flushing bar is really an invaluable aid to the farmer in saving nesting birds in the hay fields. When I talked a few days ago to Clarence Thurow, manager of the farm, he told me that he had rigged up a flushing bar out of a two by four and some old gunny sacks and it was then being installed on the mowing machine. The use of such a bar is urged by all conservation organizations because it is a simple, inexpensive, yet practical gadget that points out for the farmer the quail and pheasant nests in the hay fields.

Clarence had the experimental farm flushing bar made in just a few minutes. First, he bolted a two by four to the front of the tractor. Then he tacked strips of gunny sacks to the horizontal bar. These strips are weighted at the bottom with some pieces of tire chain, a few bolts, and other bits of iron. When this weighted "curtain" moves over the alfalfa it is some 8 or 9 feet in front of the sharp blades of the mower.

Naturally a nesting bird sitting on a clutch of eggs or brooding her young is frightened by this swishing cloth moving over her head. She takes to wing in a hurry. There is usually plenty of time to stop the mower before it reaches the nest.

That was Louis' experience yesterday when the flushing bar swept over a nesting hen pheasant. As soon as the bird flushed he stopped the mower, noted the location of the nest, and then lifted the blade over it before starting to cut alfalfa again. Today a small "island" of alfalfa surrounds this hen pheasant home.

Inasmuch as quail and pheasants have definite economic value to every farmer, the use of a home made flushing bar returns a real dividend in game and song birds that are saved by it.

Indiana has equipped all state mowing machines operating on highways with these flushing bars. The Illinois department of conservation also has them on highway mowers. Nevertheless, Frank Ridgway relates that two machines which he saw in use not far from Yorkville had very inferior makeshift flushing bars on them, both with skimpy pieces of cloth suspended from the bar.

Everybody has been mighty busy on the job of handling the alfalfa crop. Jack and Gene, two big farm horses, had to lean into their collars plenty strong because they have been hauling the big loads of alfalfa. Pearl and Daisy, another farm team, also have been called upon to do their share of the hauling with Sleezer handling the reins from the sky high top of the fragrant loads of alfalfa.

Everything was going along nicely in putting up the alfalfa, when the big hay rope broke just as it was hoisting a hefty forkful into the barn.

That gave Guenther a chance to show his skill at splicing. He sat down and worked the two broken ends together while Sleezer climbed the tall ladder inside the barn to adjust the hay carrier.

U. S. PROMISES "NO DIRTY WORK" AT NAVAL PARLEY

Davis Assures Japan It Need Have No Fears.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 19.—"Hush, hush" is the password in the naval conversations now going on between Great Britain and the United States in preparation for the international naval conference next year. It is reported that the paucity of news of what is happening is due to requests from Washington.

At the close of yesterday's preliminary meeting between American and British representatives, only the barest communique, giving the names of those present, was given out. It is learned, however, that Prime Minister MacDonald made an impassioned speech in which he stressed the necessity for world peace and the joint responsibility of Great Britain and the United States for insuring it.

Davis Calls on Jap Envoy.

Today it was learned that Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, called on Tsuneo Matsudaira, Japanese ambassador to London, to assure him that no dirty work was done behind his back at No. 10 Downing street yesterday.

The Japanese are said to be very suspicious that the United States and Britain may try to put something over on them. Davis today assured Matsudaira that there would be no Anglo-American understanding against Japan.

The first meeting of representatives of all the powers will be held tomorrow at the British foreign office, but so far as is known there is no agenda. The delegates will informally go over all aspects of the problem.

ITALY DEFIES FRANCE

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, June 19.—The Mediterranean rivalry between France and Italy gave signs today of breaking out again into full effulgence over Italy's recently announced intention to lay the keels this year in Genoa and Trieste shipyards of two 35,000 ton ships of the line which, according to naval experts here, will be the biggest battleships in the world—bigger even than England's Rodney and Nelson.

These two ships will give Italy the predominant position in the Mediterranean, as the French navy so far has nothing to match them.

Answering the French question as to what Premier Mussolini wants with those new ships, the Italian naval writers reply that Italy has been forced into building all the naval armament it has a right to because of the breakdown of the disarmament conference.

"SHANGHAIED"

MISS MARGARET REARLEY.

Judge Howard W. Hayes was asked yesterday to decide whether or not Miss Margaret Rearley, 18 years old, 6527 South Green street, was forced to journey to Valparaiso, Ind., last week to wed Oran Propeck, 22 years old, of Mansfield. The decision was delayed until July 18, when Miss Rearley announced she planned to sue for an annulment.

Propeck, the son of the 1933 champion corn grower of the state, maintained Miss Rearley made the journey of her own free will. The girl, who is a stenographer in a garage at 7516 South Halsted street, where Propeck parked his truck while in the city, said she went along because she feared her suitor would hit her with a monkey wrench.

"He shanghaied me," Miss Rearley told police. "I was standing at 56th street and Racine avenue when he stopped his truck and offered to take me to the garage. Instead of going to the garage he headed fc: the open country."

U. S. DELEGATION SUBMITS PLAN TO CONTROL ARMS

GENEVA, June 19.—(AP)—An American plan to prevent acquisition of secret arms for aggressive purposes by any power was presented to a committee of the adjourned disarmament conference today.

The plan provides not only for complete publicity on orders and shipments of arms and munitions, but also recognizes equality rights for Germany.

Under the American plan, if Germany returns to the conference it would be under the same obligations as other powers, but no more because of its position under the Versailles treaty.

CANADIAN VOTERS OUST REGIMES IN TWO PROVINCES

Liberals Win in Ontario and Saskatchewan.

TORONTO, Ont., June 19.—(AP)—A landslide victory for Canada's Liberal party, corresponding roughly to Democratic leadership in the United States, was clinched tonight in Ontario and Saskatchewan provincial elections.

Under the leadership of 38 year old Mitchell F. Hepburn the Liberals beat the Conservative government, 25 years in power in Ontario, by claiming 66 seats in a parliament of 90.

A majority over all of 42 seats was rolled up, giving the Liberals as big a whip hand over the legislature as any Conservative government has enjoyed in the interim and assuring Hepburn of the premiership of Canada's largest province.

Conservative Premier Beaten.

George H. Henry, Conservative premier, will be replaced by Hepburn, although he was returned among a few Conservatives to the legislature by his district.

Henry blamed his defeat on the depression, which he said had caused voters to turn in desperation to something new. Hepburn said he would endeavor to give honest administration to the people, who had turned out "the discredited Henry administration."

Eight of the Conservative cabinet ministers, two-thirds of the entire cabinet, lost their seats in Ontario.

Anderson Defeated.

In Saskatchewan Conservative Premier J. T. M. Anderson conceded the election to the Liberals after six Conservative cabinet ministers had met defeat. The new Farmer-Labor party was also battling the Liberals in Saskatchewan and lost out.

Provincial finances, beer-and-wine, and the administration of Ontario's publicly owned hydro-electric power project were the prominent issues in the political battle which culminated tonight.

The liberal party, under Mitchell Hepburn, who won a normally conservative seat in Elgin, charged the Henry administration with extravagance. Hepburn promised to cut the administrative cost of government by 50 per cent. Hepburn is 33 and a newcomer in politics.

Liberalize Beer Law.

On beer and wine there was little difference between the parties. The government adopted a measure to provide freer sale at restaurants of these beverages. The measure is not yet effective, but Hepburn promised to proclaim the act if elected.

CAR KILLS BLIND PIANO TUNER.

Mishawaka, Ind., June 19.—[Special.]—Frank H. Reese, 59, blind piano tuner and chairman of work among the blind for the Indiana Lions' club, was killed here today when he stepped in front of an automobile.

COALITION LOOMS AS ONLY WAY TO BEAT MINNESOTA RADICALS

St. Paul, June 19.—(AP)—A Republican swing to the Democrats gave that party its heaviest Minnesota primary vote in years Monday and today laid the groundwork for a possible coalition of the two older parties for a fight to the finish with the incumbent Farmer-Labor administration this fall.

The electorate which gave all but two principal candidates big margins of victory, including United States Senator Henrik Shipstead and Gov. Floyd B. Olson on the Farmer-Labor ticket, shunted the state's once dominant faction, the Republicans, to the position of "third party."

Republicans, who in the last primary mustered the leading total of 267,000 votes fell off astonishingly Monday while Gov. Olson alone, in rolling up 165,565 with 2,634 of the state's 3,696 precincts heard from polled more than the combined Farmer-Labor primary vote of 105,919 in 1932.

The showing of the Democrats placed them not only in a light favorable for a fusion but also to a standing where leaders may be in a position to argue that only through Republican support of the entire Democratic ticket in November can what they claim is the threat of Socialism from the Farmer-Laborites be avoided by united party action behind one slate.

Final reports tonight served only to boost totals of those in the front ranks.

GALESBURG G. O. P. SESSION ASSAILS DEMOCRAT RULE

Galesburg, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Plans for a unified approach to the state campaign in the fall were drafted at a meeting here this afternoon of Republican congressional, legislative and local candidates of the Fifteenth congressional district.

The meeting is one of a series being held throughout the state to make plans for the coming campaign. Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, Republican state chairman, predicted that Illinois will elect a Republican house at Springfield and add ten or more Republicans to the delegation in congress.

"Governmental policies that violate the laws of man, of nature and of God, cannot bring a blessing to the people," Johnson declared in the keynote address of the meeting. He charged that "the changing uncertainties of business operation have retarded industrial activities."

Various candidates, including B. M. Chiperfield of Canton, Republican candidate for congressman, spoke.

Boy, 2, Drowns; Brother, Father Killed in Accidents

Omaha, Neb., June 19.—(AP)—Two year old Conrad Andersen, whose father and elder brother had been killed in accidents during the last two years, was drowned late today in three feet of water at his mother's dairy farm near here.

NORTH DAKOTA'S SUPREME COURT TO ACT ON LANGER

Expect Ouster Petition to Be Filed Today.

Bismarck, N. D., June 19.—(AP)—The North Dakota Supreme court is expected to meet tomorrow on the opening legal struggle to unseat William Langer, convicted governor, from the chair of chief executive.

Asking removal of Langer on grounds of public emergency and the claim that he is illegally occupying the governor's office after his conviction of a felony, a petition is expected to be filed by supporters of Ole H. Olson, lieutenant governor, claimant to the chair.

Checkmated once in their attempts to obtain Supreme court action through demand on the attorney general, the direct appeal is the second move by Olson forces in the greatest game of political chess in the state. Their first demand was refused Monday by Attorney General P. O. Sathre who, in a prepared opinion, held the governor was legally exercising the functions of his office.

Langer is prepared to battle for the right to continue as the state's leader. The entire staf of the attorney general's office has been summoned to meet the challenge of Langer's political enemies. Every legal stratagem is expected to be brought into play by both sides before a final decision is reached.

With the primary election only a week away, other opponents of Langer began their drive, using for the first time the governor's conviction on charges of conspiring to defraud the United States.

Langer and four others convicted with him are to be sentenced June 29 at Fargo. They were found guilty of conspiracy to obstruct federal relief legislation by seeking contributions to the Leader, Langer administration publication, from workers paid with federal relief funds. They face maximum sentences of two years imprisonment or $10,000 fine or both.

19 MEXICANS SHUT IN BY POLICE VOW BATTLE TO DEATH

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, June 19.—(AP)—With six of their number already dead and several others severely wounded, the survivors of a group of 25 armed men barricaded in a suburban house here swore today to defend themselves to death against besieging police and political opponents.

The besieged men are followers of Silviano Barba Gonzalez, candidate for governor of the state of Jalisco. They took refuge in the house Sunday after police broke up a political demonstration. Police attacked the house and a pitched battle has been going on at intervals ever since.

A telephone is available to the defenders, and they have been putting in calls to President Rodriguez and other officials appealing for troops to come to their assistance.

YOUTH DROWNS IN RESERVOIR.

Shelbyville, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Becoming exhausted while trying to swim across a railroad reservoir at Westervelt, near here, Max Jenkins, 17, of Henton, drowned today.

ALL FIRESTONE TIRES ARE NOW

Double Guaranteed

FOR LIFE AGAINST ALL DEFECTS AND FOR

12 Months

Against all Road Hazards*

TO THE millions of satisfied users of Firestone tires, this new guarantee will have no particular significance. They are familiar with the satisfaction, safety and care-free service given by Firestone tires, which mean more than any written guarantees which lie behind them. But to those who have never had the safe and satisfying experience of driving on Firestone tires, we are announcing this all-inclusive guarantee in order that they may be assured beforehand of the satisfaction and safety which they will experience afterwards.

The greatest guarantee of all is the time-established guarantee behind every Firestone tire which comes from the unequaled performance records of Firestone tires. The fact that every one of the 33 drivers at the Indianapolis 500 mile sweepstakes chose and bought Firestone high speed tires, speaks for itself. Guarantees mean little to them. They must have the safety and protection in tires that actually guard their lives. The greatest tire guarantee for you is the extra quality, strength, safety and dependability built into every Firestone tire.

Call on the Firestone service dealer or service store in your community and equip your car with Firestone tires today. Get the absolute protection of our guarantee for 12 months against all road hazards*, for life against all defects, and for safety, economy and greater service through the extra quality built into every Firestone tire. Don't delay. You will save money at present prices because crude rubber has advanced 442 per cent and cotton 190 per cent, and tire prices cannot remain at present low levels.

WOMAN ON WAY TO FAIR FATALLY INJURED IN CRASH

Chicago Man, Hit by an Auto, Dies.

Mrs. Myrtle Hedquist, 51 years old, of Lisle, Ill., died yesterday in St. Theresa hospital in Waukegan of injuries suffered in an automobile accident Monday. The car in which she was riding to A Century of Progress after a trip to Wisconsin collided with a truck driven by Ralph Cooley of Crethersville, Ind., five miles northwest of Waukegan.

There was one death here yesterday, bringing the Cook county motor toll for 1934 to 554. The victim was:

James Dailey, 34 years old, 7844 South Laflin street. Died in German Deaconess hospital of injuries suffered when hme was struck by an automobile in front of 638 West Garfield boulevard May 9.

Dailey was crossing the street when he walked into the path of an automobile driven by P. F. Kramer, 26 years old, 1206 West Fifty-Second street. Kramer was not held, but was notified to appear at the inquest to be held this morning at Kenny's undertaking rooms, 5438 South Halsted street.

JOHN P. YETTER DEAD; MERCHANT OF LEE COUNTY

John P. Yetter, for 40 years a merchant in Steward, Lee county, Illinois, died yesterday in the Presbyterian hospital following an attack of pneumonia. He was 80 years old.

For 14 years Mr. Yetter had lived with his family at 5501 Washington boulevard. Before that he operated the largest store in Steward, was postmaster for 22 years, and was active in Republican affairs. His wife, Margaret, died two years ago.

Survivors are three daughters, Ruby, Nanette, and Mrs. Eva Riley, all living at the Washington boulevard address, and a son, John, of Steward. Services will be held there Friday.

CULLEN, RETIRED POLICEMAN, DIES; RITES TOMORROW

Cornelius Cullen, 79 years old, retired sergeant of police, died yesterday of heart disease in his home, 4229 North Troy street.

Mr. Cullen was born in Ireland and came to Chicago as a young man. He joined the police department in 1885 and during his 40 year career was cited several times for bravery.

His widow, Mrs. Margaret Cullen, and four children, Mrs. Margaret Rowe, Mrs. Mary Ranach and Charles G. and Cornelius E. Cullen, survive. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 o'clock Thursday in Our Lady of Mercy Roman Catholic church, Troy street and Montrose avenue, with burial in Mount Carmel cemetery.

14 MINERS SUE FOR $140,000 AS MOB DAMAGES

Harrisburg, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Fourteen employés of the Peabody Coal company mine No. 43 have filed a suit, each asking $10,000 damages from Saline county as a result of a riot at that mine Oct. 5 last year.

They charge the county failed to protect their persons and property against a mob. The suit is based on an act to suppress mob violence.

JOHN N. STEWART DEAD; ATTORNEY, CIVIL WAR VET

John Nelson Stewart, retired attorney and civil war veteran, died yesterday in his home, 435 West 61st place, where he had lived since he came to Chicago in 1890. He was 87 years old.

JOHN NELSON STEWART.

Mr. Stewart was born in Cleveland in 1846. At the age of 14 he enlisted in the military telegraph service, later called the secret service, and served 22 months. While at home for medical treatment he enlisted in the 150th Ohio infantry and received an honorable discharge at the close of the war.

Later he assisted in the building of the Union Pacific railroad, served as an alderman in Cleveland and as an assistant in the United States treasury department. He came to Chicago in 1890 and was admitted to practice here. He was a past commander of the Illinois G. A. R.

Mr. Stewart is survived by two sons, John N. Stewart Jr. of Pasadena, Cal., and Samuel C. Stewart of Chicago, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Newland of Paw Paw, Mich.

SCHENCK DEAD; VETERAN OF GAS COMPANY HERE

Rudolph Schenck, widely known in Chicago, where he had lived more than 50 years, died late yesterday following a heart attack at his home, 9550 Winston avenue. He was 73 years old. His death followed several months of ill health. His widow, Frida Schenck, is the only member of the immediate family surviving.

Mr. Schenck had been in the employ of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company almost 50 years at the time of his death and was the oldest employé of the company in point of service. He had often announced that he would retire when he had rounded out a half century.

Born in Rappenau, Germany, in 1861, and educated in the technical university of Stuttgart, he came to this country in 1881 and began work for the gas company in 1883. He was the inventor of several devices and processes widely used in gas manufacture and the author of a number of technical treatises. He was a member of the Western Society of Engineers and of Arcana lodge, No. 717, of the Masonic order.

Funeral services will be held at the chapel of Graceland cemetery at 3 p. m. tomorrow, after which the remains will be cremated in accordance with his wishes.

Mary Sowers Scott Dies at Home in Jonesboro

Herrin, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Mary A. Sowers Scott, 82, died last night at her home in Jonesboro. She taught in schools at Jonesboro, Murphysboro, and Mt. Vernon.

MRS. GERTRUDE WELLS DIES IN ACID ACCIDENT

Mrs. Gertrude Wells, member of one of Chicago's leading pioneer families, died yesterday at the Mylan sanitarium of burns suffered April 16 when she accidentally swallowed acid which she had been using to clean some of the rare coins in her collection at her home, 1511 Hyde Park boulevard. She was 60 years old.

While cleaning the coins Mrs. Wells contracted a headache. She swallowed a headache tablet, then reached for a glass of water. By mistake she picked up the glass of acid.

Mrs. Wells was the widow of Samuel R. Wells, former business manager of the Chicago Daily News, who died several years ago, and was the daughter of Thomas Hoyne, former mayor of Chicago, who settled here in 1835. She is survived by two sons, Sheldon Wells, official of Swift & Co., in Winnipeg, Canada, and Hoyne Wells, a rancher, of Alcalde, N. M.

There are also two brothers and a sister surviving, Thomas M. Hoyne, 92 years old, oldest active member of the Chicago Bar association; Frank Hoyne, 80 years old, former president of the Chicago real estate board, and Mrs. Clifford Williams.

Maclay Hoyne, former state's attorney, and his brother, Thomas Temple Hoyne, controler of customs, are nephews of Mrs. Wells. An inquest into her death will be held today at 4227 Cottage Grove avenue.

CLAIMS TO BE GAVIN M'NAB SON IN ESTATE SUIT

San Francisco, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—An alleged illegitimate son of Gavin McNab filed suit here today for a one-third share of the million dollar estate of the prominent San Francisco attorney who died in 1927.

He is Gavin Lippi, 21, son of Mrs. Marie Lippi Marraccini, San Francisco.

The youth's mother, the suit alleged, met McNab when she was 17, and agreed to live with him. A son was born March 20, 1913, and from his birth until the death of McNab, the complaint charges, the attorney provided for the mother and boy and promised the youth would be bequeathed one-third of his estate.

McNab, however, the complaint adds, left the boy nothing upon his death, although a concealed bequest of $20,000 was left to the mother and has been paid.

MRS. MAX EITEL, WIFE OF CAFE OWNER, IS DEAD

Mrs. Marie Eitel, 51 years old, wife of Max Eitel, restaurateur, died yesterday in her home at 801 Linden avenue, Wilmette, following an illness of several days. Mrs. Eitel, who was born in Lübeck, Germany, came to the United States with her parents when she was 7 years old. She is survived by her husband, who is part owner of the Old Heidelberg concession at A Century of Progress; two daughters, and a son. The children are Elsa, wife of P. H. Mueller, publisher of the Abendpost, German newspaper; Dorothy, and Max Jr.

Charles Sumner Stebbins, Retired Rail Man, Dies

The body of Charles Sumner Stebbins, 86 years old, 6838 Normal boulevard, was taken to Omaha, Neb., last evening for burial. Mr. Stebbins, who was the father of Joel Stebbins, nationally prominent astronomer, died Monday night. He had worked as an accountant for the Union Pacific railroad for 40 years before his retirement in 1918. Mr. Stebbins is survived by three children—Joel, who is director of Washburn observatory and professor of astronomy at the University of Wisconsin; Eunice, and Millicent.

Henry A. Siebrecht, 85, Landscape Architect, Dies

New Rochelle, N. Y., June 19.—(AP)—Henry Augustus Siebrecht, internationally famous landscape architect and florist, died today following a year's illness. He was 85 years old.

TAKES ACID, LEAPS IN CISTERN.

Evansville, Ind., June 19.—[Special.]—Making doubly sure of death, Mrs. Lloyd Payne, 44, swallowed acid and plunged in the cistern at her farm home near Mount Vernon, Ind.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Carlos Molina and his rhumba orchestra will return to the air via W-G-N from the Boulevard room of the Stevens hotel early in July. The South American maestro, who resembles the late Rudolph Valentino in appearance, will replace Charlie Agnew and his singing orchestra, who probably will return to the air from Denver.

If the plan to reopen the Dells on Friday, June 29, goes through, Tom Gerun's orchestra probably will broadcast from the spot over local NBC outlets. State's Attorney Courtney, who kept the Morton Grove roadhouse from opening under Sam Hare's proprietorship, disclosed yesterday that his sanction for opening the place under new management had been sought through Attorney Stephen Love, representing Abraham Goldman, New York restaurant man. Mr. Courtney replied that if Attorney Love could convince him that Goldman would operate a reputable establishment that the prosecutor would not prevent the opening. He added, however, that he would not tolerate any management acting as a blind or front for Hare or his associates.

The broadcasts of Carl Huff and Noble Sissle from the French Casino have been switched to NBC. CBS was dropped, it was said, because too few early evening shots were made available. . . . Stricken by sudden illness Hal Stokes surrendered his baton to Ted Weems last night for the Palmer House Promenade on NBC. Ted regularly directs his own orchestra at the Palmer House, with W-G-N carrying the broadcasts. . . . Anson Weeks and his California crew will transfer their activities from the Aragon to the Trianon after Wayne King returns.

Rejecting the offer of the services of Jack Oakie, screen comedian, the gum company sponsoring Myrt and Marge has re-engaged the well known mother-daughter team for the coming season. Philip K. Wrigley yesterday put an end to the speculation about his radio plans by announcing that Myrt and Marge would be back on the air Monday, Sept. 25 at the same time as heretofore.

Myrtle Vail has the new show ready—there will be a new plot and additional characters. Donna Damerel Kretzinger [Marge] returned Monday from a visit in California.

The Detroit Symphony orchestra is hanging up some sort of record in the matter of broadcasting from the Fair. Director Victor Kolar and his men are on the air about 10 hours each week. WJJD carries a half hour from 8:45 to 9:15 every evening except Saturday, and two hours on Sunday, possibly an all time record of symphonic broadcasts per week for a single station. The rest of the time goes to CBS with WBBM outletting several periods.

William B. [Skeets] Miller, director of special events for NBC, paused here yesterday to complete local arrangements for handling the Stratosphere balloon broadcast scheduled tentatively for about July 1. The broadcast is to be controlled locally, with the short waves to be picked up at Downers Grove from the balloon which is to rise from a valley near Rapid City, S. D. Miller left by plane for Rapid City last night.

Mrs. Ida M. Waterbury Dies; Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. Ida Mary Waterbury, 74 years old, for fifty years a resident of Chicago and vicinity, died yesterday at her home, 519 Naperville street, Wheaton, Ill. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the residence, and burial will be at Forest Home cemetery. Mrs. Waterbury is survived by two sons, William H. Waterbury, vice president of T. E. Joiner & Co., Inc., and Ralph S. Waterbury, trafic manager of the Lehigh Portland Cement company.

Son of Assistant State's Attorney at Benton Dies

Benton, Ill., June 19.—[Special.]—Frank S. Hickman, 22, son of Assistant State's Attorney Robert E. Hickman, died last night at the Illinois Research and Educational hospital, Chicago. Death resulted from an infection in his nose.

Historic Scenes—Places associated with the early French explorers, sites of ancient forts, Indian villages—all are shown on the Chicago Tribune's new 1934 Chicagoland Map. No matter what point of interest, town, or beauty spot you want to drive to in the Chicago territory, this new, enlarged road map shows you how to reach it by the safest, quickest route. New features include state and county institutions, hangars at airports, radio stations, separated 2- and 1-lane pavements, metropolitan Chicago in a scale almost twice as large as ever before used in a Chicagoland Map. This is the finest, most comprehensive road map of this area ever published. Every motorist should have one. AUGUST TERENS, VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR, DEAD AT 91

Manitowoc, Wis., June 19.—[Special.]—August Terens, 91, last member of the Two Rivers G. A. R. post, died in his home near the village of Mishicot late last night. His death leaves but one civil war veteran in the county, Carl Rieck, 85, who resides about 15 miles southwest of this city.

Mr. Terens was unable for the first time this year to participate in Memorial day services. He enlisted in the Union army in 1861, joining the Second Wisconsin cavalry. He was Col. Washburn's orderly and at one time was a member of Gen. Grant's bodyguard.

He served three years and ten months, but before returning to civilian life did some Indian fighting under Gen. Custer. Of all his war experiences he recalled most vividly that Col. Washburn and he were the first to enter the courthouse at the surrender of Vicksburg.

ORCHESTRA PLAYS FOR LAST RITES OF W. A. CLARK JR.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—William A. Clark Jr., multimillionaire Montana industrialist and patron of the arts, was buried in Hollywood cemetery today after a tribute from the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, which he founded.

The woodwind and string sections of the orchestra played at the service in St. John Episcopal church.

At the mausoleum, William Cullen Bryant's "Thanatopsis" was read by R. D. McLean, Shakespearean actor and close friend of Clark.

Clark died last Thursday at his summer home at Salmon Lake, Mont. Other memorial services were conducted simultaneously today in Butte and Missoula, Mont., and Jerome, Ariz.

Lying-In Board Plans Gigantic Yuletide Fete

"Merry-Go-Round" Will Last for Week.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THOSE energetic women who serve on the board of the Chicago Lying-In hospital and so are responsible for part of the support of the hospital don't believe in resting on their laurels, apparently, for just about a month ago—on May 18, to be exact—they raised about $9,000 at a benefit they gave to open the Cascades. And yesterday they announced plans for a gigantic benefit for next winter.

"The Christmas Merry-Go-Round" is the intriguing name they have chosen for their affair, which is to be a huge toy and gift exhibit, combined with entertainment features, music and dancing every afternoon and evening from Dec. 1 through Dec. 8. The Merry-Go-Round, which will occupy the mezzanine floor, the grand ballroom and the exposition hall at the Hotel Sherman, will open with a children's charity ball on Saturday afternoon, the 1st, and wind up with a ball for adults on Saturday night, the 8th.

Three Weddings on Calendar Today.

Sharing the June bride spotlight today are three young women, two who live in Winnetka and one who lives on the south side. In Winnetka this afternoon Miss Jeannette Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farwell Ferry, will become the bride of Harry Kohlsaat Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lord Wells, at 4 o'clock in the Ferry home on Sheridan road, followed by a reception in the garden.

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock Miss Elizabeth Wales, daughter of Mrs. Henry Whitewell Wales, will be married to Robert Taylor Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Porter of Chicago, at a small wedding. Miss Dorothy Trude, daughter of the Walter Scott Trudes, and William Henry Sills, son of the Clarence H. Sills, will repeat their wedding vows at 8 o'clock tonight in St. Paul's church on the south side and will receive the congratulations of their friends at a reception afterward at the South Shore Country club.

The Hill-Wells wedding will be fairly large, but the reception will be larger, for there is plenty of room for the guests in the grounds. The bride's sister, Miss Mary Hill, will be her maid of honor and two Vassar classmates—the bride was graduated there on the 11th—Miss Frances Wells, who is also the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Frances Preston of New York; Miss Francesca Eschweiler of Milwaukee, and Miss Sally Fitzpatrick of Brookline, Mass., will be the bridesmaids.

Edward C. Kohlsaat will serve Mr. Wells as best man, and ushering will be Robert Hill, a brother of the bride; Werner Schwyzer of Minneapolis, Hughes Dallas of New York, and Pryor Percival of Boston. The Rev. Samuel Harkness of the Winnetka Congregational church will read the ceremony. Mr. Wells and his bride will be at home in Cambridge, Mass., after Oct. 1.

Engaged Girl to Be Guest.

Another young lady who will be receiving good wishes at the wedding today is Miss Anne Louise Yarbrough, whose parents, the Fenner M. Yarbroughs of Evergreen, Ala., have recently announced her engagement to another of the bride's brothers, Fred B. Hill. They will be married either next month or the month after and will live in Birmingham, Ala., where Mr. Hill has been engaged in business. Miss Yarbrough and Mrs. Ferry's brother, Robert W. Sayles of Boston, are the only out-of-town wedding guests.

The Wales-Porter wedding, which will take place in the house, and the supper afterwards, which will be served in the garden, will be very small because of the death of Mr. Wales about five months ago. Mr. and Mrs. Wales Jr. arrived yesterday from Louisville and he will give his sister in marriage. Others who have arrived for the wedding from away are William Roscoe Willett of Louisville, Mrs. Wales' brother, Judge and Mrs. John McDonough of Denver, relatives of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Charles Drake of Davenport, Ia., the former Helen Dupue of Chicago, who will be Miss Wales' only attendant.

The Rev. Herbert L. Willett of the Kenilworth Union church, a cousin of Mrs. Wales' father, who read the ceremony at the wedding of the former Mabelle Willett to the late Mr. Wales exactly 33 years ago, will read the ceremony tonight. Knight Porter will serve his brother as best man, and ushering will be a younger brother, Benjamin Porter, and the bride's brother, Robert Willett Wales of Winnetka. His wife, the former Solace Huntington of Columbus, O., has lent her bridal veil, an heirloom of her family, to Miss Wales for the occasion.

Go to Asheville for Honeymoon.

Mr. Porter and his bride will go to the Biltmore Forest Country club at Asheville, N. C. for a fortnight, and then will be at home with Mrs. Wales in Winnetka for the next year.

Six attendants will preceed Miss Trude down the aile tonight and Mr. Sills will have one more. The Rev. George Thomas will read the ceremony. Mrs. Aldenia Wright will be matron of honor for her sister, and Miss Ruth Walters will be the maid of honor. Miss Roberta Storms, Miss Mary Jane Pelley of New Haven; Miss Ilo Carr and Miss Blanche Cooper will be the bridesmaids.

Fred Sills will serve his brother as best man, and ushering will be the bride's brother, William S. Trude Jr., Clarence H. Sills Jr., Gahan Lawler, William Cummings, John Harris and Robert Rice.

Mr. Sills and his bride will sail Saturday on the Rex for two months in Europe and on their return will divide the rest of the summer between Lake Geneva and the Trudes' ranch in Idaho. In October they will return

The Captain and the Crew at Work

Sailing may be unadulterated fun for guests, but plenty of hard work is mixed with the fun of the owners of the boat if they are captain and crew, too, and after every sail Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Williams are busy putting their Elizabeth into shipshape order. When not in use the boat lies at anchor in the north end of Belmont harbor, but it seldom is there on Saturdays or Sundays, for Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their friends make good use of it on those days. Last Sunday they gave a supper party aboard it for Miss Jane Fortune and Joseph Nolan, who are to be married on June 30. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Chicago Style Designers Will Stage Exhibit

Wholesale Market Group to See Show.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Chicago's unobtrusive but wholly capable corps of dress designers will step into the spotlight on June 26, 27, and 28, before the Chicago Wholesale Market council, in an event designated as this city's premier move to establish recognition for its eminence as a style center. Textiles will occupy the major share of attention, but the autumn modes as interpreted by Chicago couturiers will have a viewing.

For three days, beginning next Tuesday, great textile houses of the country who are represented by branches or headquarters in Chicago, will combine a display of more than a hundred garments, with a merchandising clinic for apparel men of the midwest. Presidents of four large State street stores will be speakers at the clinic next Wednesday, discussing not only market trends, but methods of merchandising.

Fifteen of the most attractive models of the city have been retained to wear the coats, suits, and dresses created by the Chicago men and women designers from the richest and most colorful of the new fabrics on Tuesday and Thursday. Miss Thelma Roberts, who was brought from New York to supervise the fabric and fashion revue, has a background of experience in New York, Atlantic City, and other eastern communities.

D. F. Kelly of The Fair, Bruce MacLeish of Carson Pirie, Scott & Co., Leon Mandel II. of Mandel Brothers, and Elmer T. Stevens, president of Charles A. Stevens & Co., will be heard at the clinic, as will Mary Elizabeth Hyde, formerly an instructor at the Chicago Art institute, and now a designer.

All sessions will be held at headquarters of the Chicago Wholesale Market council, 371 West Adams street.

Dr. Harshe of Art Institute to Receive Yale Honor Degree

Dr. Robert B. Harshe, director of the Art institute, will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from Yale university at the commencement ceremony this morning in Woolsey hall, New Haven. President Roosevelt and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, will receive honorary degrees at the same program.

Dr. Harshe will be presented for the degree by Prof. William Lyon Phelps and the degree will be conferred by James Rowland Angell, president of Yale. The Chicago art director is to be given the award in recognition of his work in assembling the two Century of Progress art exhibitions at the Art institute. Dr. Harshe, director of the institute since 1931, has been granted degrees by Northwestern and Nebraska universities.

Daughter— Gardens— Messages.

YOU might be interested to know that Mrs. Alfred Wolfe, daughter of Chicago Symphony orchestra head Frederick Stock, takes complete charge of her father's mail and correspondence. Mr. Stock sees hardly 10 per cent of the letters that pour in to him, as Mrs. Wolfe, a thorough musician herself, is as able to take care of technical correspondence having to do with music and programs as is Mr. Stock. In addition, she is an accomplished linguist, and answers the French and German and Italian letters as easily as she does the ones in English. It ought to be fun for an autograph collector, or a biographer of the famous, to go through her files. There are letters from famous composers and musicians from all over the world, as well as many written by Mr. Stock himself during his summer vacations. They ought to be superb material for a biography of Mr. Stock, which no one probably could do as well as Vera Stock Wolfe, and also, after a fashion, a record of musical history in America.

IT is interesting to note that at the summer home of the Stocks and the Wolfes in Ephraim, Wis., not a single photograph of the famous musicians who are their friends adorns the walls or the tables. The big rambling house, built high on a bluff overlooking Green bay, was erected from the local stones—most of them purchased from farmers who no longer wanted their stone fences. All the iron work in the house—the fire screens and candelabra, the gates and the terrace tables—was also made by a local ironmonger. Mr. Stock's study, a large room with pine rafters and a great stone fireplace, has a desk table eight feet long. It is at this table he sits to revise scores and re-orchestrate symphony concert programs. When he isn't doing that he is likely to be whittling wood toys for his two small grandsons. In the corner of the studio stands a sample of his handiwork—a device by which he keeps a record of their growth. A tall pole is attached to a little standard, and little wooden arrows nailed to the pole indicate the heights of young Frederick and young Alfred from year to year.

BOTH Mrs. Stock and Vera Stock Wolfe are enthusiastic gardeners. Mrs. Stock prefers to raise vegetables, and Mrs. Wolfe flowers. There is a charming rock garden, with saxifrage and Iceland poppies and many other varieties of gay and fragile bloom; a cutting garden, and an all white garden where white tulips in early spring give way to white pansies and white stock, white peonies, snapdragon and white delphinium. And an Irish setter named Rusty, his coat glistening in the sunshine, leaps and runs all over the place. Mrs. Stock was forced to leave her peas and spinach, her lettuce and radishes in other hands, however, as she sailed last week with Mr. Stock for their favorite spa in Austria, where he will rest until he comes back to conduct at the Swift bandshell at A Century of Progress late in the summer.

THE latest service of one of the telegraph companies is a form message to be sent by World's Fair visitors to the folks back home. For a quarter the visitor may send, to any point in the United States, any one of twenty messages ranging from "I AM WELL AND ENJOYING MYSELF FAIR WONDERFUL WISH YOU WERE HERE TO ENJOY IT WITH ME," to a more laconic one, "TIRED BUT SATISFIED LOVE TO ALL." One of the most enthusiastic of the form messages is No. 19, which says, "MISS YOU AT THIS GREAT FAIR. IF YOU WERE ONLY HERE MY JOY WOULD BE COMPLETE SENDING MUCH LOVE WITH THIS WIRE."

We note, though, that there's no form message for Fair visitors who aren't satisfied. If they should want to wire, "It's lousy. Don't come," for instance, they would have to pay full rate.

Good Morning!

This, probably, comes as near being good, clean fun as do most rowdy comedies. True, the wine when it's red in the cup, and husbands and wives who drag anchor, are among the story components. BUT—the hero and heroine are a nice young married pair who truly love each other, and the other folks are clever players who caricature their rôles to the point of burlesque.

Glenda Farrell's takeoff on Mae West—so sly that it seems almost unconscious—is a masterpiece of cunning.

Bunny [Glenda] is, so to speak, the cause of it all. She's the wife of a millionaire sheep rancher who cares more for sheep than he does for her. Which is quite all right with Bunny, who has a roving eye and a susceptible heart, and refuses to be lonely when the colonel's away.

Among the friends who drop in on her is Tom, the perpetually soused spouse of a lady who nags him ragged. The Toms [don't remember the last name and does it matter?] occupy the apartment next Madge and Frank, the nice young married couple I told you about—who, when the picture opens, are awakening on the morn of their first wedding anniversary.

There's to be an anniversary dinner for two, which Madge will cook with her own fair hands. . . . Dinner time comes. . . . Where is Frank?

He calls up at the last minute saying he can't come home as he has to see a lady about a boat. [He's a boat salesman.]

He's speaking the truth—but the lady is Bunny. . . .

I refuse to go further into details re the story in which two disappearing overcoats, a sheep called Eloise, a bell hop known as Al, the parties I've been tattling about and many others meet in a Reno hotel, where their interests become ludicrously merged.

"Merry Wives of Reno" has ridiculous situations and pert dialog that frequently verge decidedly on the "off." BUT—it's better than some and no worse than many other farces and, as compared to the contributions of Milton Berle and various other masters of ceremonies which foul the all encircling good, is just a lily of the field in the way of entertainment.

See you tomorrow.

Prof. Compton Gets Science Degree at Princeton Exercises

Princeton, N. J., June 19.—(AP)—Princeton university held its 187th commencement today, forced indoors by a rain which swept the campus. James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard university, received the degree of doctor of laws; Arthur Holly Compton, Nobel prize winner in physics and University of Chicago processor, doctor of science, and Owen J. Roberts, associate justice of the United States Supreme court, doctor of laws.

John T. Smithies, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Smithies of Chicago was graduated with an unusual record. Not only did Smithies star in varsity football and on the track team but he was graduated with highest possible honors in geology, receiving diploma summa cum laude. He was the only senior to be awarded membership in the leading honorary societies, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. He is a member of Tiger Inn and president of the Varsity club. Smithies sails on July 7 as a member of the Princeton-Cornell track team which meets Oxford and Cambridge at Oxford on July 20. Smithies prepped at Lake Forest academy, Lake Forest, Ill.

U. S. Loans for Teachers Boost U. of C. Attendance

A total of 1,600 students had enrolled for summer work at the University of Chicago late yesterday afternoon. The figure is 10 per cent greater than the enrollment for the summer quarter of 1933. University officials attributed the increase to the act providing for the use of federal funds for payment of teachers' salaries.

Shaded Fields of Algonquin Welcome 140

Young Camper Hopes to See a Real Cow.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

One hundred and forty babies, children and their work weary mothers from crowded districts of Chicago yesterday arrived at Camp Algonquin, a spot near Cary on the Fox river supported principally by readers of THE TRIBUNE, as the camp opened its 12 weeks season.

Laden with flimsy suitcases, paper bags and lunch boxes, the mothers and children first met in the North Western station. With the assistance of kindly conductors, who for years have superintended such excursions which the Chicago & North Western railway provides free, mothers, babies and bundles were stowed on two cars.

Many of the children had never been to the country before.

"This is the first time mine have been on a train," said a 20 year old mother with four red haired children, from 1 to 4 years old, the eldest a boy deaf from a meningitis attack.

"Aren't they a lot of trouble?" asked a mother of only two.

"O, no, I get along," she answered. "But we just have three rooms and not an inch of yard, so it will be real nice to get into the country. It's my first vacation, too."

Four beautiful girls, from 2 to 12 years old, with their mother, sat with pale faces staring out of the window. Once when the eldest was a baby the family had been to "Ioway," said the mother, but other than that it was the first trip any had taken out of Chicago.

"They haven't slept for a week they're so thrilled," the mother said. "Rose has never seen a live cow. I do hope there are some cows somewhere about."

It was her first vacation in 13 years, she said, during which time she had had seven daughters, three of whom she'd lost. Her husband recently went back to work, she said, and if her two middle girls could be cured of their nervous afflictions by rest all would be well in their family.

A little boy about 4 years old gripped his 2 year old sister by the hand on arriving at Cary, where the party was taken in trucks to the camp. His mother was busy with her other four.

"Gee, lookit the trees," he told her. "What'd I tell you, ma?"

"This six don't seem like anything," the mother was saying to another woman. "I raised ten of my husband's children by his first marriage, taking five out of orphanages to do it, before mine came along. Then he left me before the last was born. He's in the Bridewell now."

All was order and serenity at the camp, presided over by Mrs. Astrid Save. Under huge spreading oak trees the various dormitories received their burden of tired city mothers and children, who will stay for two weeks each. Tomorrow Mrs. Save will welcome another 140. On June 28 a group of 80 undernourished children come to spend the entire summer.

Contributions to the Camp Algonquin fund may be mailed to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Tower, and will be acknowledged in the columns of this newspaper.

THE WRONG MAN

BY MAY EDGINTON

SYNOPSIS.

Cara Follette, only daughter of a Canadian business man, anticipates becoming her father's partner. While traveling in Europe she meets Jerry Flint, a poor young English singer. She stakes him to Toronto, where she can get him auditions impossible for him to gain abroad. Benjamin Follette and his wife, Anny, had grown apart in the years he was busy becoming successful. Now Follette is about to lose his business to his rival, Redman Harmer. Harmer recently returned from Europe, where he saw and fell in love with Cara. He asks Follette for an opportunity of meeting his daughter. When Cara returns home her father tells her of his failure and urges her to meet Harmer. It would mean much to him and he likes Harmer. Cara decides to go up northwest to Mulligan's camp for a month to think it over. Meanwhile no one is to get an inkling of their business troubles. Anny will find friends for Jerry Flint, whom Cara has decided she loves. Cara sells her car for expense money and gives Jerry half. Harmer hears of Cara's plans from her father. He flies to Mulligan's ahead of her and hires the place from Dan Mulligan for a month and the use of his name. Jerry follows Cara. Harmer meets Cara on the way, introducing himself as Mulligan. He and Jerry are antagonistic. They camp for the night near a lake. Jerry and Cara go for a morning swim. Jerry disappears in a water hole. Mulligan saves them from drowning in the strong current under a waterfall. They reach Mulligan's.

INSTALMENT XXVII.
WHAT COULD NEVER BE.

They finished the meal.

"A cigaret outside, dear?" Jerry asked Cara.

She glanced at Mulligan after she had said: "Yes," but she did not know why.

They rose. Jerry was still studiously polite, and inwardly triumphing. He had got the other man's measure now. Politeness and contempt subtly mixed were the treatment for a fellow like that. They understood rough stuff and revelled in it, and no doubt could beat you at it, but a turn—a twist of the more delicate weapon of ridicule in their insensitive hide—and where were they?

"Jolly good supper," he observed pleasantly. Harmer stood looking at them.

"Let me advise you to turn in early," he said, "if you want to begin to make the best of your short visit to me."

"One cigaret," Cara answered.

"Or two. Or three," Jerry added, still smiling.

"You might feel like a quiet day fishing in the lake for a start," Hammer said easily. "Plenty of bass and trout. We've a big sailing canoe as well as a couple of small ones."

"O, you must think of something more exciting for us than that." Jerry remained insolently pleasant. "We haven't come here only to fish in small lakes."

"I appreciate that."

The young man had his arm in Cara's, moving towards the open door. "I appreciate that!" What did the fellow mean! It was by way of being an insult, wasn't it? It had a double entendre! From a paid guide! Flushed darkly, he almost demanded apology, administered rebuke, but somehow Cara had drawn him out of the cabin.

The hunter fished far enough from them.

They stood in a full flood of moonlight.

There were chopped tree trunks placed about the clearing conveniently and obviously for seats. "Here we are," she said, indicating one.

"I've a mind to go back and punch that fellow's head. 'I appreciate that.' Hell! Does he think I'll allow him to be impertinent to you?" he chafed.

"Let's have peace. Perfect peace."

She laughed softly, beguiling him.

Yet—again that thought would come: she beguiled him for his own sake, for his own dignity and immunity not for hers, nor for the hunter's. She wanted so much—as all women do—that her man should rise above her help, be splendidly stronger than she, wiser and saner, she wished to see him in command, and her heart was distressed because, as yet, she could not.

He spoke magnanimously:

"All right, my sweet. I'll keep my temper. But is isn't easy."

"I know. I know."

"I want to punch his head."

'Don't be a fool?' No, she hadn't said it. It was arrested on the tip of her tongue, in time. "Give me a cigaret, Jerry."

"Why does that fellow come out and sit on the loggia—if it can be called a loggia—watching us?"

"I don't suppose he's watching us. Probably he always sits and smokes there at night. Probably he wonders why we don't sit and smoke with him and hear some hunters' tales."

"He must be a fool as well as a rude lout, then."

"Where's that cigaret?"

"Sorry, Cara. Sorry, darling."

The two cigarets were lighted.

"We should have got married, like I wanted you to, in Edmonton," he wispered softly after a minute.

"No! No!"

"What was your absurd reason? You obstinate Cara!"

"Something it is impossible for me to tell you."

He thought that over, not liking it.

"If we were married you'd tell me everything, wouldn't you!"

She sat down on the tree trunk. Beside her, he tried to see her very closely in the wan light.

Her mind filled with visions of Follette's, the great Follette's Steel bands about her heart. Tons, thousands of millions of tons of steel upon her frail shoulders. Wheels turning, engines racing, ships in the making, railroads running fast and faster under men's hands. . . . All Follette's part in such mighty enterprise was soon to cease unless. . . .

She could not tell Jerry any of that. However, close they were, she dared not breathe a word of doubt about Follettes. Silence was a necessity that became a creed, a tradition. One hint whispered, repeated and repeated, and all the integrity and the credit and the pride of what to her and Benjamin had been their life would crumble, smash down, cease. Nothing within their power would build it again once that had happened. And there was one way only of preventing it from happening, and she would take that way.

Suddenly she rose, said: "I'm tired," and went quickly toward the cabins, leaving him to toss down his cigaret, and follow her, crying: "What is it, Cara? Tell me. What is it?"

She heard the hunter's raised voice: "Kindly stamp that cigaret out, Mr. Flint."

"You always must, you know, Jerry," she said, half turning.

"Damnation!" he answered. But he went back.

But next day, peace, perfect peace for which she had asked. They had the quiet day suggested by the hunter. The lake was kindly, not an angry patch in it. There wasn't a breath of wind to ruffle the water. A small river ran into it from a northerly direction. They went out in swimming suits, fished from a canoe, caught whitefish and 'noonnu, dived from the canoe, swam, talked. Sometimes, in snatches, Jerry sang. The horses and mules browsed lazily in the corral. The hunter Mulligan fished from a second canoe far enough from them.

They talked a great deal about his career, his future. In the foreground of her mind she must keep the triumphant pictures of that, the many needful plans.

"I will give you a marvelous life, darling," he promised. She gave herself the luxury of listening to what could never be. "I will pay all my debts to you over and over again with love. We shall tour the world. All the time there will be flowers under Cara's feet."

When they came in, before the mosquitoes buzzed in clouds over the lake, she went to her cabin and put on again the white cotton frock belted with blue. She brushed her hair back to make it lie in a bush of waves at the back of her head, and she rubbed her lips to make them a richer crimson. Again she wanted to be very beautiful as she had wanted in Hamburg, for Jerry. The Indian maid had put flowers in her room, luscious clusters of a blossom she did not know, shading from purple to a clear red. She tucked a mass of it into her blue belt. She put on her bare, tanned feet little white buckskin shoes, high heeled. She had slipped them into her kit to wear on the return journey, if perhaps, she paused in cities.

She went out to the rough built loggia.

The hunter sat there, alone, smoking.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 19.—[Special.]—Since the death of popular Lilyan Tashman last March it is a sorrowful, subdued Edmund Lowe who is carrying on in pictures. Before she died Lilyan asked her husband to go along just as though she were still with him.

As game as they make them, Miss Tashman knew that the end of her career was in sight. She chose to go while busy and working, which will explain to many film followers why her final collapse followed so closely upon completion of her last picture.

As now related, Lilyan asked her husband to promise her he would go ahead accepting invitations to the homes and parties of their dear friends just as though she were still with him and were doing the accepting herself. She said she would prefer to know things would be like that. She also asked Lowe not to change the couple's newly decorated home in Beverly, whose redecorating in a spectacular dead white gave the actress one of her great moments of pride and satisfaction shortly before her final illness.

Lowe feels most deeply the passing of the girl from Poland whose quick intelligence, whose capacity for cementing friendships and exceptional taste in dress left behind her as great an imprint as any player has ever left upon the human elements of the film colony. Lowe's hair has given signs of graying since his wife died.

Russell Hix, who was Mae West's original Tall, Dark, and Handsome in the stage run of "Diamond Lil," arrived by plane yesterday to turn movie actor in Warner's "Case of the Howling Dog." Helen Trenholme, Montreal beauty, arrived by plane today for the same film.

Francis Lederer, now on loan at Paramount studio, amazed listeners there by stating he does not wish to exercise to the point where he will reach a stage of physical development that makes him look "unsuitable for sensitive rôles." Lederer exercises daily at the Los Angeles Athletic club while his gymnasium outfit is in storage.

Max Baer's chauffeur when he was in Hollywood was Conrad Menzer, who now is Claudette Colbert's chauffeur and bodyguard.

Fred Astaire is proud that he still wears a $14 bathrobe he bought in 1917. He also keeps the old robe hanging in his dressing room whether he's working on a picture or a play.

In addition to Baby Le Roy, 2, and David Holt, 6, Paramount has Billy Lee, 3, under contract for pictures. Billy plays in "Wagon Wheels," a western, with Randolph Scott.

Claudette Colbert got peeved when she turned up at a function with Pasquale de Ciccio, Thelma Todd's recently divorced spouse, and a photographer snapped Claudette and Pat.

Carl Brisson, the ex-heavyweight boxer who holds a fat contract as singing-actor here, has a secretary, Raymond Mould, who used to be dramatic editor of the Nottingham, England, Daily Times.

to Chicago to decide where they will live.

John F. Porter to Wed in East.

A wedding of interest to many north shore friends of the James F. Porters in Hubbard Woods is that of young John F. Porter, who is being married today to Miss Gertrude LaCour Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Olsen of Perth Amboy, N. J. The wedding, a simple afternoon affair, will take place in the Lutheran church in Perth Amboy. Attending the bride will be Miss Margaret Gordon of Winnetka and Miss Peggy MacDonald of Brooklyn, bridesmaids, and Miss Jean Babcock of New York, who will be maid of honor.

Lee Varley of Melrose, Mass., will act as best man for Mr. Porter, and the ushers will be Fairfield Porter of New York, Robert W. Straus of New York and Hinsdale, Joel Leighton of New Haven, and Britten Harris of Wyncote, Pa.

Young Mr. Porter, who received his degree from Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn., just last Monday, will take his bride on a motor trip west, and on their return the young couple will make their home in Bronxville, N. Y.

Mrs. James F. Porter, who went east for her son's commencement and marriage, is being joined by Mr. Porter in Perth Amboy before leaving to spend the summer as usual in Maine.

An interesting engagement announcement is that of two distant cousins, Miss Valerie Elizabeth Haight of Evanston and Edward Allen Haight of Rockford. The announcement was made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ives Haight. Miss Haight is a graduate of the University School for Girls and for the last three years has attended Connecticut college. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Haight, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and of the Harvard law school.

Stantons Will Receive Friends.

In celebration of their first wedding anniversary, the Edgar Stantons Jr. [Rosamond Baker] will receive their friends Sunday afternoon. They will be at home at 400 Deming place from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton will join the senior Stantons in their lovely home in Winnetka for the summer.

Mrs. Stanton Sr. will be traveling in Europe this summer with her son, Francis. A student in the Yale school of architecture, he was chosen from the 150 members of his class to be senior class representative on the faculty next year. They will visit Mrs. Stanton's son-in-law and daughter, M. and Mme. Robert Dupeyre, in their villa at Fontainebleau for a while.

Mrs. Charles H. Morse is opening her home in Lake Forest today at noon for a meeting of the committee in charge of the St. Luke's fashion show to be held Oct. 23 at the Stevens hotel. After the meeting luncheon will be served. Mrs. John W. Gary is chairman and treasurer of the committee, and Mrs. Walter B. Wolf and Mrs. Frank Hibbard will direct the parade of fashion.

The Chicago Drama league is giving a dinner and theater party tonight in Merrie England at the Fair. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock in the Red Lion inn and later the guests will go to the Old Globe theater to watch a performance of Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors."

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Canning of Wilmette are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Jane, at the Evanston hospital on June 13. Jane has a little brother, Gordon Canning Jr., who is now 2 years old.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., June 19.—[Special.]—Vice President John Nance Garner left this afternoon to join Mrs. Garner in their home in Uvalde, Tex.

The attorney general and Mrs. Homer S. Cummings entertained at dinner this evening, having among their guests the minister of Switzerland and Mme. Peter.

The secretary of commerce and Mrs. Daniel C. Roper will leave tomorrow for a trip to Alaska.

The speaker of the house and Mrs. Henry T. Rainey entertained at dinner last night Dr. Ruth Fairbanks of Johns Hopkins university, formerly of Carrollton, Ill. The speaker and Mrs. Rainey will leave in several days for their Illinois home.

Imagination of Its Creator Is Shown in Quilt

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, Tribune Tower lobby, or Hall of Science, A Century of Progress.

Milky Way.

BY NANCY CABOT.

The vivid imagination of an early New England woman is responsible for the "Milky Way" block. The colors used in the original quilt were purple, orange, butter yellow, and white. The block finishes twelve inches square and is combined with plain blocks to form the spread.

A Crisp Street Ensemble

From a Chicago Store. . . . A crisp, fresh, summer street ensemble of black and pink linen. The sleeveless dress features a tailored top that matches the loose high necked jacket of pale pink. The straight, simple skirt is of black. Pink or black costume accessories can be selected.

Bright Colors Contrasts for White Dresses

BY RHEA SEEGER.

New summer street costumes feature color effects achieved with strong dramatic contrasts. There are all kinds of clear white ensembles that take your breath away with wine red blouses, or sheer tops of the same definite red color.

This sounds a bit warm, but it isn't. The old scarlet and white combination is going strong, what with white dotted scarlet silk ties, red and white sheer plaids, and bows of red and white. The smartest white suits are highlights wherever you see them.

Dark green is another color contrast that is blooming about the shops and stores. Clear white dresses and suits accented with dark leaf green, and pale tints that remind you of mint juleps, are lovely cool outfits for the sultriest summer day.

White suits and dresses with big square sailor collars of sheer tobacco brown are just as exciting to wear as they are to see. The same thing in white with navy is always good, and the old black and white get-together and contrast is a classic by now.

Every one is trying out yellow. You'll find dance dresses, street suits, afternoon dresses and accessories of every imaginable shade of summer yellow. But the big picture hats of this color are the yellow perils that will stop trafic. Big, floppy affairs of felt with fringed edges, big silk crêpe numbers, wide and utterly feminine models of rough or smooth straw, artfully trimmed with wreaths of field flowers, tiny nosegays, or a bow of black or brown velvet are the most successful hats you can wear with summer frocks.

The fashion photograph shows a delightful fresh color combine of black with pale pink. The dress is sleeveless with a tailored top of pink linen on a very slim black linen skirt. The hiplength loose jacket is also expertly tailored and is of the same contrasting pink linen as the dress top. Either pink or sooty black costume accessories can be worn.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Sydney J. Smith had Mrs. Ernest Iselin and Mrs. Allan Appleton Robbins among their guests for luncheon at the roof garden of the Hotel Pierre.

Mrs. Thomas H. Symington had among her guests at the Pierre Mrs. Herbert S. Stone, Mrs. S. Proctor Brady, and Mrs. Irving Kaiser.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Reilly of 149 North Leamington avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Bernadotte, to Stephen B. Joyce, son of Mrs. Thomas Joyce of 1503 Highland avenue. The wedding will take place on Sept. 8 in St. Thomas Aquinas church.

Automatic SOAP FLAKES HURTS ONLY DIRT COSTS LESS BECAUSE IT GOES FURTHER

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Far be it from us to get in the middle in the wild, raging arguments as to whether liquefying cleansing creams are drying or whether they are not. We frankly don't know. The answer seems to us to be "Know thy skin." No two are alike, which would account for most differences of opinion about cosmetics. All we do know is that a lot of women who're always looking for something new have shown a decided interest in creams that aren't melting.

A great cosmetic house with its ear to the ground has just brought out a cleansing cream that isn't liquefying; at the same time it is not to be compared with the old heavy cold creams. In the process of manufacture it is "double whipped," and after testing it out for several weeks we're enthusiastic about it. It looks, by the way, as white and fluffy and good to eat as the meringue our favorite cook puts on her lemon cream pie.

This double whipped cream is a beautiful cleanser; we're told it's the whipping process that has made it so fine its penetrating virtues are far beyond those of most creams approximating its texture. It removes all traces of surface dirt and you have a strong impression that it purges the poor, dust, and makeup filled pores of all foreign matter. At the same time, because of its richness the skin is left soft and well lubricated. All the dry skinned women whom we asked to test it have declared it the answer to their prayers for a cream that was more than just an efficient cleanser.

It's in most of the shops in Chicago now and we urge you to look at it. It has a faint scent that is a far cry from a cheap perfume and it is so luscious looking that your fingers will itch to get into it. Best of all it's a good lubricant as well as a cleanser—and if we know our feminine public there's been a concerted hunt for just such a cream by thousands of dry skinned women. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Organize George O'Brien Company to Make Films

Hollywood, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—George O'Brien, film star, assumed a new rôle today, giving his name to a motion picture company in which he will be the star. Incorporation papers were filed at Sacramento for the George O'Brien Productions, capitalized at $75,000. Sol Lesser, Hollywood producer, is president, and Louis Lurie, San Francisco capitalist, is vice president. The company will release "westerns" through Fox.

Men's Eyes Are Annoyed by the Back Situation

Girls, Train Those Wings or Fat Bulges!

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A note on my desk begs to inquire why I don't do something about the backs that are forcing themselves upon a patient public's eyesight. The writer [a "he" from writing evidence] says: "How about taking in the wingspread on the skinny back? How about removing the shoulder pillows of fat? And, finally, how about those broken-out backs that give you the shivers to look at?"

And "How about it?", we women echo!

Gosh, but these men are getting to be the regular little impresarios, aren't they? Every man a beauty contest judge! But then, what can we expect? We've taken them into our confidence on every diet and cosmetic wrinkle. So, if we've made 'em judges, we'll have to stand by their decisions.

Those widespread wings do need taking in. Plenty of them do. You can't just order them to flatten down and not make such an aerial show of themselves. You have to train ther back with muscle holding measures. Here's a grand little walking trick you can do any time, anywhere, any place, an old army custom for flattening down the projecting shoulder wings. Instead of walking with palms in, turn them out so that hands and forearms are facing front. Look at your back in a mirror and see what this simple emergency does. Practice it a lot. Get those West Point exercises of mine and do the back strengthening ones. You can's beat them.

You fat shouldered ones had better get them, too. They're grand for you. In the meantime, get down on the floor and massage off that fat cushion. Give yourself first a dozen good long stretches and then rub the shoulders against the rug until you know that they've been thoroughly massaged. Rub this way, that, any old way, so long as you massage the fat.

Tired Mothers Should Go Easy on Housework

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Writes a mother of seven:

"You speak of doing just the essentials. You should stress the point."

Indeed, today I think I should. So many mothers have written me recently, discouraged and tired out with babies and housework that it is a good time to stress the point, as my mother of seven suggested.

To be fair, we must admit in the beginning that all women are not blessed with an equal amount of vitality. And vitality does carry you through. But also many women who have adequate vitality do dissipate it in unnecessary worry over their children and in unnecessary housework.

You've got to let something go if you're going to be well and happy.

Do the essentials and forget the rest.

What are some of the things you can slip over? Start with the wash—for example, paper napkins instead of linen.

Next, don't make a fetish of white clothes or of daintiness for the children. There are attractive fabrics and beguiling styles that enhance your baby or small child as much as the work producing kind of garment.

In cooking, make your head save your heels. The same holds true in marketing. In cleaning, there['s] such a thing as a happy medium. And orderliness helps to give an effect of cleanliness, while having places for things helps in orderliness.

No one can give you explicit directions as to what are, for you, the essentials and what are the unnecessary frills of work. Your own house and equipment and family and physical strength have to determine that. Also, disregard the criticisms of kind friends and relatives. If you're in a muddle and all worn out all the time, stop and think, and cut out all labor but the essentials.

If the children are wearing you out, perhaps your management is wrong—and perhaps some of our written-in-full booklets will help you. In requesting them, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

Mr. Sims is universally acclaimed the greatest living contract and auction player. He is captain of the renowned "Four Horsemen" team of four, and has won twenty national championships since 1924.

Refraining From Taking Out a No Trump with a Five-Card Minor Suit.

Continuing yesterday's article directly, there is a third reason for raising to two no trumps, instead of making the suit takeout, on hands of a certain kind containing a five-card suit and no void.

3. When the suit itself is not headed by tops—that is, when it does not include two of the top three honors—but the hand itself is fairly strong, with from two to three tricks in primary and secondary form, there is much less risk of a vague or slipshod slam try ensuing if opener has a powerful hand and rightly bids beyond game because he sees slam likelihood from a suit fit and the high cards which appear to give early controls in the suits. This point is really more important than the other two, involving as it does very large swings. The danger of failing to reach a biddable, makable slam is just as great as that of overbidding a trick and so sacrificing a sure game for a slam for which there is no reasonable play.

When you have bid a very weak or patchy suit it is very difficult to know whether or not to sign off when the opening bidder gives you optimistic responses, and your hand does positively contain its full quota of primary tricks. This difficulty is avoided if you have not bid that suit, since partner's optimism is now based only on the top cards he attributes to you, not on the expectation of a suit to work with; if the suit clears up in the play, so much the better; but if it does not, then at least you have not misled your partner or done anything to make him mistrust your future raises or takeouts.

I think an illustration will make my point clear, more so than further explanations in general terms. The following hand actually came up in the South Jersey pair championship at Atlantic City last September; it might have been made to order for the present purpose. North bid a no trump on

Sp. A K x x x Di. K x
Hts. Q x Cl. A x x x

In a rubber game, incidentally, I would bid a spade on this hand, but in match point scoring the no trump opening bid offers great inducements. Five extra points per trick on one hand may decide a championship. South held

Sp. Q J 10 9 Di. x
Hts. A K x Cl. J 10 x x x

and in one partnership made the bad response of two clubs. North now bids two spades, not feeling sure about no trumps since the responding hand has not indicated distributed strength by his takeout. Four spades by South, the right bid, showing complete solidification of the spade suit, over two primary tricks in the hand, and great distributional inducements for suit play. It is a mild slam try, and he meant it to be, figuring that the opener held something like A Q x of clubs, giving a finesse at least to avoid a loser in that suit, and expecting the slam to depend only on this finesse even if the opener did not have the ace of diamonds.

Opener now counts his losers and decides that his partner's bid shows, in addition to solid spade support, either ace-king of hearts or the two red aces, and that he will have a finesse at least not to lose any clubs, picturing dummy's holding as five to the king-jack or at worst to the queen-jack.

The lead will probably be diamonds, up to his king, and if he has to lose a diamond trick he will have a finesse in clubs for the slam; or else, if a heart loser has to be worked off, he can lose the club finesse and still get the discards later, as if the hearts include a loser, responder must hold the ace of diamonds. This was perfect reasoning, and he thereupon bid six spades. The contract was, of course, defeated as both a club and a diamond must be lost.

Had the response on the first round been two no trumps, not two clubs, the bidding would have continued with three spades, four (or perhaps five) spades, pass. Opening bidder now does not foresee or rely on any play in the club suit; having only two aces and no hint of a place to shed so many losers, he naturally does not bid the slam. With ace-king or two aces in the responding hand it is in order to bid a five-card suit headed by king-jack, as there will be at least a finesse against the queen, so that you need not wish to back down from a slam try developed by the opening bidder. The quality of your suit should be retrospectively confirmed by the sole fact that you did not rebid your suit to show weakness in the hand.

Hollywood

The Director Shouts "Camera."

Hollywood, Cal., June 19.—[Special.]—Joan Crawford is getting ready to play a scene in "Sacred and Profane Love." Director Clarence Brown watches her. He is the same director who watched her in "Sadie McKee." Joan stands at a window in her bedroom, a bedroom which looks exactly like the one in "McKee." All Crawford flickers are beginning to look and sound alike. However, regardless of the tinsel and sameness of Crawford's money making films, despite their convenient theatrical situation, Joan is honest when she plays them, so declares Director Brown.

He states that no matter how phony a situation or line is, Crawford believes those lines when she reads them. He pointed to her.

Joan was standing in her stocking feet on two green satin pillows. She had taken off her shoes to rest her feet, and the thickness of the pillows made her appear as tall as she does in her slippers.

Miss Crawford stood at the window, silent. Her fingers gripped the shoulder of a lady next to her. The two stood there quietly like this for about two minutes. Then Joan said she was ready to speak her lines and the lady moved out of the focus of the camera.

This was what Director Brown wanted me to see. The lady Crawford clutches is her sister-in-law, Mrs. Seur. Joan gripped her sister-in-law because she wanted contact with some one who was in sympathy with her before she read lines of sympathy. "She often grips me like that before playing a big scene," declared Brown. "I just wanted to show you what one actress does before acting."

Miss Crawford is now ready to play the scene. Director Brown shouts "Camera."

Erik Charell is having trouble directing his first American picture, "Caravan." To date an expense of $25,000 has been added to the cost of this expensive flicker merely because of time. Now Charell is ready to shoot the final scene. It is an outdoor scene, and for two days he has been waiting for the sun to shine. It is now out and he wants to make the scene before the sun disappears. The set is a "bier garten" which has been constructed on the little park on the Fox lot which is known as the "Cavalcade park," for it was built for that picture.

Director Charell, wearing a cap, is shouting his directions to the girl orchestra in the bandstand, to the group of extras drinking beer at the surrounding tables, and to Philip Holmes, to whom this particular scene belongs.

The scene is played several times but not to Charell's satisfaction. He hollers his criticisms and gives more orders. Director Charell, however, does not speak English very well and soon runs out of words that have meaning to him.

In fact, after a hurricane of words, Charell notices the look of bewilderment on the faces of many players. He pulls off his cap and laughs. He has a sense of humor. He turns to the assistant director and says, "Tell them what I want in English." The players are ready. Director Charell, in good English, shouts "Camera."

They are making Willa Cather's famous novel, "A Lost Lady," into a talking picture with Barbara Stanwyck playing the title rôle. Al Green, with his usual carnation in his lapel, is directing a scene in which Miss Stanwyck and Philip Reed walk down a flight of massive stone stairs. It is then that a jealous husband stops them and kills Reed.

This scene has been in much service. It is used in "British Agent." It is the royal ballroom in "Du Barry." It is a railroad terminal in "Princess from Kansas City," and now again in "A Lost Lady." Yet I venture to say that you will not recognize it as the same set, for it is always photographed from a different angle—again proving the power and showing the tricks of the camera. And in this picture there is a girl playing the rôle of an extra and her name is Marcoreta Hellman. The name means nothing to you.

In California, especially in the business world, the name is well known. Marco Hellman was one of California's wealthiest and best known bankers. During the depression the Hellmans lost their entire fortune. The family, used to wealth and luxury, had to go to work.

Marco Hellman had done the Warners several favors in the banking field. In return his daughter asked for a job. She is now working in this picture as an extra for $7.50 a day. Marcoreta says she was never so happy.

BY MARY MEADE.

Children are heavy drinkers these days. Which is as it should be, for Old Sol and much pom-pom-pull-away are seeing to it that healthy perspiration is generous and thorough. And, to vary the truism, since all that goes out must come in, if you follow me, it's up to mothers to see that summer drinks of the right sort are ready at hand for moist and thirsty tipplers.

Which suggests a finger of warning before drinks start flowing. Cool draughts are refreshing and demanded, but please, O please, let them not be too cold. Much of the internal upsets in tummies of all ages is caused by the summer bolting of icy drinks when bodies are over-heated and tired. Beverages from the refrigerator are safe, if sipped slowly, but, for the young ones, forego the chipped ice.

Fruit juices lead out in popularity with youngsters as well as in value received. They tinkle with vitamins and mineral salts, and the sugar mixed with them is quickly usable as an energy food. When eggs and milk are combined with such drinks they form a light lunch, one of the most wholesome sort that mothers can devise to keep small minds off the candy store if food seems needed as a tide-over.

A starter in the fruit juice department blends grapes and lemons to make—

GRAPEJUICE LEMONADE.

3 cups water.
1 cup lemon juice.
1 cup sugar.
2 cups grape juice.

Mix all the ingredients until the sugar is dissolved. Pour into a pitcher half full of cracked ice. Stir until cold and serve, holding back the ice.

A bit more hearty thirst-quencher may do for mid-afternoon sipping, or it's a delightful scheme for making milk more acceptable to young drinkers at meal time. A quantity of the heavy cocoa sirup is made up all at once, then bottled and added to cool milk when the drink's the thing.

CHOCOLATE MILK.

1 cup cold water.
2 cups sugar.
2 teaspoons vanilla.

Stir together thoroughly the cocoa and sugar. Slowly stir in the water, mixing well. Cook this mixture gently for 3 minutes, then add the vanilla and cool. The sirup now goes into a fruit jar, tightly sealed with a rubber ring. When the call for drinks arrives, add two tablespoons of cocoa sirup to each glass of cold milk, and shake or beat well. Serve with graham crackers.

Actress Receives Fan Letters Before She Appears on Screen

Hollywood, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—Jane Wyatt, New York movie actress, is receiving fan letters although she never has appeared on the screen.

She is in a production of a Galsworthy story with Diana Wynyard now being filmed at Universal studios. This week Miss Wyatt received 20 letters, some from foreign countries.

Six of the letters said such things as "I have admired your film work very much," and "I think you were fine in your latest picture."

"Fashion" pictures of Miss Wyatt as a movie actress have been published in newspapers and magazines—but she has never been seen on the screen. The Galsworthy picture is her first.

Gas is a Servant in the Home and a Factory Hand Too

Gas does more than heat houses, cook, heat water and furnish automatic refrigeration for the home.

It is working in factories, large and small, the country over. No heating job is too delicate and exacting for gas in industry; no heating job is too big.

Gas puts the iridium tip on your fountain pen, helps solder your jewelry or glasses, and heat-treats the tiny steel wheels in your watch. In a single industry—making automobiles—gas is used to dry varnishes, heat plating vats, cast plates for batteries, temper springs, harden bearings and piston pins, braze radiators and forge bumpers. It roasts vast quantities of coffee, bakes ice cream cones, smokes hams and bacons and toasts cereals.

Hundreds of the things you buy and use from day to day have been improved in quality or made more economical by the part gas plays in their manufacture.

Enjoy the comforts of a cool clean basement!

install Gas Heat now

No matter how sweltering the weather, thousands are finding real relief this summer by means of a cool, clean recreation room in the basement. What a joy it is to have this place for the children to play, to entertain friends, for playing bridge. All this is made possible by the installation of gas heat in the home. Without your investing a cent for equipment we install a burner right in your furnace.

You clean out the old coal bin and the basement for the last time. For with gas heat, there's no more mess, no more dust, no more grime from coal and ashes. It's as clean as any room in the house.

More benefits next Fall and Winter

And when the weather turns chilly next Fall all you do is light the pilot and forget about your furnace for ten months. The little thermostat we'll install on your wall will automatically operate the furnace to keep the temperature just as you want it day and night.

Remember, it costs you nothing for equipment to try gas heat. You try it for one month, two months or a year before you decide. While you are trying it you pay only $3 a month rental during the heating months in the average home. This charge is included with the bill for the gas you use. If at any time within the year you decide you don't like gas heat—and you are the sole judge—we'll remove it and replace your former heating equipment in good workmanlike condition.

Order gas heat now

It will pay you to order gas heat now. Think of it. A clean basement all summer long. And next winter no coal shoveling, hauling ashes, getting up at daybreak to fix the fire. With gas heat you fire your furnace from your easy chair.

Phone your local gas company today for free estimate and full details of our startling offer to install gas heat at our expense.

PIRATES BEATEN IN FIRST GAME UNDER TRAYNOR

3d Baseman Named to Gibson's Post.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 19.—[Special.]—The Pittsburgh Pirates were beaten by the New York Giants, 5 to 3, today in their first game under the managership of Harold [Pie] Traynor. Traynor, for 12 years one of the greatest third basemen in baseball, was named successor to George Gibson before the start of this afternoon's game.

"Gibson is leaving us on the most friendly terms," said William Benswanger, president of the Pirates. "We both feel the change will be for the best interests of the club. The team has been going badly. Everybody knows that."

Pirates in Midst of Slump.

The new manager, who is a favorite of Pittsburgh fans, took charge with the team in the midst of a three weeks slump which dropped the Pirates from second place into fifth in the National league standing. Traynor, who has been the team's captain, came to the Pirates 14 years ago and two years later was given the third baseman's post which he has held ever since. Gibson had been manager since 1932 when he succeeded Jewel Ens.

"I have been intrusted with this position at a very crucial time," said Traynor. "I do not underestimate the responsibility which has been transferred to me. I accept it gladly, however, when I realize there is no hard feeling between me and George Gibson. I have always had the greatest respect for Gibson.

"I will not promise anything at this time. I think we have a good team, but the pitching is weak and team play needs improvement. I will say, however, that I am sure of full co-operation from every player on the club."

Change Long Expected.

The deposed manager, who also was present, told assembled players:

"Boys, you have all been 100 per cent with me, and it breaks me up to leave you. I wish you the best of luck."

That Gibson might be deposed had been reported for some time. He was booed roundly by fans last Sunday when the Giants whipped the Pirates, 9 to 3.

Gibson was a catcher for the old Pirate teams on which Hans Wagner, Fred Clarke and Tommy Leach were stars. Today marked the second time Gibson has retired as leader of the Pirates. He first gave up the position in 1922 when the team broke down after setting the pace up to July. Traynor at that time was playing his first year as a Pirate regular.

In whipping the Pirates the Giants bunched their hits off Larry French to advantage. The deciding runs were scored in the seventh on Bill Terry's single.

The defeat was the Pirates' eighth in their last nine games. The Pirates outhit the league leaders 13 to 11 and finally knocked Hal Schumacher off the mound in the eighth. Score:

'Cover Up That Chest,' New Rule at Bob o' Link

The masculinity of Bob o' Link Golf club, on which course no woman is allowed to play, suffered a rebuke yesterday when the board of directors posted the following notice:

"We have received various complaints about golfers at Bob o' Link playing golf in half nude attire. This mode of dress must be stopped at once."

Bare masculine chests and sun tanned backs, heretofore considered a prerogative because women not only could not play on the course but also were barred from the clubhouse, now must be covered. The complaints, it is said, came from passersby who were not in accord with the members' desire to soak up Highland Park sunshine.

THE GUMPS—SHADY REST

MAX BAER—THE FIGHTING CLOWN

Champ a Minority Stockholder in His Earnings.

[This is the third of a series of articles on Max Baer, new heavyweight champion.]

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Copyright: 1934: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MAX BAER'S propensity for selling "pieces" of himself has been well known for several years. Whenever Max felt the need of raising a sum of money rapidly it was his custom to sell shares in himself, investors, of course, being promised percentage dividends in his future earnings.

It is said that the young man now owns 30 per cent of himself, the remaining 70 per cent being variously split up among persons not all of whom are affiliated with the present handling of his affairs.

When Baer made his first appearance in New York as a championship contender, more than three years ago, he held only 20 per cent of himself and his father owned 10 per cent. Two managers jointly held 50 per cent and 5 per cent was held by his trainer. Fifteen per cent he had sold here and there for $15,000 quick money, needed for luxuries and the obtaining of immediate creature comforts.

It's All Big Joke to Mr. Baer.

Stock certificates existed in the forms of scribbling on the backs of old envelopes, speakeasy membership cards, and menus. Many of these latter issues, it is said, recently have been bought up by Manager Ancil Hoffman in instances where there was evidence that advances of money had been made to madcap Max.

Max does not worry about the comparatively small financial interest he holds in himself. In fact, he considers the intricate splitting up of himself something of a joke. One of the speeches he made to the irritation of the Carnera camp just before his championship fight bore on the proposition.

At the first of the three physical examinations before the fight Max encountered Louis Soresi, fretting manager of the then champion Primo. "Why don't you get hep to yourself?" Max asked of the serious minded Soresi. "There's still opportunity for you to buy a piece of the next champion." Soresi did not invest, however.

The humorous aspects of a fighter indiscriminately selling stock in himself gave birth to a story first printed by a popular New York columnist a year or so ago and given wide circulation throughout the country.

A Widow's Mite Might Be a Lot.

A distraut widow had applied to a relief agency for charity. She was being submitted to the usual interrogations by the investigating clerk to whom her application had been referred.

"You mean to state, madam," said the clerk, "that your late husband left you no property whatsoever?"

"Nothing," sobbed the widow, "except a small piece of Max Baer."

The sequel to the anecdote has not been written. But if the widow still holds as much as one-half of 1 per cent of Max and can collect dividends she'll probably be off the relief roll within the year.

Advices from Hollywood say that the exhilarated interest of the holders of the pieces of Baer already has complicated the plans for putting Max back in the movies as soon as he completes his current radio contract. It is said that officials of M. G. M., the company that produced "The Prizefighter and the Lady," have found in initial overtures for a new contract that a half dozen persons besides Baer are insisting upon taking a hand in the formulation of plans for the Baer movie program.

Lorimer's Chairman of the Board.

The "stockholder" who perhaps is showing the most interest in the money gathering activities of the new champion, especially those in California, is J. Hamilton Lorimer of Sacramento, Cal., Baer's first manager. Lorimer's claims of a majority interest in Baer as a stock company have been declared valid by the California Supreme court. And the ruling was sufficient to enable Lorimer to tie up Baer's share in the fight with Carnera.

The Baer share of the fight receipts, regardless of the planned dividends, was $64,870.33, plus $9,000, his cut from the radio and movie rights. All of this was kept from the Baer company by three attachments served at the behest of Lorimer, against Baer and his manager, Ancil Hoffman.

Lorimer Could Use Part of a Million.

When hearings were being held before the California Supreme court several weeks ago Baer's lawyer, Clifford Russell, contended that Max was broke, that $500,000 had disappeared in one way and another and that his future financial prospects were hopelessly incumbered.

But this didn't soften Lorimer's heart, as witness the attachments. Lorimer perhaps knows that as a popular, slugging world champion, a clear voiced radio attraction, a wisecracking vaudevillian, and singing and dancing night club master of ceremonies, and a movie actor, Max's earnings before any one licks him will amount to more than a million dollars.

Mr. Lorimer plans to be most persistent. But such is the life of a world champion.

Helen Hicks Turns Pro to Teach Women

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—Helen Hicks, former national women's golf champion, today announced a decision to become America's first business woman golfer. She has signed a five year contract with a Chicago sporting goods house as adviser in its women's golf department and also to act as a special representative in all golf activities.

Miss Hicks' decision in effect puts the sturdy Long Island girl, long considered one of the best American women golfers, in the professional ranks. For the time being, however, she does not plan to become a playing pro.

To Study Factory Methods.

Miss Hicks said she would also sponsor a line of Helen Hicks clubs, copied after the set with which the won twoscore championships.

Billy, as she is known, thus at 23 years of age terminates a six year conquest of the fairways in this country and England, during which she won the national championship in 1932 and became one of America's big four of women's golf.

Miss Hicks will leave for Chicago tomorrow.

Likes Golf Best.

"Naturally I am unhappy over the fact I am giving up all competitive golf activity," Miss Hicks said, "but I believe that with my experience and knowledge of golf and the sincere cooperation I am getting, I am going to be able to do a lot of things I have always wanted to do along the lines of developing the game among women and girls. There is room for a greater development in women's golf now than most people imagine.

"I have tried selling real estate, renting houses, aviation—but after all, the one thing I know most about and love most dearly is golf."

Tunney Sees No Title Contender to Threaten Baer

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., June 19.—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, passed through Montreal today en route to Ontario, on his annual Canadian fishing trip. In an interview he expressed the view that boxing shows little promise of returning to the popularity it achieved in its heydey when million dollar gates were obtained. He said this was due to lack of suitable candidates for the heavyweight title, none being in sight worthy of a fight with Max Baer.

EXPECT BAER TO ANNOUNCE PLANS IN NEXT 48 HOURS

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—Max Baer's managers and representatives of the Madison Square Garden corporation expect to reach a decision as to their future plans within the next 48 hours.

Baer is reported anxious to fight in September, thus freeing himself from the Garden contract. The Garden is in favor of waiting until next June and, during the next twelve months, conducting an elimination tournament to select a contender.

As for Jack Dempsey's entering the Garden as the successor of James J. Johnston, the promoter in charge of boxing, it is reported that an offer has been made and that it has been rejected. Negotiations remain open, with Jack's salary the big obstacle.

The Garden is trying to sign Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin for a return engagement. With Ross due from the west tomorrow, something definite should develop within the next day or two.

Glenn Cunningham Reaches Scene of College Meet

Los Angeles, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—Paced by Glenn Cunningham, the world's greatest middle distance runner by virtue of his record shattering mile at Princeton, the parade of college track and field athletes to Los Angeles for the national collegiate A. A. meet here Saturday continued today.

Cunningham arrived on an afternoon train, none the worse for his long trip, and already making plans for what he hopes will be a double triumph in the national meet. The flying Kansan said he felt so good after his sensational 4 minutes 6.7 seconds mile last Saturday that he will tackle both the half and the mile here.

Injured Ankle Improves.

"I hurt my ankle just as I finished warming up for the mile last week at Princeton," said Cunningham. "However, I don't think it will be necessary for me to work out the soreness before this meet. I felt good enough after the mile at Princeton to run another race, and I expect to run the mile and the half mile here."

Cunningham said the ankle sprain was slight and that most of the pain he experienced while setting the world's record was caused by a tight bandage.

With Cunningham was his coach, Bill Hargiss. Five other members of the Kansas track and field team, Big Six champions, arrived this morning. These were Ed Hall, sprinter and broad jumper; Clyde Coffman and Bob White, pole vaulters; Paul Herrington, javelin thrower; and Charles Pitts, another broad jumper.

Ralph Metcalfe Arrives.

Another Olympic games star and N. C. A. A. champion also arrived in the person of Ralph Metcalfe of Marquette, sprinter who is favored to capture both the short dashes again. Metcalfe said he had recovered from the leg injury which slowed him down this season and he expects to duplicate if not better his marks of 9.4 seconds and 20.4 seconds set a year ago in the hundred and furlong.

Other institutions represented in the list of arrivals today were Nebraska, De Pauw, Illinois college, Texas, Oklahoma, Butler, Central State Teachers of Michigan, West Virginia, Miami, and Rice institute.

Coach Henry F. Schulte of Nebraska brought three athletes including Heye Lamburtus, National A. A. U. low hurdles champion.

Paavo to Glenn

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham, Kansas' great middle distance runner, and his coach, Bill Hargiss, were in a quandary when they arrived here today.

They received a cablegram from Paavo Nurmi, a former mile record holder. This is what it said: "Turku, Finland. Parhaat Onnittelini Ennatyksestnne."

A frantic search produced a Finnish sporting goods salesman who beamed as he read:

"My best congratulations for your record. Paavo Nurmi."

The Finnish star referred to Cunningham's 4:06.7 mile at Princeton last Saturday.

Jimmy Slattery Wins 3d Bout in Row on Foul

Buffalo, N. Y., June 19.—(AP)—Jimmy Slattery, former light heavyweight champion, won his third comeback bout tonight as Eddie Kaminski, a former wrestler, was disqualified in the fifth round of a six round bout. Slattery weighed 169 and Kaminski 196½. The end came midway through the fifth as Kaminski rushed Slattery to the ropes and then punched Slattery several times while he was down.

SEEK CAVALCADE, EQUIPOISE RACE FOR ARLINGTON

Brookmeade Stable Trainer Receives Offer.

New York, June 19.—[Special.]—A special sweepstakes engaging the Brookmeade stable's Cavalcade, 3 year old champion, and C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, king of the older horses, is in the making, it was revealed here tonight by Robert A. Smith, trainer of the winner of three Derbies this season. Smith said he had been approached by officials of the Arlington Park Jocky club of Chicago regarding the match.

The trainer who prepared the English bred son of Lancegaye for his victories in the Chesapeake Stakes, Kentucky Derby, American Derby, and Detroit Derby stated that final terms for the match were contingent on Cavalcade's victory in the Arlington Classic on July 14.

"Too Far Off to Answer."

"Such a race is too far away at this time for me to make a definite answer," Smith said, "but I have been meeting all comers with my colts and I would not back away from any horse. However, as Cavalcade has many natural engagements before him, it would be foolish for me to tie myself up now. It is too early for me to make a definite answer.

"Other propositions have been made for a meeting between Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's colt and Equipoise, and I would like to meet them all. As far as Cavalcade is concerned, I would not dodge any man's horse with this colt."

Cavalcade to Be Shipped Soon.

The Brookmeade trainer pointed out that Cavalcade was eligible for both the Stars and Stripes handicap and Arlington handicap as well as the Classic at the Chicago track, but that present plans called for him to take a slight rest between the Classic and the Travers, to be run about a month later at Saratoga. Cavalcade is now at Detroit, where he will remain for a day or two before being shipped to Arlington Park with seven of his stablemates.

Tonight it was also learned here that the Brookmeade stable had cancelled plans to ship Cavalcade to Rockingham Park to run in the $10,000 Granite State handicap to be held Saturday.

WOULD LIKE TO STAGE RACE.

When reached last night a prominent official of the Arlington Park Jocky club stated that the north side course would be happy to stage a special meeting between Cavalcade and Equipoise to determine the nation's championship, but he was noncommittal whether overtures had been made to either Trainer Smith, representing Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, or C. V. Whitney, owner of Equipoise, regarding such an event.

Like Cavalcade, Equipoise has engagements in the Stars and Stripes handicap and Arlington handicap, each a $10,000 added event. The Whitney veteran captured the Stars and Stripes two years ago and the Arlington last summer.

MILLER FOULS PAUL AND LOSES NONTITLE BOUT

Los Angeles, Cal., June 19.—(AP)—Tommy Paul, former world N. B. A. featherweight champion, was awarded a victory on a foul over Freddie Miller, the present title holder, in the second round of a scheduled ten round nontitle bout tonight.

Paul suffered a dislocated hip as he turned away from the unintentional low blow, and the referee, Jackie Fields, awarded Paul the fight after it was determined he could not go on.

Hart Pins Haddock in White City Show

Frank Hart defeated Dale Haddock, Alabama heavyweight, in the windup of the professional wrestling show at the White City outdoor stadium last night. Hart pinned his opponent in 26 minutes and 39 seconds. Lou Talaber won from Jack Zarevich in 18 minutes and 30 seconds in the semi-windup. Other results:

Phil Grueber beat Jack Adams, 11 minutes 46 seconds, and Ed Van Herrick beat Bucky O'Neil, 12 minutes 16 seconds.

Sox Rush Off to Boston in a Rainstorm

Boston, Mass., June 19.—[Special.]—The nor'easter which washed out the final game of the series between the White Sox and Athletics at Philadelphia today pleased the Sox in more ways than one.

It permitted them to leave Philadelphia cherishing the memory of their first twin victory in yesterday's double header. It gave Sam Jones the fourth day of rest which the 42 year old veteran requires between appearances. Finally it allowed the Sox to escape the worst overnight jump in baseball—the ride that forces one to arise at 5:45 a. m. at the Back Bay station here. The Sox were able to leave Philadelphia at 2:30 this afternoon and arrive here at 9:30 o'clock.

Sox Win Series.

The postponement enabled the Sox to win the Philadelphia series, three games to two. They now boast a six to three advantage over the Athletics to date, a pleasing status, since the Athletics are the only club in the league over whom the Sox enjoy an edge.

Sam Jones will pitch the series opener here tomorrow. He is leading Sox pitchers with a record of six games won and three lost. He has faced the Red Sox once, winning on a ninth inning rally, 6 to 5.

Jones will be opposed by Wesley Ferrell, the young man who loafed himself out of a bad job at Cleveland into a good one at Boston. It will be the first time the Sox have faced Ferrell, who has been going at a good clip since he emerged from his Carolina farmstead.

Rick and Wes.

Tomorrow's game also gives the Sox their first look at the only brother battery in the major league. Rick Ferrell has recovered from his ailments and is catching again for the Red Sox.

The Boston club enjoys a 3 to 2 margin over the White Sox in the season's play. The teams split two games at Boston last month and the Red Sox took two out of three games in Chicago. Five games are scheduled here, with a double header on Thursday.

SARAZEN MADE 6 TO 1 TO WIN BRITISH OPEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 19.—Gene Sarazen of the United States, 1932 winner of the British open golf tournament, today was quoted at 6 to 1 by bookmakers to win this year's tournament, which will start next Monday. Denny Shute, 1933 winner, was a 10 to 1 choice. The other Americans, MacDonald Smith and Wild Bill Mehlhorn, were quoted at 12 to 1 and 33 to 1, respectively.

Fred Perry, star of England's Davis cup team, is a 5 to 2 choice to win the Wimbledon tennis tournament, which also starts on Monday. Jack Crawford of Australia is second in the bookmakers' figures at 4 to 1, while Frank Shields, most favored of the invading Americans, is quoted at 10 to 1. Lester Stoefen and Sidney Wood of the American team are quoted at 20 to 1.

F. HERMAN GETS SINGLE, DOUBLE OFF SOUTHPAW

Moore's Home Run Beats Malone.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Ed Brandt revived the southpaw complex for the Cubs yesterday and the revival was such a success that Boston's Braves made it three out of four for the series by capturing the final, 2 to 1. However, the Cubs considered their day's labor at least partly successful. They actually scored a run off the big left hander after sixteen and one-third innings of effort in three games this season. By producing four hits they also showed 100 per cent improvement over the two hit shutout he placed in their season's record here on May 3.

No complaint can be made against the Cub pitching, which for the first eight innings was in charge of Pat Malone. The veteran right hander was the victim not alone of his mates' futile attack but also of one of those "I'll take it" plays which assisted the guests to half of their two runs. The other run off Pat was legitimate. It was a homer into the seats by Randy Moore, ex-White Sox, just after the first run had registered because of a misunderstanding in short center field.

Old Stevie Delivers.

As might be expected, the Cubs' left handed hitters, with one exception, didn't appreciate Brandt's work. In four efforts Chuck Klein didn't get the ball beyond the infield, although he did manage to send one line drive to the first baseman. Don Hurst was so feeble in two attempts that he was requested to step aside for a pinch hitter. The pinch hitter, Riggs Stephenson, furnished the hit that drove in the Cubs' lone run.

Stanley Hack, who supplanted Woody English when the latter claimed illness, fanned twice and rolled to an infielder in a third appearance. The exception in this feebleness of portside swingers was Babe Herman, who supplied half the hits.

An indication of the effectiveness of Malone is provided by the fact that the Braves, except in the sixth when they scored their runs, didn't get a man to third base. Only three, barring the luckless sixth, reached second. One of these was in the first inning. The two others came after the sixth. Spohrer singled in the seventh and an out put him on second. In the eighth Thompson dropped a fly on the right field line for a double but erred in thinking it was a triple. Billy Herman's bullet like relay of the throw nailed him at the far corner.

Two Braves Single in First.

The Braves started off with a pair of hits, but Malone soon slowed them down. Thompson singled to left with two out in the first inning and Berger followed with a single to left. Moore's pop to Jurges ended that. Not another Brave made a hit until two were out in the fourth. Moore did this with a one base drive into center, after which Malone fanned Lee. The fourth hit off the big Cub right hander was the work of Brandt. He singled to center in the fifth, but two were out and Urbanski closed the inning with a perpendicular pop to Jurges.

The second inning arrived before the Cubs were able to show proof they were in the ball game. Babe Herman started the inning with three strikes, but Cuyler walked, thus having the honor of being the first to reach base on Brandt. Hartnett singled to left on a hit and run, putting Cuyler on third. Hurst then fanned, and Jurges rolled into a force play. Just to assure his manager that the pass and single didn't indicate he was weakening, Brandt retired Malone, W. Herman, and Hack on strikes in the third.

Babe Gets Lucky Double.

Lady Luck gave Babe Herman a break in the fourth after Klein had popped foul to Moore. The Babe hit a high fly close to the left field line and the ball dropped for a double, because the outfield was shifted to the opposite side. The Babe wasn't able to make progress, however. Both Cuyler and Hartnett poked ordinary bounders to Urbanski.

One of the two hits that forced Malone to give up the two runs in the

COGGESHALL AND GRANT WIN IN WESTERN TENNIS

Rainville and Parkhill Tied at Dark.

Marcel Rainville of the Canadian Davis Cup team, and Bill Parkhill, a Chicago player, battled to a deadlock yesterday in the third round of the Western Tennis Championship tournament at the River Forest Tennis club. Parkhill won the first set, 6-4, and Rainville the second, 10-8. Then darkness forced them to stop. The entire match will be replayed today.

Parkhill, who is not a seeded player, was on the verge of eliminating his more highly rated opponent, for he was leading 5-1 in the second set. But Rainville rallied courageously and brought the score to 5 all, after which the set was prolonged for another eight games.

Grant Wins Easily.

Bryan Grant, seeded No. 1, made his first appearance of the tournament in a second round match yesterday, easily eliminating Ernest Neubaur of Chicago, 6-0, 6-1. In the third round he beat John Ewing, Chicago, 6-2, 6-2. Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Ia., advanced at the expense of Wilfrid Jones, Chicago, 6-1, 6-3.

Ed Davis of Peoria, seeded No. 13, was beaten by Norman Bickel of Chicago, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3, in the second round. All the other seeded players in the men's division won handily.

Miss Wolf Advances.

George Ball of Northwestern university, runner-up for the city championship, had a busy day. In the second round he beat Joe Smidl of Chicago, 6-2, 6-0, and in the third he put out John McElroy, another Chicagoan, 6-4, 6-1.

Catherine Wolf of Elkhart, Ind., began the defense of her women's championship by defeating Martha Mendins of Chicago, 6-3, 6-3. Nita Mieth of Berlin, third seeded foreign player, was beaten by Elizabeth Kesting of St. Paul, Minn., in a second round match, 6-2, 6-0.

Westland's 76 Leads Field in Hullabaloo

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Jack Westland of the home club, western amateur champion, and Chicago's only representative on this year's winning Walker cup team, led the parade at the half way mark last night in the thirteenth Hullabaloo of the Bob o'Link Golf club. Jack shot a 36 on the opening nine, but slipped to 40 coming home, for a gross of 76 going into today's final 18 holes.

A field of nearly 200 golfers competed in the Hullabaloo, one of the most popular invitational tournaments in Chicago.

Following Westland were John Manion, St. Louis professional, with 37—40—77; Douglas Casey, and John Henry of Bob o'Link, the former with 38—40—78 and the latter with 39—39—78; J. P. Bowes, of Exmoor, 38—41—79, and Art Sweet of Ridgemoor, 40—39—79.

Henry was the best of the net shooters, turning in a 78—8—70 to clip two strokes off par, while Bowes matched him with a 79—9—70.

The best low net foursome of the day included S. L. [Spider] Reinhardt, 85—7—78; A. H. Harrison, 83—5—78; A. L. Miller, 80—3—77, and Bowes, 79—9—70. Their gross aggregate was 327, which with a combined handicap of 24, gave them a net of 303. All competed for Exmoor.

POTPOURRI.

PRINCETON'S invitational track games Saturday, in which Glenn Cunningham of Kansas set a new world record for the mile o. 4:06.7, were staged primarily for the purpose of raising funds to defray expenses of a Princeton squad as part of an American college track and field team to visit England for a meet against Oxford-Cambridge. The idea of a gala sports feature at commencement time was secondary.

Attendance was large, the purpose, apparently, realized. Railroads offered excursion round trip rates to Princeton from New York of $1.50. Tickets were $1.10 and $1.65.

Cunningham and Bill Bonthron, also a middle westerner from the environs of Detroit, had met twice before in tight finishes, with honors even at a victory apiece. On his spring form this year, Cunningham generally was picked to win, but not by the wide margin of nearly 40 yards.

Defeat of Charley Hornbostel of Indiana, conference champion, by Ben Eastman, former Stanford middle distance runner, was disappointing. Eastman set his own pace, however, to win in new world record time of 1:49.8.

Cavalcade's great stretch rushes from the rear division to victories in his Kentucky, American, and Detroit Derby appearances remind old timers of Advance Guard, back in the early years of the century. Advance Guard, however, had not Cavalcade's brilliant 3 year old record, but attained his greatest fame as a handicap performer in his 4 and 5 year old form.

But Advance Guard had that same burst of late speed through the stretch which mowed down rivals. He won the Saratoga cup at 1¾ miles in 1902, was second to the light weighted Reina in the Brooklyn handicap, and captured other important stakes. Betters on his chances did not feel so secure as do those of Cavalcade, because the Sloane colt can keep within a striking distance behind a fast pace when necessary, while Advance Guard was a notoriously slow beginner.

With doubt governing chances of tho American Davis cup tennis team in the current competition, victory of Yankee women in the Wightman cup international is stimulating. Our representatives won the eighth contest in the series of twelve so far decided without the presence of Helen Wills Moody, giving added cause for gratification.

U. S. NET PLAYERS WIN MATCHES IN ENGLISH TOURNEY

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—United States entrants in the Queen's Club tennis tournament, annually played as a prelude to the meet at Wimbledon, paraded through the second round today before rain stopped play.

Additional scratches further depleted a field already robbed of much competitive interest by the withdrawal of Fred Perry, H. W. Austin and George Patrick Hughes of the defending English Davis cup team.

Lester Stoefen, Sidney B. Wood Jr., George M. Lott Jr., and Richard Norris [Dick] Williams, 42 year old captain of the American team, all appeared for the first time, having been given walkovers in the first round.

Stoefen defeated the young German Davis cup player, Hans Denker, 6-4, 6-4. Wood won from Weimer Cross, unranked Englishman, 6-2, 6-2, and Lott beat Clynton Reed, another Englishman, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3. Williams kept pace with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over W. Menzel. Frank Shields advanced when the Australian Davis cup player, Harry Hopman, scratched in the second round.

SEEK 24TH VICTORY.

The Great Western service softball team will be after its 24th triumph in 28 games this season against a team to be selected Sunday at Schubert playgrounds, Lockwood avenue and Parker street.

Davey Day Stops Kleko in 5 Rounds

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Davey Day, lightweight stable mate of Barney Ross, stopped Joey Kleko of Cicero, in the fifth round of a scheduled eight round windup at the Western-Devon stadium last night. A capacity crowd of 1,200 watched the bouts. Receipts were estimated at $735 by Promoter Sam Abruscato.

Day and Kleko are former Golden Glovers, although neither ever won a championship. Both were featherweights back in 1931 when Don Gonzales of Cleveland, swept through the greatest group of 126 pounders in the history of amateur boxing in Chicago to win intercity and international honors.

Kleko Gets Up.

Day started fast, punching accurately with both hands, and he dropped Kleko twice in the first round with solid right hand blows to the jaw. Each time Joey stayed on the floor for a count of nine. After the second knockdown he displayed remarkable spirit in staying until the bell. Kleko rallied in the second, third, and fourth rounds and outpointed Day.

With the start of the fifth, Day again swept in. He met Kleko's rushes and connected with a straight right. Joey went down, landing on the bottom ring rope. Completely dazed, he got to his feet and started for Day's corner. Before Davey could step in with a finishing punch, Referee Norm McGarrity waved him away and stopped the bout.

O'Hanion Wins.

The five round semi-windup also brought together two former Golden Gloves boxers, Jimmy Eliopoulos, who fought as the runner-up in the flyweight division against New York in 1931, and Oscar O'Hanion of Waukegan, who was a member of the International Golden Gloves squad in 1932. Both now are bantamweights.

O'Hanion was given the decision, although many in the crowd disagreed. O'Hanion did his best work in close. In the earlier rounds Jimmy bothered the Waukegan southpaw with his right hand leads to the body and head.

Promoter Tommy Brice yesterday signed Dario Mareno and Paul Lee, featherweights, in an eight round bout to replace the one between Henry Rothier and Sherald Kennard at Shewbridge field tomorrow. Kennard asked to be released because of illness.

Verne [Battling] Nelson, Nebraska welterweight, is due today for an eight round bout against Mickey O'Shea at Northwest stadium Friday. . . . Hayden [Young] Stuhley, Kewanee, Ill., middleweight, did loosening up exercises yesterday for his 10 round nontitle bout with Champion Vince Dundee next Tuesday at Mills stadium. . . . He is to begin sparring today.

Frank Sigilio, Cicero lightweight, his body glowing from the effects of a sunburn obtained during a vacation at Waukesha, Wis., yesterday opened workouts for a 10 round tussle with Pete Nebo of Key West, Fla., at Sparta stadium Wednesday. Sigilio displayed considerable pep and vigor, and although anxious to commence boxing, his trainer forbid him to don the big gloves until tomorrow.

Henry Rothier, Chicago welterweight, who has compiled a good record since turning professional, yesterday was signed to box Puggy Weinert in the eight round semi-windup at Mills stadium next week.

Teddy Yarosz, Pittsburgh, Pa., 160 pounder, has signed to appear in a 10 round contest on the card being sponsored by the Rest Haven Convalescent home at Wrigley field July 18. . . . Jules San Drako and George Tayler will meet in a five round bout tonight on the amateur program at Ashland arena, Ashland avenue and Addison street. . . . Tom Kenneally faces Johnny Logan in a heavyweight affray. . . . Frank Talaber and Stanley Smik will wrestle in one of the six contests. . . .

The program at Bacon's arena tomorrow has been arranged as follows: Eddie Ward and Puggy Weinert [8], 146; Hugh Allen and Harry Booker [6], 130; Tony Zale and Bobby Millsap [4], 158; Lou Vine and Willie Ross [4], 131; Harold Dunnington and Sailor Born [4], 137, and Lee Umbles and Mike London [wrestling].

GOLF PUPILS GET INSTRUCTIONS ON IRON CLUB PLAY

Men's Classes Draw Big Attendance.

More than 8,000 men, equipped with midirons, invaded the nineteen courses of the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association last night to start the third week of THE TRIBUNE'S free golf school. This was the school's first lesson on irons and all the pupils came prepared to pick up points on the intricacies of this important part of the golf game.

All professionals are stressing the importance of the midiron this week. Last night the main theme of the lesson was on hitting the ball on the down swing. The trouble with most golfers, the faculty pointed out, is that they ignore the mechanics of the golf club and try to lift the ball by their own efforts. This results in badly hit and topped balls.

Open Stance Used.

Northbrook's large class of men listened to a talk by George Jenkins on the importance of a straight left arm in hitting an iron. The pro told his students that the pitch of the club will make the ball rise without any effort being made by the golfer to raise it. Jenkins also dwelt on the position of the feet. An open stance, he said, with the feet not too far apart, will give the best results.

Al Megeff and his four assistants at Evergreen were kept busy by a large class. Megeff gave a lecture on the use of the midiron while his assistants followed with demonstrations. The class was broken up into smaller groups and industriously dug divots for nearly an hour.

Walsh Tells Anecdotes.

Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley punctuated his talk on iron play with many anecdotes about golf pros and their outstanding shots. "It is not enough to know how to use a club," Walsh said; "it is more important to know when to use it." He illustrated his point with a demonstration of two iron shots out of good and bad lies.

Another thing that Walsh brought out was the fact that all iron shots are hit the same way. That is, a midiron is hit no harder than a mashie. The difference in distance, according to Walsh, is due to the pitch of the clubs or the height of the ball's arc.

At Techny Fields Jock Anderson imported Joe Roseman of Pickwick as the speaker of the evening. Roseman, who has been connected with golf for many years, told the students about the old timers and how they hit irons. Jock followed with a talk on the importance of irons.

Large Class at Harlem.

Close to 850 golfers gathered at Harlem. Jack Yorgan and his assistants drilled the group on the importance of hitting through the ball, the follow through, and the pivot. Yorgan was very enthusiastic with the swings his class exhibited. He said the class looked more like a well drilled group of soldiers than a golf group. The swings have improved from week to week and Yorgan is well pleased with his students' progress. After the class was over a group of pupils presented the pro with a set of three pipes.

Dan Lynch reported a large crowd of newcomers at Golfmoor in last night's class. The talk before the lesson was on golf etiquet. Replacing divots and thinking of the fellow in the following foursome was Lynch's theme. Several pupils reported that they have managed to cut large chunks off their scores. One student asserted that he was a hundred shooter until he attended the golf school and now he breaks 90. Several others reported similar experiences.

PHILLIES WIN IN 12TH, 10-8; END P. DEAN'S STREAK

Camilli's Triple, Double by Davis Clinch Game.

St. Louis, Mo., June 19.—(AP)—Philadelphia finally solved Paul Dean's right handed pitches in the twelfth inning today and gave the youthful Cardinal star, appearing in a relief rôle, his first defeat of the season, 10 to 8. Paul Dean had won eight straight games prior to today's defeat.

Tex Carleton, starting Cardinal hurler, was a better batter than pitcher, and hit a home run with two mates on base in the second. He was benched in the sixth when the Phillies scored four times.

The Phillies won the game in the twelfth after six scoreless innings. Camilli tripled to score J. Moore, who had singled. Curt Davis then drove Camilli home with a double. Score:

REDS, 11; DODGERS, 7.

Cincinnati, O., June 19.—(AP)—Fewer than 400 fans turned out today to see the Reds take an 11 to 7 decision from the Brooklyn Dodgers and gain an even break in their four game series.

Johnny Babich, recruit from the Pacific coast, made his first start for the Dodgers. He lacked control and was pounded for seven runs before he finally was forced out in the fourth after a drive from Harlin Pool's bat struck his pitching hand. The Dodgers hammered Bennie Frey hard and were just one run short of a tie after Ralph Boyle's sixth inning homer, but Cincinnati got four more off Walter Beck in the seventh to clinch the game. Indians Split DoubleHeader with Senators

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Honors were even at Griffith stadium today as Washington and Cleveland split a double header. The Senators took the first game, 6 to 2, and Cleveland won the second, 3 to 0.

Johnny Stone and Heinie Manush slammed home runs in the first inning of the first contest. Oral Hildebrand pitched the route for the Indians. He yielded 14 hits.

Another homer came in the second game, First Baseman Trosky of Cleveland sending the ball over the right field fence.

Weaver started on the mound for Washington in the second contest, but ineffectiveness caused his removal in the seventh. Russell finished the game, holding the Indians hitless the rest of the way. Score:

sixth came at the start of the inning. McManus lifted a fly into short center. Jurges raced back to get it. Billy Herman did the same. Cuyler could have grabbed it without trouble, but Jurges yelled that he'd handle it. Jurges didn't catch it and because second base wasn't protected McManus made two bases. Gyselman ran for him and took third on Thompson's bunt. He scored on Berger's fly to Cuyler. Then Moore, after ignoring one wide pitch, swatted the next into the right field seats.

Stevie Caught at Plate.

Two hits gave the Cubs their lone run in the seventh and an error almost presented them with another. Babe Herman led off with a single to left and moved to second on Hartnett's tap in front of the plate which followed Cuyler's fly to left. Old Man Stephenson then did his stuff. He batted for Hurst and singled to left, sending the Babe to the plate. Then Jurges bounced to Gyselman, who tried to make the play at second instead of at first. The throw sailed into right field and Stephenson tore for the plate with what would have been the tying run. He was nailed on Thompson's throw to Spohrer.

Toots Estes vs. Dave Haddock.
Pete Holtz vs. Buck O'Neil.

Root Picked to Hurl Against Giants Today

The Cub pitching today in the opener against the Giants will be in care of Charley Root. The champions probably will start off with Fred Fitzsimmons on the mound.

Charley Grimm visited the Fair Monday evening. By mistake some unknown gentleman put his hand in Charley's pocket and extracted eight dollars.

Guy Bush pitched in batting practice yesterday and found that the torn rib tissue which had kept him idle since May 31 caused him no pain. The expectation is that he will be able to pitch the final against the Giants next Saturday.

Another synthetic double header has been arranged for next Sunday's attraction at Wrigley field. The Monday game will be moved up to provide the bargain. The Brooklyn Dodgers will be the visiting attraction.

MATA HARI BACK TO COMPETE IN ILLINOIS OAKS

Speedy Field of Fillies to Race Saturday.

Mata Hari, Dixiana stable's spectacular filly, arrived unexpectedly at Washington Park yesterday morning to fill her engagement in the Illinois Oaks on Saturday. She came here in the shipment that brought Bien Feit and Plight back from the scene of the Detroit Derby, run last Saturday.

Despite her bad beating at the hands of Cavalcade she arrived in fine condition. She may work a slow mile this morning and that will be about all the exercise she will need before the Oaks engagement.

Efforts were being made yesterday to get William Woodward's Fleam here from Belmont Park for the Oaks race. She scored an easy victory at Aqueduct on Monday. She is to be campaigned at Arlington Park starting next Monday and it is likely she will be sent on early in order to go after the Illinois Oaks.

Eight races made up yesterday's program and it was announced by Racing Secretary Will Shelley that there will be eight races daily from now until the close of the Washington Park season on Saturday.

Chicagoans are evidently convinced that the Illinois racing commission means business by its ruling abolishing free passes and badges. They stood in line at the offices of the Arlington Jocky club in the Foreman Bank building yesterday buying season badges which were offered at reduced prices. The clubhouse badges were selling at $33 and season grandstand badges at $16.50. This included the federal tax. Many orders by mail were also filled.

371 Species of Birds Checked in Chicagoland

BY BOB BECKER.

In a recent study of different kinds of birds which might be listed as appearing in the Chicago region, three well known ornithologists have compiled a total of 371 species and subspecies. Of this number 92 are marked with an asterisk, because they either are rare or there is doubt of their appearance here.

The Chicago Academy of Sciences in Lincoln park has just published this listing of "Birds of the Chicago Region." Edward R. Ford, Colin C. Sanborn, and C. Blair Coursen are the ornithologists who collaborated in this work. The objective of this comprehensive study was to answer the often repeated query as to how many and what birds are listed from the Chicago area. The authors have taken the area starting east of Chicago in Indiana [Berrien county] and running through Chicagoland westward and northward into Racine and Walworth counties in Wisconsin.

An Accurate List.

Chicago bird fans who want the latest and most accurate check list on birds in this area will find this Academy of Sciences publication a valuable addition to a library. Although it is a scientific publication, not for general sale or distribution, there are copies available at 50 cents each. These may be purchased from the academy.

The authors do not describe species and subspecies because the volume is not intended as a guide for the identification of birds in the field. However, the book does give facts which a well done work of this type should have. They include common and scientific names, whether or not a permanent resident, summer resident, winter visitor or migrant, and records on the bird's occurrence and migration.

Bird fans in the middle west will find that THE TRIBUNE's handbook on birds, "Birds and Birdhouses," and this list of birds in the Chicago region make a valuable pair of small handbooks to use in bird study in this territory.

Tribune Book Aids Fans.

THE TRIBUNE book helps the bird fan to identify many of the species the outdoor fan should know, and gives brief life histories of a number of our most valuable song birds. It also has dozens of tips on birdhouses and tells the home owner how to attract birds in the winter.

"Birds and Birdhouses" is a 96 page handbook having many illustrations. It is on sale at THE TRIBUNE Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the Tribune Tower. By mail the price is 32 cents. If purchased over the counter the book costs 25 cents.

MANUSH BOOSTS AVERAGE OVER IDLE GEHRINGER

Heinie Manush continued to pound the ball in yesterday's double header and increased his lead over the idle Charley Gehringer by seven points in the race for the big six American league batting lead. Manush connected five times in eight attempts, making his 98th hit of the season and hoisting his mark to .410. His teammate, Cecil Travis, lost five points, hitting only twice in seven tries. Joe Medwick missed out six times straight and lost ten points, but held fourth place safe from Sam Leslie, who registered a five point gain with three hits in five times up. The standing:

RULES OF CONTEST—Pick the nine players who you think will be in the starting lineup for the American league when the inter-league game is played in New York July 10. Then do the same for the National league. Send your selections, accompanied by a 300 word letter explaining the reasons for your choices, to the All Star Game Editor, Chicago Tribune. The winner will receive $250 in cash. Players must not be switched from their regular positions. The two major league baseball writers and the sports editor of The Tribune will decide the winner. Points considered will be accuracy of the selections, neatness and soundness of reasons. In case of a tie a duplicate award will be given. Entries close July 4.

MOTORCYCLES RACE FRIDAY AT LOGAN SQUARE

Flat track motorcycle racers will get a chance to cut down Mark Porter's lead in the sixth meet to be held Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at the Logan Square baseball park oval, Kedzie and Elston avenues.

The feature events will be two match races, the first between J. W. Ferguson of Toronto and Leo Melcher of Joliet and the other between Mark Porter and Delbert Morrison.

Lou Wilson of Los Angeles, will make an attempt on the track lap record of 18.02 seconds which was established the first night of racing at the Logan Square oval on June 6. Mark Kelly has come closest to this record, his time being 18.26 seconds.

DUTRA AND HAGEN TO PLAY TODAY AT SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Ind., June 19.—[Special.]—When Olin Dutra, new U. S. open champion, and Walter Hagen, start their barnstorming exhibition tour at the Chain-o-Lakes Country club here tomorrow, they will be gunning for a special $100 prize offered by the club.

Dutra and Hagen will play against John Watson, former Indiana open champion, and Kenny Morine, who went out after the second round of the United States open.

The $100 prize has been posted for the first man to break par 71 of the course, a feat which has been accomplished only six times in the last 12 years.

Cigar quality and real enjoyment start at 10c

Young men as well as veteran smokers have learned that quality in a cigar makes all the difference in the world. There are no half-way marks. You either get real enjoyment from a cigar or—keen disappointment.

The high reputation of El Producto rests on the solid foundation of quality. Quality in tobaccos! Quality in blending! Quality in workmanship! By the uncopyable El Producto blend the sparkle of choice Havana is given a mildness unmatched for its distinctive character.

But the real enjoyment of smoking El Producto doesn't stop there. Magnificent workmanship makes every El Producto burn evenly and hold its fire. Nothing stands in your way of getting the full luxury of El Producto quality. Many shapes and sizes, 10c to 25c.

RIDGEVIEW, THE WONDER HORSE, WINS 5TH IN ROW

Gallops Home in Chatham Handicap Stake.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Racegoers are beginning to wonder about this Illinois racing mare, Ridgeview, which sports the white and green jacket of J. D. Mikel. They are bewildered at her sudden brilliance and are asking one another how much longer she is going to keep it up.

The old girl stepped out in the Chatham purse at Washington Park yesterday. When it was over she was skipping along a length and a half in front of Dust Girl, and strung out in Indian file behind her were Sir Ten, Regardless, and Mount Hood.

Five Straight Victories.

This was Ridgeview's fifth straight victory in Chicago and her seventh in her eight starts. During the sequence of victories she moved up from the $2,000 plater class to the overnight handicap division and wins just as easily against this "silk stocking" company as she did against nondescript opposition.

She is named for some of the stake races at Arlington Park, and her career along the north shore will be followed with great interest. Right now, except for Cavalcade, she is the most sensational horse in the country. There isn't a horse racing as consistently as she has since she started her drive in Texas early last spring.

She Is 6 Years Old.

Ridgeview's four opponents in the Chatham purse, a dash at six furlongs, were all 3 year olds. Ridgeview is a 6 year old spinster. At times she has been a cripple and at other times she lost all interest in racing and refused to keep pace with very ordinary horses.

She is on her toes these days, however, and runs with such determination that everybody has concluded it will take a powerful horse to beat her.

Most of her recent triumphs have seen her come from behind in the stretch to win in the shadow of the finish line. She didn't wait that long in the Chatham. She let Regardless and Dust Girl make the pace going down the back stretch, but when the field wheeled into the turn Ridgeview's nose was in front.

The Old Girl Stays There.

"Jocky King has moved too quickly with her," the Ridgeview backers groaned.

But they were wrong. Ridgeview lengthened her advantage to two lengths. She kept right on running. Regardless dropped entirely out of it, and Sir Ten from the Calumet Farm stable made a challenge. He raced up into second place. He didn't stay there long, for Dust Girl too was running hard and squeezed him out of second place by a game rally near the finish.

Ridgeview ran the mile in 1:37. She was the second horse to run the eight furlongs that fast in Chicago this season. She finished so well in hand that it appeared she might have done the distance in 1:36 had there been necessity. Ridgeview was at odds on in the betting.

Chappels Score Twice.

The Chappel brothers of Rockford, whose horses have become famous for their slowness, had their red letter day yesterday. Two horses carried their black and gold silks to victory.

Deets Campfire, a daughter of Campfire, won the third race for the Chappel boys and paid $18.14 in the mutuels. Brilliant Dee, a daughter of Brilliant, captured the fourth, a battle among 2 year olds, and paid $13.40.

Both won handily and there must have been a big celebration out in Rockford last night.

LIGHTER SWINE SLUMP AS U. S. CEASES BUYING

Prices Sag 25 to 50 Cts.; Heavy Hogs Steady.

Heavy hogs yesterday retained the recent sharp gains despite the withdrawal of government support. However, the lighter weights, which have had the bulk of the Federal Surplus Relief corporation buying orders in recent weeks, underwent a sharp price revision when they had to be moved into the commercial trade channels.

Packing houses contend that converging of federal buying in the lights forced many of the plainer classes up to a relatively high position compared to the prices paid for the selected finished stock. These kinds were discounted from 25 to 50 cents, while the best classes of lights went down 10 to 25 cents. Members of the selling side believe these kinds are now about in line where they can be sold in competition with top classes on the wholesale pork trade.

Fresh Pork Rises Sharply.

Fresh pork has advanced sharply on reports of light supplies and prospects of continued light runs. Some cuts are selling at the highest prices of the season, showing a rise of 2 to 3 cents per pound in less than a week. Fresh pork loins were quoted yesterday at 12 to 15½ cents per pound, comparable to the kinds quoted at 10 to 12½ cents a week ago.

All leading distributing points and packing centers report a better call for fresh pork and considerably higher prices than those prevailing in recent weeks.

Selected 210 to 300 pound butcher hogs held the top price at $5 again yesterday, equaling the highest mark in the trade since last October.

The strength in the hog market yesterday was mostly in the 220 pound averages and heavier weight, the dividing line being around the 200 pound mark. Below this weight weakness was found, the lighter the hog the sharper the discount. Because of the decline in lights, the general average price for the day at $4.40 indicated 15 cents loss compared with Monday.

Cattle Receipts Small.

Yesterday's run of 11,000 cattle included 3,000 or more thin cattle from the drouth areas owned by the government and billed direct to the packers to be converted into corned and roasted canned beef for the needy.

The meager proportion of the receipts of steers selling at $9.50 and above held steady at the highest quotations of the season, while the poorest classes selling at $5.50 and under also were without price changes, but the rank and file of the crop of beef steers quoted from $6.50 to $9 sold on a weak to 25 cents lower basis and in spots at the close indicated more loss. The close was the low time of the day.

Prime 1,430 pound steers to Wilson at $10.25, equal to the highest mark in the trade since September, 1932, were feedlot mates to the $10,10 steers here last Wednesday.

Calves were pounded down fully 25 cents and in some instances were off 50 cents at the close.

Lambs weakened after a strong to 25 cents higher opening, and closed with all of the advance gone. Selected new crop native lambs to yards traders reached $9.35 to $9.50 on opening rounds, but the city butcher buyers later sorted top grades at $9.25 and below, while packers paid $9 and under, the same prices as these interests paid on Monday.

LARD FUTURE PRICES SAG AS TRADERS TAKE PROFIT

Profit taking yesterday by traders who bought lard futures at lower prices resulted in the market developing a reactionary tendency and closing at net losses of 2½ to 7½ cents. Packers and houses with eastern connections bought on the decline. Trade in bellies was dull and prices closed unchanged. A good trade was again reported in cash meats at steady prices.

Bellies were quoted at $9.50. Cash lard was 7½ cents lower at $6.67; loose, 5 cents lower at $6.20 and leaf was unchanged at $6.25. Prices:

Grain Traders Predict Rise, but Play Safe

The majority of traders in the grain pits are willing to assert their belief that prices must go up in the next few months. The fact remains, however, that not many traders are acting on their beliefs. In some cases the wish may be father to the thought.

The reason most generally advanced for the lethargy in the grain markets is the absence of the big time speculators who in other years furnished the leadership for big movements in prices. Higher margin requirements, government scrutiny of the grain trade and a vague feeling that the orthodox rules do not apply this year are discouraging speculators.

The chinch bug appears to have great contempt for government regulation. Even the creosote oil lines guarding corn fields do not always discourage him and reports from various points in Illinois indicate that rains are not holding him back.

The congressional approval of a $1,000,000 appropriation for the purchase of oil to fight the bugs seems to have stimulated them to greater activity. H. C. Donovan says that Illinois farmers are busy putting up creosote barriers but that they should have started two weeks ago.

On a farm a few miles south of La Salle, Ill., the chinch bugs have worked complete destruction on 80 acres of oats, 20 acres of wheat and 50 acres of corn, according to a message reaching Chicago yesterday. All the farmer has left is 70 acres of corn which has not yet been damaged but which appears to be in danger.

C. S. Yeh, a managing partner of the firm of Yuan, Yeh & Co., Shanghai, was elected a member of the board of trade yesterday at a meeting of directors. Other Chinese firms belong to the exchange but Mr. Yeh is the first individual of that race who has been admitted to membership. The firm engages in the securities and commodities business.

How a market place for the nation's foodstuffs operates is a mystery to a great many people, including some of the grain growers. It is just as strange to some persons who are familiar with stock market procedure. Such was the case yesterday when a group of 10 page boys from the New York Stock exchange visited the Board of Trade. The boys are completing a tour which is awarded each year to those making the best record in the exchange's educational institute.

GRAIN EXPORTS RISE SHARPLY FOR LAST WEEK

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Grain exports from the United States last week totaled 210,000 bushels, compared with 20,000 the previous week and 621,000 the corresponding week of last year. Commerce department figures today gave the following comparisons between last week's exports and those for the week before:

Wheat, 86,000 bushels, against 4,000; corn, 120,000, against 16,000; oats, 4,000, against none. No exports of barley or of rye were reported for either week. Canadian grain exported last week from United States ports totaled 295,000 bushels, against 293,000 the previous week, while exports of North American wheat flour were 20,000 barrels, against 22,000 barrels.

Pit Membership Value Rises $400 to $8,000

A membership on the Chicago Board of Trade sold yesterday for $8,000 an advance of $400 over the last sale price.

SILVER FUTURES

Trading in silver futures showed enlargement yesterday, with sales of 120 lots or 3,000,000 oz. Official announcement was made by the Commodity Exchange, Inc., trading in futures would not be affected by the signing of the silver bill by President Roosevelt. Closing trades were at net gains of .23 to .33 cent. Foreign bar silver was ¼c higher at 45⅛c. July closed at 45.35c; August, 45.40c; September, 45.60c, and December, 45.95c.

CHARLES D. MICHAELS, VETERAN GRAIN WRITER FOR TRIBUNE, RETIRES

After a career of more than half a century of news reporting at the Chicago Board of Trade, Charles D. Michaels, TRIBUNE grain market writer, is retiring on pension. He has rounded 52 years of service at the board of trade and in point of service is one of the oldest newspaper men in Chicago. He is 77 years old.

C. D. MICHAELS. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mr. Michaels began his career at the board of trade in 1881 with the old Chicago Courier. He later worked for the Inter-Ocean and the Herald, both now defunct. For the last 16 years he has covered the board of trade for for THE TRIBUNE.

Directors of the board of trade at their meeting yesterday adopted a resolution that a letter of appreciation be sent to Mr. Michaels.

"We wish to take this opportunity to compliment you on the remarkable energy you have put into your job for the last half century," the message said. "Your association with the board of trade compares with that of the oldest members on the exchange, and you have made a record of accomplishment that it will be difficult for any other newspaper man to duplicate.

"We hope that the new arrangement will preserve you in your work for a great many years to come and that the associations you have formed will be continued."

The letter was signed by all the officers and directors of the exchange.

Thomas Furlong, who has been writing on economic subjects for THE TRIBUNE for the last five years, will take over Mr. Michael's work at the board of trade.

GRAIN ACTION NERVOUS; PRICES LITTLE CHANGED

Mixed Reports on Crops Confuse Sentiment.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

With contradictory crop reports coming in, grain markets fluctuated nervously yesterday and closed without significant price changes. News of further chinch bug damage in Illinois and Iowa was mixed with reports of unexpectedly good wheat yields in Kansas and bullish news from Europe.

Aggressive buying of corn, which featured Monday's session, was absent. Closing corn quotations were unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel higher. Final wheat prices showed the same change.

Individual reports on crops from various sections of the country were not sufficient to induce a definite trend, nor even provide the trading market which the pits usually experience at this season of the year.

Yields Above Expectations.

Harvesting in south central Kansas and north central Oklahoma is producing larger yields than had been anticipated two weeks ago, it was reported. In Sedgwick county, Kansas, yields are running 35 to 40 bushels an acre in the northern part and 25 to 30 bushels in the central area. Although the harvest has been slowed up somewhat by the rains, wheat being harvested is high test and heavy, advices indicated.

Favorable news was received on the Iowa corn crop. Rains are bringing remarkable improvement in the crop. Oats have also improved some, but there will be little to go into commercial channels. A report to James E. Bennett & Co. said that, except for a few counties, the best the oats crop can do will make feed and seed for the farmers.

European Crop Lower.

Reports from Europe indicate a decrease of around 20 per cent in the European production. Broomhall, leading foreign authority, estimated the Russian crop yesterday at 880 million bushels, compared with the official estimate of 1,020 million bushels last year. These figures suggest a total crop for all Europe of 2,280 million bushels, compared with 2,824 million bushels in 1933 and the 1928-'32 average yield of 2,255 million bushels.

At the close of the trading period yesterday July wheat was quoted at 94¾ to 94⅞ cents; September at 95⅛ to 95¼ cents, and December was selling at 96⅜ to 96½ cents. July corn finished at 58¾ to 58⅞ cents, while September was quoted 60⅛ to 60⅜ cents, and December at 60⅜ cents.

The Winnipeg wheat market ended ⅛ to ¼ cent higher and Liverpool was ½ to ¾ cent above Monday's final prices.

MIDDLE WEST, CONSUMERS CO., SEEK NEW SETUP

Aid for Loop Realty Also Planned.

Agreement by the Middle West Utilities company to a reorganization asked two weeks ago by creditors under the amended bankruptcy act, and petitions for revamping the setup of another large concern and two loop real estate projects under the act, were filed in federal courts here yesterday. The revised bankruptcy law permits a reorganization with consent of two-thirds of a firm's creditors.

The Consumers company, wholesale and retail coal, ice, lumber, and bulid-ing materials concern, through its president, A. C. O'Laughlin, itself petitioned for the reorganization. Creditors filed the pleas against the Randolph Hotel company, operator of the building housing the Bismarck hotel, Palace theater and a large office building, and the A. H. L. Building corporation, owner of the Capitol building at State and Randolph streets. In still another action reorganization of the Riviera Building corporation, owner of the Riviera theater at 4752-60 Broadway, was asked.

Middle West Assents.

The answer of Middle West, filed before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, said the plan will be to the best interests of both creditors and stockholders. The statement denied there had been sufficient time to effect a reorganization and also denied any real differences between creditors and stockholders have not been reconciled.

No indication was given by either secured creditors or debenture holders of their intended action on the "surprise" reorganization petition of two weeks ago. At that time stockholders and creditor organizations denied knowledge of the bill before its filing. Robert N. Golding of Kirkland, Fleming, Green & Martin, attorney for the unsecured noteholders, said his group will have nothing to say until the secured creditors meet.

The plea of the Consumers company follows approval of the action by directors at a meeting Monday. It declares that on April 30, 1930, the company owed $846,528 and that its debts now exceed $3,500,000. It further states that current debts for the period from July 1 to Dec. 7 next, will amount to $1,887,073. Back taxes total $391,259 and demand notes aggregate $225,000. It asserts that during 1933 the company must meet obligations on funded debt amounting to $1,022,330.

Famed as Fair Highlight.

Liabilities of the concern owning the Capitol building—famed during the Columbian Exposition of 1893 as the Masonic Temple, then considered a huge skyscraper—do not exceed $5,000,000, according to the petition. Assets consist principally of real estate and building. Foreclosure proceedings, and a tax receivership instituted July 22, 1932, are still pending.

Debts of the Randolph Hotel company, covering the Eitel block, are listed at $7,250,000 which, the plea asserts, cannot be met. No statement of assets or liabilities was appended. Foreclosure and receivership proceedings are pending. A trustee was named Nov. 11, 1931.

Liabilities of the Riviera company are citied as $600,000 including back taxes totaling $85,000. Suit is now pending in state courts to determine the concern's assets.

Answers are returnable within ten days in cases where the petitions are filed by creditors.

Find Workers' Poll Blocked Steel Strike

The steel strike did not and will not materialize because the workers voted overwhelmingly against a walkout, according to the Iron Age. The journal tomorrow will publish the results of a special secret poll of steel workers held last week.

The secret strike vote was arranged entirely on the initiative of employés in a number of plants of the United States Steel corporation, according to the magazine. The purpose of the ballot was to give employés an opportunity to register their views of the strike question.

In only one instance, the magazine states, were more than 5 per cent of the workers in favor of declaring a strike. The vote was taken at the time of regular primary elections to name employé representatives.

Corroborate Steel Vote.

An official of the Illinois Steel company's south works here yesterday said he had learned that the mechanical department declared 96 per cent against striking.

Further corroboration of the magazine's findings was furnished by Wilfred Sykes, assistant to the president of the Inland Steel company. All but 799 of 9,096 employés cast ballots in company elections in spite of orders from the Amalgamated union not to vote. More than half of the non-voting was attributed to illness and absences owing to indifference.

The highest strike vote found by Iron Age was at the Farrell works of the Carnegie Steel company, where 7½ per cent voted to walk out. Favoring such a decision were 251, while 3,176 ballots were marked "no."

More than 7,000 of the 7,964 eligible employés at the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company cast ballots despite the fact that only 6,750 were working on the election days. Opposed to the proposed strike were 6,811 or 97.3 per cent.

Refuse to Support Spang.

William J. Spang, president of the "Dukane" lodge of the Amalgamated and a leader of the so-called "rank and file" committee, received only three votes of more than 4,300 cast at the Duquesne plant of the Carnegie Steel company. More than 86 per cent of eligible workers voted for employé representatives.

Iron Age found strong opposition to Amalgamated in that more than nine-tenths of the 100,000 men eligible in 25 plants where primaries were held cast ballots under the employé representation plan.

The strike poll is seen by the magazine as a precedent pointing to a means of accurate expression for labor. Heretofore, it points out, the public has been forced to rely upon "interested parties," such as employers or professional labor leaders, for information as to the attitude of labor in large industries.

COMMODITIES ADVANCE TO HIGH FOR YEAR AT 73.7

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—(AP)—Wholesale commodity prices advanced five-tenths of 1 per cent during May, the bureau of labor statistics announced today. The index rose to 73.7 per cent of the 1926 average of 100 compared with 73.3 for April.

The present index reverted to the level for March, 1934, the highest point reached since April, 1931, when the index stood at 74.8. The upward trend was well-scattered with 211 items, or 27 per cent of the total, showing advances. One-half, 390 in all, showed no change while declining prices were reported for 183, or 23 per cent.

Of ten major groups of commodities covered, six showed increases, three recorded decreases, and one, farm products, remained unchanged. The largest increase was recorded by metals and metal products groups with the average advancing by nearly 1½ per cent. Plumbing and heating materials and motor vehicles showed a downward tendency.

COMMONS GETS PLAN TO INFLATE CANADIAN MONEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., June 19.—Canada today moved to loosen the provisions of her bank note laws on gold coverage with a view to providing for greater elasticity in Canadian credit structure, and to enable banks to meet industrial demand which may accrue from improved economic conditions.

According to the terms of a bill presented the commons by the prime minister the maximum amount of dominion notes which may be issued in a twenty-five per cent gold coverage basis is to be increased from fifty to one hundred twenty millions dollars. The prime minister analyzed the Canadian bank note situation to announce that the bill actually provided for a maximum increase of all outstanding bank note issues of $52,871,000.

Bank note issues in excess of the one hundred twenty million dollar maximum are to be covered by gold to the extent of one hundred cents on the dollar, as was the case with issues in excess of the old fifty million dollar maximum under the twenty-five per cent gold coverage provision. The premier declared the change violated no tenet of sound finance.

UTILITY-PEABODY COAL CONTRACTS UP FOR HEARING

A public hearing on the application of the Commonwealth Edison, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and the Super Power Company of Illinois for approval of their new coal supply contracts with the Peabody Coal company has been set for tomorrow morning before the Illinois commerce commission.

The contracts are for a period of twenty-four years and involve expenditures of approximately $100,000,000, according to Harry R. Booth, assistant counsel for the commerce commission. The proceedings will take place to determine that the three utilities will not be paying more than the prevailing market price of coal.

Profit for 1933 Is Shown by Associated Telephone

The Associated Telephone and Telegraph company's report for the year ended Dec. 31, 1933, shows a consolidated net income of $3,371, compared with an adjustment net loss of $276,217 in 1932. The adjustment arose from changing the subsidiaries from controled to noncontroled. According to A. F. Adams, president, the low point of earnings was passed in 1933.

National Cash Register Again Pays Dividend

New York, June 19.—The National Cash Register company today resumed dividends after a lapse of nearly three years. The directors declared a dividend of 12½ cents a share, payable July 15 to stock of record June 30. The last previous dividend was 37½ cents a share declared on Oct. 15, 1931.

A statement by the directors said that the current declaration was warranted by earnings for the current six months and with a continuation of earnings in substantially the same amount "further payments of dividends in the same amount quarterly may be expected."

The American Surety company today declared a dividend of 50 cents, payable July 2. This is the first declaration since $1 was paid on Sept. 30, 1931.

American Smelting Cuts Arrears.

The American Smelting and Refining company declared a dividend of $4.50 a share on the first preferred stock, payable Sept. 1 on account of accumulations, which will amount to $2.50 a share after this payment.

The Amoskeag company declared a semi-annual dividend of 75 cents a share on the common, payable July 3, compared with 50 cents paid previously.

The Barcelona Traction, Light and Power company declared a dividend of 50 cents on the common stock, payable in Canadian funds on June 30. This is the first declaration since 50 cents was paid on March 14, 1931.

The Garlock Packing company declared an extra dividend of 10 cents a share and the regular quarterly dividend of 10 cents a share, payable July 2.

Company Resumes Payments.

The Joseph Dixon Crucible company declared a dividend of $1 a share, payable June 30. It is the first payment since Dec. 31, 1931, when $1 a share was paid.

The Universal Leaf Tobacco company declared an extra dividend of $1 a share and the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the common, payable Aug. 1.

The Hartford Gas company declared a quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on the common, payable June 30, compared with 50 cents paid previously.

The Wiss Oil corporation declared a dividend of 10 cents a share on the common, payable June 15, the first payment since July, 1930.

The Peaslee Gaulbert corporation declared a dividend of $1.75 a share on the 7 per cent preferred, payable July 2, on account of accumulations, which will amount to $3.50 a share after this payment.

The Connecticut Gas and Coke Securities company omitted the dividend on the common stock.

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE ACTION.

The Household Finance corporation yesterday announced a regular quarterly dividend of 87½ cents on the preference stock, eliminating the extra 17½ cents paid since April, 1933. The usual dividend of 75 cents was also declared on the class A and B common stocks. Both dividends are payable July 14 to stockholders of record June 30.

B. E. Henderson, president, said elimination of the extra dividend was partly to reëstablish the preference stock upon its proportionate parity with the common stock as fixed by the charter and partly in connection with the lowering of charges to customers. He said that preliminary reports of the company for the first half of 1934 indicate satisfactory earnings and conditions.

TAYLOR ASSERTS RAIL PROGRESS NEEDS BALLYHOO

The railroads need ballyhoo artists with the showmanship of a P. T. Barnum to explode the belief in the minds of a good part of the country that they are out of step with modern progress. This statement was made yesterday by Harry G. Taylor, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives, in a talk before the convention of railroad superintendents at the Hotel Sherman.

"The railroads have gone along quietly adapting themselves to changing conditions," Mr. Taylor asserted, "without resorting to ballyhoo in educating the public about their achievements. The result is that railroads are regarded as passing out of the transportation picture."

Instead of being barred in the parade of progress, Mr. Taylor continued, the railroads are leading it.

MOTOR STORAGE CODE AUTHORITIES RESIGN; ASSAIL NRA CONDUCT

Atlanta, Ga., June 19.—(AP)—The seven members comprising the code authority for the motor vehicle storage and parking trade have resigned and in a letter to President Roosevelt charged the recovery administration with "insincerity and vacillation."

Walter T. Candler of Atlanta, a member, announced the resignations in protest against the NRA order eliminating price fixing elements from the code. Members said this order would abolish present NRA hours and wages. The members in their letter said the code had been accepted with the understanding that "cut-throat competition" would be abolished. The code provided for higher wages and hour reduction.

The letter said the code authority had performed every duty prescribed, "but after six months of frustration, confusion, contradiction, and total inaction on the part of the recovery administration, the administration's order of May 26 attempts to wipe out with one stroke of the pen all that is of possible value in the code to the trade, retaining only its burden, the labor provisions, thus attempting to repeal half the code which made the other half possible. Such action, if legal, must abrogate the entire code and will, in fact if not in theory, abolish the other half as to hours and wages.

DOLLAR MAKES MODERATE GAIN ON FRANC, POUND

New York, June 19.—(AP)—Most foreign currencies slipped quietly lower against the dollar today. One or two of the gold currencies displayed a firm tone.

French francs declined 0.00¼ of a cent to 6.60⅝ cents. At the closing price for francs, the dollar was valued at a premium of 0.41 of a cent over par, compared with 0.37 of a cent yesterday, and 0.32 of a cent a month ago.

The pound sterling lost ¼ of a cent at $5.04¾. Dutch guilders and Swiss francs were slightly higher in New York. German marks were 0.02 of a cent lower at 38.15 cents. Canadian dollars receded ⅛ of a cent to 1½ cents premium over par.

Today's gold statement of the New York federal reserve bank showed imports of $1,384,900 from India. There were no exports and no change in the gold stocks held under earmark for foreign account. The price of gold in London advanced a halfpenny to 137 shillings 9½ pence a fine ounce [equivalent to $34.78]. Bars valued at about $2,897,850 were purchased.

EDISON PROFITS INCREASE; VOTE USUAL DIVIDEND

Net income for May and the first five months of 1934 of the Commonwealth Edison company exceeded the corresponding periods of 1933, directors announced yesterday in connection with the declaration of the company's regular quarterly dividend of $1 a share. The disbursement is payable Aug. 1 to stockholders of record July 14.

Gross revenues for May were $6,037,401, compared with $5,791,876 for the corresponding month of 1933. Net income after all charges amounted to $506,671, while in May, 1933, the net was $430,773. For the first five months gross reached $31,813,000 against $30,152,869 for the 1933 period. Net income for the 1934 period was $3,664,274 against $3,518,937 after allocation of year-end adjustments.

Increased gross revenues were largely offset by greater taxes, including the 3 per cent federal tax on sales to consumers, and larger payrolls.

Report Cuba Planning U.S. Debt Default

BY GUSTAVO RENO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, June 19.—After it has received the anticipated cabinet sanction, President Carlos Mendieta will tomorrow make public the report and recommendations of a commission appointed by the provisional government two months ago to investigate whether the indebtedness contracted by Cuba with the Chase National Bank of New York, under regime of ex-President Gerardo Machado, is constitutional.

THE TRIBUNE learned tonight from reliable sources that President Mendieta will, in behalf of the Cuban republic, repudiate the Chase indebtedness tomorrow. He will rule, THE TRIBUNE learned, that the country owes the bank nothing, inasmuch as the loans, which total $60,000,000, of which $40,000,000 were in public works bonds bearing 5½ per cent interest and maturing in 1945, were illegally contracted.

Action Unconstitutional.

The commission's voluminous report states that the loans operations between the Chase bank and the government are devoid of legal force, and are unconstitutional because Machado and the Chase officials willingly and for their mutual benefits, disregarded the constitutional precepts which compelled the Cuban congress to sanction the loans and authorize the executive to accept the Chase offer and sign the contracts.

The congress, the announcement will read tomorrow, instead violated the constitution by delegating to Machado its powers for sanctioning loans and regulating the conditions in which the republic's credits are pledged. The congress could not pass on to Machado the authority vested in it by the constitution, the report is expected to say, in support of the rule that the negotiations were unconstitutional.

There will be no appeal from the ruling, the spokesmen for the commission announced.

Chase Bank Asks Delay.

New York, June 19.—(AP)—The Chase National bank said in a statement tonight that it is requesting the Cuban government to withhold action on foreign debts until it can present a comprehensive statement of law. The bank said it was advised that there was no ground upon which the obligations could be lawfully repudiated.

According to the Chase bank, Cuban public works obligations now outstanding were as follows:

First: $40,000,000 of public works 5½ per cent sinking fund gold bonds, due in 1945, issued under an agreement dated Feb. 26, 1930. These bonds, according to the bank, are largely in the hands of the public.

Second: $20,000,000 deferred payment 5½ per cent public works certificates representing advances under a bank credit at the same time as the previous loans. This credit is owned to the extent of 48 1-3 per cent by the Chase National bank; 26 2-3 per cent by the National City bank, New York, and 25 per cent by the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, Chicago.

Northern Trust Maintains $18 Yearly Dividend Rate

Directors of the Northern Trust company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of $4.50 a share, payable July 2, 1934, to stockholders of record June 19, maintaining its $18 annual rate. It had been predicted in La Salle street the bank would maintain its regular rate. The board appointed William C. Weidert and William S. Turner assistant secretaries.

ROOSEVELT O. K. MAKES SILVER A MONEY BASE

Bill Signed, Rules on Tax Issued.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 19.—President Roosevelt tonight signed into law the bill which may eventually place at least a fourth of the nation's money on a silver basis.

To avoid playing into the hands of silver speculators anywhere in the world the President did not sign the bill until about 9:15 o'clock tonight. At that time silver exchanges throughout the entire world are closed. Sponsors of the silver legislation and members of the treasury staf witnessed the signing.

After the law had been signed Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. issued the first treasury regulations covering the 50 per cent tax which the law imposes on speculative silver profits. The regulation defined which transactions are subject to the tax.

Must Maintain Reserve.

Under the terms of the new law the treasury will be required to acquire and maintain a silver reserve one-fourth as large as its gold reserve. Paper money is to be issued against this silver on the basis of its cost price, thus making the silver pay for itself.

Purchases of silver in world markets by the treasury has already begun. Using money out of the government's huge 2 billion dollar stabilization fund, the treasury has bought large quantities of the white metal abroad and will now transfer it into the new silver reserve.

Purchases of domestic silver have been held up pending the signing of the bill by President Roosevelt. Under the terms of the new law the treasury is to buy all silver stocks in the United States, except silver mined after last Dec. 21, at 50 cents an ounce. The treasury will then levy a 50 per cent excess profits tax, estimated to yield 25 million dollars, on all profits which private individuals make by selling their silver to the government.

List Regulations.

The silver tax regulations provide substantially as follows:

1. The tax applies to transfers of interests in silver bullion if the price for which such interest is or is to be transferred exceeds the cost thereof and the allowed expenses.

2. Transfers coming within the scope of the tax include those in the United States and those wholly effected outside of the United States. This applies if either party to the transfer is a resident of the United States or either party is a citizen of the United States who has been resident here at any time during the three months immediately preceding the transfer, or the silver bullion or interest which is transferred is situated in the United States at the time the transfer is made or agreed to be made.

3. The tax applies to transfers made on or after May 15, 1934. Separate regulations govern transfers completed prior to 9 p. m., June 19, when the act was signed, and those completed after that time.

Continue Futures Market.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—Authorities of the Commodity Exchange, Inc., today confirmed reports that it would continue its silver futures market as long as there is any demand for the use of its facilities, and urged traders to make a careful study of the silver purchase act and of the treasury department's regulations.

Earlier in the day silver futures advanced briskly and shortly before the close the market was up 28 to 39 points above Monday's close, with July at 45.35 cents an ounce, up 28 points; August, 45.35 cents, up 28; September, 45.69 cents, up 39, and December, 45.92 cents, up 30. Heavier trading which developed during the day was considered by many observers to be the beginning of the end of this active market. Since the start of this market in 1931 the amount of silver which was turned over was equal to the world's floating supply.

SPECIALISTS ON NEW YORK CURB TO BE ASSESSED

New York, June 19.—(AP)—Members of the New York Curb exchange acting as specialists will be assessed a registration of $200 annually, effective Aug. 1, the exchange has announced. It was understood in Wall street that the fee, which is in addition to the regular membership dues, is the first assessment placed on a particular type of trader for the privilege of doing business.

Curb exchange officials declined to comment on the charge, but it was understood the governors established it with a view to equalizing the expenses of the specialist and the commission broker.

Funds Ready, but See Delay in Home Loans

BY AL CHASE.

Red tape and a general public misunderstanding of interest rates they will have to pay Uncle Sam for funds, are going to delay both the effectiveness of the new federal housing legislation and handicap the building and loan associations of Chicago in lending $2,000,000 cash they now have on hand awaiting borrowers. This statement was made yesterday by A. D. Theobald of Chicago, director of education and research for the American Savings, Building and Loan institute, affiliated with the United States Building and Loan league.

He pointed out that although local building and loan and federal savings and loan associations here have $2,000,000 to lend at once at 6 per cent [plus commission charges which would make the total rate 6 1-3 to 6½ per cent] the public is waiting to borrow from Uncle Sam under the impression it can get cash at 5 per cent interest. He added that they may have to pay the government as high as 8 or 9 per cent per annum.

Long Delay Expected.

Building and loan officials in Chicago believe it will be several months before the slow moving and ponderous governmental machinery actually begins to make local loans. Mr. Theobald, basing his estimate on the long time it took both the Home Loan bank and Home Owners' Loan corporation to function satisfactorily on a large scale, predicted it will be at least four months before any federal funds will be disbursed in Chicago by the federal housing administration.

Meanwhile thousands of prospective borrowers, intrigued by reports of cheap money from Uncle Sam and forgetting how red tape almost always slows up federal functioning, expect to get cash at once. According to Mr. Theobald, the net result will be another summer of building inaction.

"The total cost of a loan under the new housing legislation may mount as high as 8 per cent, certainly much higher than the talked of 5 per cent," he said. "There are two types of insured loans involved in the housing act. One is the modernizing loan patterned after the finance company instalment paper.

Add Service Charges.

"On this the government will guarantee the lender 20 per cent of the amount advanced. Hearings before the senate committee developed that a series of service charges would have to be added so that the borrower would pay substantially more than 5 per cent, possibly 9 per cent.

"The other type of loan is the long term, amortized home mortgage, insured for its full value, the premium to be paid by the borrower in addition to the interest rate of 5 per cent, and possibly 6 per cent in some places where economic conditions demand it. Sponsors of the plan in senate hearings admitted that the 1 per cent premium on the original face value of an amortized loan would mean 2 per cent averaged over the lifetime of the loan, making the real cost of the money 7 per cent and possibly 8 per cent.

"When the borrower has paid down the principal of his loan 75 per cent, for example, he still is paying a 1 per cent premium on the original amount, or a 4 per cent premium on the money he has the use of that year, making his mortgage cost 9 per cent at that stage."

BANKRUPTCY AID SOUGHT BY OLD ROOSEVELT FIRM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—The Consolidated Automatic Merchandising corporation which, when it was organized in 1928, listed President Roosevelt as one of its directors, has moved to make itself eligible for the benefits to be derived from the recently enacted bankruptcy act.

The concern, a Delaware corporation with offices here, has filed a petition in the United States District court asking for an extension of time in which to effect reorganizations or compositions under the terms of the act. The bill was signed a week ago by President Roosevelt.

The Consolidated company operates and owns automatic weighing machines and vending devices. It holds the majority of stock in the Central Vending corporation, which has also filed an extension petition. The consolidated balance sheet of Dec. 31, 1933, showed assets of $4,910,698 and the petition listed liabilities at more than $278,884.

Merchandise Bank-Trust Will Pay 2½% on Savings

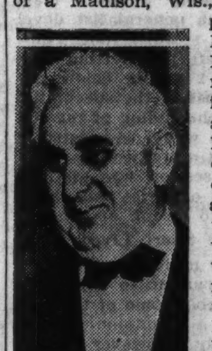
The Merchandise Bank and Trust company, located in the Merchandise Mart, will continue to pay 2½ per cent interest on savings deposits, it was announced yesterday by R. L. Redheffer, president of the bank. George B. Everitt, chairman of the board, stated that this rate would continue indefinitly, although it is believed other Chicago banks will reduce their rates from 2½ per cent to 2 per cent, beginning July 1.

CROWLEY TELLS BANKS TO SELL STOCKS TO RFC

Sees Capital Needed for Wisconsin.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Leo T. Crowley, one time president of a Madison, Wis., bank and now president of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation in Washington, yesterday appeared before his former associates in the Wisconsin Bankers' association in convention in Milwaukee and told them that they needed to sell more stock to the Reconstruction Finance corporation in order to qualify them for guaranty by his corporation.



LEO T. CROWLEY.

Most of the bankers in the audience were friends and acquaintances of Mr. Crowley who had known him well in the days when he was president of the State Bank of Wisconsin at Madison. The assets and liabilities of the State Bank of Wisconsin were assumed by the First National bank of Madison on Feb. 2, 1932. Mr. Crowley was also for a time a director of Wisconsin Bankshares corporation, a holding concern.

Asserts Banks Need Capital.

Former ties, however, did not prevent the head of the federal agency from telling Wisconsin that—collectively—their banks needed additional bolstering to make them good risks for the guaranty corporation and instructing them to sell more stock to the Reconstruction Finance corporation in order to raise the additional money.

Incidentally, Mr. Crowley at the same time disclosed that the real reason for the program of RFC purchases of bank stock was to increase the capital of banks in order to enable them to qualify for membership in the deposit guaranty corporation.

This had been surmised by the majority of qualified observers for many months but had never been publicly acknowledged by a government official. Officials of the RFC and the FDIC had always insisted that the RFC bank stock buying program was merely intended to expand bank credit for business by making it easy for banks to lend more freely.

Credit Made Tighter.

Instead of making credit easier, however, Mr. Crowley indicated in his Milwaukee address that the government's various bank examiners had actually been making credit tighter by ruthlessly writing down bank assets and demanding a high degree of liquidity.

Such examinations in Wisconsin recently have caused the bank examiners to write down the book capital of 630 banks in the state from 89 million dollars to 50 million dollars.

"By Dec. 31, 1933," Mr. Crowley told the Wisconsin Bankers association, "the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, under the program, had to determine the solvency of the state banks which asked to be admitted to the insurance fund.

"Here in Wisconsin your banking commissioners and the members of your board of review worked night and day and week after week to get the hanks into a position where they might obtain this deposit insurance. In practically every instance in Wisconsin this position could not be attained, due to the lack of capital, until the RFC had come to the assistance of the banks.

Need Capital to Join Fund.

"Therefore, it was not until the RFC had given the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation a blanket commitment that it would buy either preferred stock or capital debentures in nearly every Wisconsin bank in an amount determined by the FDIC that your institutions were eligible for membership in the fund.

"So, let us understand each other. Your commitment with the RFC was a part of your agreement with the FDIC that when you were taken into

STOCKS LOWER; CONGRESS' END FAILS TO HELP

Early Gains Are Canceled —Volume Shrinks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—Having fully discounted the supposedly good news, the stock market found no reason to celebrate the adjournment of congress today. Activity declined and the turnover was far short of a million shares, while prices underwent a horizontal decline.

After three hours of slipping prices, however, underlying support made itself felt and the general list developed a somewhat steadier tone. Closing quotations left prices from fractions to around 2 points below previous finals. Hopes of the speculative community that the ending of the congressional session would be greeted by a burst of market activity were dampened before the session was an hour old. Anticipation of a rise was sharpened by a firm to strong opening.

Early Rise Short Lived.

In the first few minutes values of a few issues were run up to new highs for the year, notably some of the metals and sugar. A reactionary trend developed quickly, however, and values continued to slip until well into the afternoon.

Notwithstanding the absence of speculative zeal the tone was fairly steady and the feeling was that once the administration takes over the recovery job where the legislators left off "something may be done" for prices. The sentiment prevails that the market will do well enough under its own steam if left alone.

More than average pressure was noted in aviation securities. Offerings dribbled steadily into United Aircraft, causing the stock a loss of more than a point on the day. Selling here was attributed to reports that the company was due for a second quarter loss, its first since its founding six years ago. The report was a factor in heaviness in other aviation equities.

Leaders Yield to Selling.

American Can, Chrysler, Du Pont, General Motors, United States Steel, and other industrial shares of that caliber yielded to pressure without much resistance, the bulk of them recording recessions on the day of more than a point. Steels were heavy.

Last minute passage of the railroad labor bill did the carrier stocks no good, losses running to a point were seen in the group.

Utilities continued to show more spunk than the rest of the list. While such leaders as Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, Columbia Gas, and Public Service of New Jersey relinquished their early gains, the group as a whole showed creditable resistance to liquidation and finished around yesterday's closing levels.

The sugars were another group to move counter to the trend, American Sugar Refining advancing about a point to a new high for the year.

Losses of 1 to 2 points at the worst were taken in silvers, chemicals, [excepting Allied and Air Reduction], and motors. Fractional declines were numerous in food, tobacco, oil, gold, and copper divisions.

As was the case yesterday, most of the gains of consequence were found among preferred shares, where the markets were thin and sensitive.

COTTON RISES $1 A BALE ON REPORT OF U. S. BUYING

A message from Senator Smith, notifying the New York Cotton exchange that the passage of the deficiency appropriation bill by congress assured the purchase of about 1,000,000 bales of cotton to be converted into textiles for relief purposes started a buying movement in cotton futures. Chicago gained 23 to 25 points and other markets 20 to 24 poitns per pound, equal to over $1 per bale.

Continued rains in the eastern cotton belt and dry and hot weather in the west was also a factor. The crop situation is likened to that in 1931 when the yield was 7,345,000 bales from 31,678,000 acres. The latter is about 10,000,000 acres in excess of this year's total.

Spot cotton advanced .20 cents, equal to $1 per bale with New York at 12.25 cents! New Orleans and Houston, 12.30 cents and Galveston, 12.25 cents per pound. Prices:

20 government issues	110.44	110.64	112.95	97.92

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—Bonds moved in a narrow range in more active trading on the New York Stock exchange today. The day's turnover totaled $11,332,000 against $9,064,000 yesterday. Most of the activity was concentrated on the investment issues. On the day as a whole, THE TRIBUNE'S combined average lost only 6 cents.

Activity was also substantially improved in the United States Government group, but this gain came largely in the Home Owners' Loan issues. The best of the list was quiet and irregular, closing from 1-32 higher to 7-32 lower. The maximum loss occurred in treasury 4¼s of 1947-'52. The Home Owners' Loan issues were slightly lower. Trading in the government group amounted to $2,279,500 against $1,515,700 on Monday.

Corporation List Irregular.

The domestic corporation list was irregular, with rails and public utilities lower on the average and industrials higher. Among the rails, Atchison general 4s, Erie refunding 5s, New York Central convertible 6s, and Nickel Plate refunding 4½s were lower, while St. Paul adjustment 5s, Northern Pacific prior lien 4s, Texas and Pacific 5s, and Union Pacific refunding 4s were higher.

Among the public utilities, American Water Works 5s, International Telephone issues and Postal Telegraph 5s were lower, while Interborough refunding 5s were higher. In the industrial group, Armour 5½s were lower, and National Dairy Products 5¼ were higher.

New High for Year.

New tops for the year were recorded by some bonds of California Packing, Cleveland Union Terminal, Consolidated Gas, Ontario Power, Shell Pipe Line, Phillips Petroleum, and Revere Copper and Brass. Other firm spots included some issues of American Telephone, Colorado and Southern, Columbia Gas, and Laclede Gas. Among moderate losers were loans of Standard Oils of New York and New Jersey.

In the foreign section German government international 5½s and 7s lost 1 and 2⅞ points respectively, and other reich obligations were off 1 to 3 or more. The Argentines were firm, as were loans of France, Japan, and Great Britain. Some of the Cubans were heavy.

Interstate Power 5s.

Investors' Guide: I would like information on Interstate Power company first 5s, due 1957.—Mrs. H. M. I.

Answer: Interstate Power company is a Utilities Power and Light subsidiary, furnishing utility services either directly or through subsidiaries to about 331 communities in Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Nebraska, Illinois, and Oklahoma. About 85 per cent of revenues is from sale of electricity and about 10 per cent comes from gas sales.

Since the bulk of the territory served is agricultural, output is ordinarily affected by agricultural conditions. To a smaller extent conditions in the petroleum industry also have a bearing on operations.

Gross revenues, after having hit a peak of $6,467,000 in 1930, have followed a downward trend. They totaled $5,438,000 in 1933. Coverage for fixed charges have followed the same trend, but the contraction has been more marked.

The company earned its fixed charges 1.15 times in 1933, against an average of 1.40 times for the eight years through 1933. They were covered 1.21 times in 1932, 1.44 times in 1931, and 1.53 times in 1930.

Current position, with current assets of $1,362,000 and current liabilities of $646,000, was good at the close of 1933. Funded debt stood at $36,275,000, the same as the year before.

The $28,775,000 first 5s, due 1957, are secured by a first mortgage on all assets of the company. They are senior in lien to $7,500,000 6 per cent debentures, due 1952. There is no other funded debt.

The 5s, due 1957, are somewhat speculative. The debentures, due 1952, are more a speculation than an investment.

Standard Life Insurance.

Investors' Guide: I have a policy in Standard Life Insurance company, whose home office was in Atlanta, Ga. Would you be kind enough to inform me what happened to the company?—H. J.

Answer: Standard Life Insurance company, Atlanta, was reinsured in Southern Insurance company, Nashville, Tenn., on Jan. 15, 1925. The business was subsequently reinsured in Standard Life Insurance company, Eureka Springs, Ark., on Dec. 28, 1925, and later in National Benefit Life Insurance company, Washington, D. C.

National Benefit Life was placed in permanent receivership on Sept. 24, 1931. A report submitted on that date indicated an impairment of $3,078,000.

CHARGE NEW DEAL RETARDS VOLUME OF ADVERTISING

Attorney Assails Pure Food Act as Menace.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 19.—Elisha Hanson, counsel to the American Newspaper Publishers' association, warned the Advertising Federation of America at its 13th annual convention today that legislation and codes have had a restrictive effect on advertising. Other speakers who discussed advertising difficulties under the New Deal reported business improvement and in one instance predicted that a period of unprecedented prosperity was approaching.

After referring to the restriction on advertising through legislation and codes, Mr. Hanson asserted:

"If you don't believe that statement, take a look at your financial pages of the last year, the securities act nearly finished them. And as for codes, more than 100—the most important insofar as volume of sales is concerned—contain various restrictions on advertising.

Assails Pure Food Act.

Mr. Hanson declared that the department of agriculture in the last year had "made the greatest drive against advertising of any agency in the history of the government" in seeking an amendment of the federal pure food act which he believed would not be enacted in its original form.

Dr. Claudius T. Murchison, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, told the federation the efforts of the administration to promote foreign trade seem to prove conclusively that "we have not yet succumbed to the vicious doctrine of nationalism."

The former North Carolina university professor said there is good reason to believe the flow of international trade will gather increasing impetus now that our government, along with many others, is at least free to bargain openly in the spirit of mutual advantage.

Alfred T. Falk, director of the bureau of research and education of the Advertising Federation of America, held that "all forms of monopoly, production control, price fixing, and other restraints on free competition are a direct blow at advertising," adding:

Economic Planning Menace.

"This is why the particular type of governmental restraint euphemistically called 'economic planning' is a grave menace to the usefulness of advertising. It has been made easier to raise prices and harder to increase volume. This is a serious blow to advertising."

Josephine Snapp of Chicago was elected chairman of the council on women's advertising clubs and automatically becomes a vice president of the Advertising Federation of America.

MUNICIPAL BOND NOTES

Some of the small communities in various parts of the country which in boom times incurred heavy bonded indebtedness and later were forced to default, are beginning to show signs of financial recovery, according to Thomas H. Reed, director of the municipal consultant service of the National Municipal league, New York.

As an example, Dr. Reed pointed to the experience of Winter Park, Fla., which he said was typical of many other communities. He said that a survey of conditions there discloses that the affairs of the city are being administered as economically as possible and that the burden of taxation carried by the community is already extensive and cannot be safely increased.

However, the cost of operation has been reduced by the city from $139,969 for 1927-'28 to $50,568 for 1932-'33. This has been accomplished by the mayor and commissioners serving without pay and by officials acting in several posts. The decline in tax collections has been halted, which, with continued operating economies, he says will enable the city to set aside substantial amounts for the liquidation of its debts.

A syndicate headed by the First of Boston corporation, and including Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc.; F. S. Moseley & Co., and Kidder, Peabody & Co., yesterday purchased $2,000,000 City of Boston tax anticipation notes, due Oct. 10, 1934, at 1.18 per cent plus a premium of $11.75. The notes, priced to yield ⅞ of 1 per cent, have all been sold.

An issue of $200,000 4 per cent bonds of Saginaw [Mich.], offered for award yesterday, was purchased by the city's sinking fund at par.

State of Illinois 4 per cent highway bonds were quoted yesterday at prices to yield 3.15 per cent, compared with 3.20 per cent ruling recently. Most of these bonds have been sold to insurance companies and other large institutions.

DEBATE PAYING WEST PARK BOND INTEREST JULY 1

A proposal of the west park commissioners to pay $47,870 in interest on their refunding bonds due July 1 was halted yesterday when the Chicago park district board questioned the right of west parks to use earmarked funds for the payment and demanded a decision from legal advisers before approving the move.

Thomas Marshall, attorney for holders of the refunding bonds, demanded that interest be paid when due. Harry Josephs, president of the west park district, pointed out that the district has $572,000 on hand for payment of interest. Robert J. Dunham, president of the district board, argued this money was collected to pay old bond principal and interest, and he declined to approve payment from this fund, claiming that old bondholders might have a prior right to the money.

Action on the proposal was withheld until an opionion of attorneys is procured.

CROWLEY TELLS BANKS TO SELL STOCKS TO RFC

Sees More Capital Needed for Wisconsin.

the fund you would make your institution solvent. You would rebuild your capital structure; you would place your institution in such a position that the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation would certify it as an institution which, under the laws of the United States, was eligible for membership in the fund.

"Now what does it mean to the corporation to make such a certification for banks in Wisconsin? On March 31 of this year the book capital of 630 banks in this state amounted to 89 million dollars. The total deposits in those banks amounted to 540 million dollars.

Calls Situation Unhealthy.

"Upon the basis of examinations which have recently been made, it appears that the net sound capital in those 630 banks is about 50 million dollars. In other words, the total net sound capital investment in the banks in Wisconsin amounts to less than 10 per cent of the total deposit liability in those institutions. This is an unhealthy situation and must be corrected."

Raising of the maximum of the deposit guaranty from $2,500 to $5,000, Mr. Crowley said, had meant that the FDIC's liability in Wisconsin had been "materially increased."

"Gentlemen," he continued, "I believe this tremendous liability of the corporation here in Wisconsin gives it a distinct right to have some voice in the building of a sound capital structure and in the efficient operation of your institutions.

"It is the hope of the corporation that with your coöperation we will be able to rebuild the capital structure of the banks of this nation and state on a ten to one basis."

"Ten to One" Explained.

A "ten to one basis" would mean providing every bank with at least one dollar of sound unimpaired capital for every ten dollars of deposits.

Mr. Crowley charged that dividends had been paid by Wisconsin banks in years past "which would never have been available had losses been taken into consideration."

Mr. Crowley exhorted the bankers to "be most thankful" for government handouts in Wisconsin which already total close to 200 million dollars.

"I believe that after a fair analysis of this tremendous aid," he said, "we should be most thankful for the coöperation we have had from the federal government and it seems to me that we are distinctly ungrateful if we say to the government now: 'Get out, you are interfering and we don't want you.' Certainly the state and federal governments have a responsibility at this time which cannot be sidetracked by the old argument of interference with business."

Divide up 200 Millions.

The 200 millions of federal aid in Wisconsin he accounted for as follows: RFC authorizations, including bank stock purchases, 55 millions; Farm Credit administration, 27 millions; Home Owners' Loan corporation, 21 millions; Civil Works administration, 35 millions; Public Works administration, 15 millions; federal highway expenditures, 10 millions; Federal Emergency Relief administration, exclusive of drouth relief, 30 millions; specific allotments for drouth relief, $4,400,000.

"That means," said Mr. Crowley, "the government has brought nearly $66 into this state for every man, woman and child."

The speaker said that he did not know of a "single insolvent bank which is operating in Wisconsin—taking RFC aid into consideration."

Puelicher Defends Bankers.

The prejudice which held bankers responsible for the depression and its consequences is passing only gradually, J. H. Puelicher, president of the Marshall & Ilsley bank, Milwaukee, told the convention.

It was a prejudice built on loose talk and political denunciations, made the banker the scapegoat for world economic conditions and did more to break down the financial structure than any inherent fault either in the banker or the banking system, Mr. Puelicher said.

"Before a depositor lost a dollar, the banker lost everything," the veteran Milwaukee banker declared. The great threat to American democracy, he explained, is the absence of adult education and adult thinking."

D. J. Needham of New York City, general counsel for the American Bankers association, who also addressed the convention, said there were too many laws affecting banking. The great mass of laws relating to banking which have been made by congress and state legislatures in the last ten years, he said, has resulted in confusion, complexity and uncertainty in the normal operations of every banking institution.

LONG TERM LOOP LEASE REVAMPED; RENTAL LOWERED

Walgreen Adds New Unit to Drug Chain.

Details of the revision of a long term lease on the Stewart building property, at the northwest corner of State and Washington streets, were disclosed yesterday at the county recorder's office. The original 102 year lease, dated May 1, 1893, was made between George M. Pullman, founder of the Pullman company, owner of the fee, and Herman H. Kohlsaat, editor and restaurateur. It called for a rental of $47,350 annually for the first three years, $57,500 annually for the next five years, $65,000 for the next five, and $75,000 for the remainder of the term.

Since 1893 there have been several assignments of the leasehold and new fee owners. At present the corner is owned by the Northern Trust company and the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company as trustees, and others. The present lessees, Charles B., Christian N., and Charles C. Shedd, executors of the estate of Edward A. Shedd, yesterday assigned the leasehold estate to the newly formed One Hundred and Eight North State corporation, which they own.

Rental Lowered $105,244.

Modification of the lease, according to the records, is retroactive to May 1, 1933. For two years from that date the rental has been reduced from $75,000 to $50,000 annually. For the next three years the annual ground rent will be $56,252. For the balance of the term the rent will be the same as in the original 102 year lease—$75,000 annually. The total reduction in payments for five years is $105,244.

The property, fronting ninety-one feet on State street and ninety feet on Washington street, is improved with a fireproof twelve story store, shop, and office building erected about forty years ago. John H. Cummings of Butler, Pope, Ballard & Elting was attorney for the lessees. Stewart J. Templeton of Wilson & McIlvaine represented the lessors.

Walgreen Adds New Unit.

The Walgreen company purchased the drug store in the Sheridan Trust and Savings bank building, at the southeast corner of Broadway and Lawrence avenue, from Walter Cappels. It also negotiated a new lease for five years for the premises from May 1, 1934, from Gordon Strong, receiver, which lease was consented to by the New York Life Insurance company, which recently took over the property. Mark Levy & Brother represented both parties in the purchase of the store.

Earl W. Shick & Co. report closing two cash sales. They sold the two apartment building at 7035 Kimbark avenue for the Concordia Building and Loan association to George Kahle, and the two flat at 453 North Hamlin avenue for Norman Schurkie to Teofila Bernarowicz.

"I USED TO THINK SELLING WAS THE TOUGHEST JOB IN THE WORLD"

"TODAY I'M MAKING MORE MONEY AS A SALESMAN THAN I EVER DID COOKING RIVETS"

"I used to be a steel monkey,—you know, structural steel worker. When the panic came along I took it on the chin. After a year and a half there weren't any more big buildings going up and no more bridges anywhere. Pretty soon you couldn't get a job hanging a five foot beam for a garage door! I had a little money in the bank and we drifted along for a time. Then the banks folded, and we had nothing left. Kate used to cry every evening. She was scared plenty and so was I. One day I met an old buddy. He used to catch my hot rivets on the tall jobs He looked prosperous and had a car. I asked him how he did it. He said he was selling. I laughed and told him it was no time to start kidding. He said, Yeah, that's what I used to think until I found out for myself how easy it is to sell when the right outfit shows you how! They showed me how. I'm in the dough again!"

Have the opportunities in your old line evaporated? Are you getting tired of waiting for them to come back? Then don't pass up the opportunities which the field of selling holds out to you.

Don't let ill-founded notions prevent you from making a living—and a good one—until your own line comes back! Invest a little of that spare time in finding out about selling and just what there is in it—for you.

Turn to the want ad section of the Chicago Tribune and see for yourself the concerns that are calling out loud, right now, for new salesmen and sales representatives. Make up a list of the offers which interest you—and then investigate them personally. Turn to the Salesmen, Solicitors, etc., column—now!

The Tribune does not knowingly accept Help Wanted advertisments which misrepresent the nature or terms of employment, or advertisments for Sales Help which do not indicate the type of product or service to be sold and the form of compensation.

When Did You Graduate?

Possibly a year ago—maybe two years. Perhaps you have found the field in which you are at present best adapted does not offer opportunities for a larger income or steady employment. The Beauty profession offers untold possibilities. Well trained beauticians are in great demand everywhere. Marinello graduates rapidly step into these better positions, replacing less capable and mistrained operators. Thousands of better beauty shops throughout the country demand their personnel to be 100% Marinello graduates.

VISIT OUR SCHOOL.

Marinello training means thorough training in every branch of the profession, including the uses of all electrical appliances, salesmanship and shop management. Marinello covers every phase of beauty culture and the proficiency of their graduates is known and recognized by higher class beauty shops everywhere.

NOW!—Marinello Offers New Easy Payment Plan

Free employment service—or we will help you establish your own business. Complete set of instruments, textbooks and all cosmetics furnished without charge to all students enrolling for day and evening classes now forming. Mail the coupon for full information and FREE illustrated Booklet T, including set of eight photographs showing various Marinello classes at work.

QUALITY

Far Beyond the Small Cost of Learning Beauty Culture is the quality of training at Moler's

This is due to the improved methods that are exclusively Moler's.

A short, concise PRIVATE LESSON COURSE as revolutionary as was the original idea of Moler in 1893 that reduced a three year apprenticeship to a three month college course.

HALF RATE OFFER on regular course for a limited time only.

BURNHAM
School of Beauty Culture

OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES FOUND ONLY AT BURNHAM'S.

FOR 63 YEARS THE WORLD'S LARGEST BEAUTY SCHOOL.

When you visit Burnham's you'll understand why more girls enroll in this school than in any other and you'll be amazed at the unexpected and exclusive advantages which our 63 year record of turning out the best operators enables us to pass on to you—such as positions on ocean liners, positions with the best shops which DEMAND Burnham graduates, the opportunity of earning while learning, free tools, unlimited practice on living models, easy terms, and many other advantages.

Once explained you'll see how Burnham teaching methods will enable you to master Beauty Culture quicker, easier and better—why these methods develop the type of operator shop owners want.

Tuition increases this month. If you ACT NOW you can arrange to pay for most of your tuition after you graduate. Call, phone, or write for FREE BEAUTY BOOK.

BORROW Where You Get a BETTER DEAL
We have 17 branch offices in the Chicago district and do the largest business because:
1. We make loans of $30 to $300 at reasonable cost.
2. We do not question your employer, your neighbors, your relatives, or your tradespeople.
3. All of our offices are equipped to handle your business in a private room
4. We give free, authentic information on managing family incomes.

Household reduced rates last July. All loans above $100 at less than the lawful maximum rate.
